CABLE ANCHORAGE. This is one of the cable anchorages on the East Liverpool side of the Chester Bridge which has been inspected as part of an in-depth check of the span. Corrosion of cables discovered by engineers has brought a 5,000-pound load limit for the bridge starting Wednesday.

Cable Corrosion Found

Trucks, Busses Prohibited From Using Chester Span

Discovery of corrosion on cables of the Chester Bridge has brought restriction of all truck and bus traffic across the span, Ohio Highway Department officials announced today.

Only automobiles will be permitted to cross the bridge for an indefinite period, starting Wednesday morning, officials announced.

The limit has been set at 5,000 pounds gross weight, Division 11 headquarters at New Philadelphia said this morning.

The official detour, yet to be marked, will be Route 7 to the Ft. Steuben Bridge at Steubenville.

However, alternate trans-river routes could include the Newell Bridge and the Shippingport Bridge at Midland.

ENGINEERS OF the Modjeski & Masters firm of Harrisburg, Pa., advised the highway department Monday of the corrosion in a set of cables in the anchorage on the Ohio side of the bridge which was erected in 1897.

P. E. Masheter, Ohio Highway Director ordered the traffic restriction after receiving the telegram from the engineering firm which had been retained at a cost of $40,000 to provide an in-depth inspection of the Chester Bridge, Ft. Steuben Bridge and Pomeroy Bridge.

Masheter said the restriction will be in effect until the department has had an opportunity to determine the proper repairs. "The repairs will be given top priority in the department's programs."

Officials said the inspection of the Pomeroy Bridge indicated it was safe. The inspection of the Ft. Steuben Bridge is near completion, they added.

THE TELEGRAM from the engineers to the Columbus office of the department read, "Corrosion of the cables observed and analyzed makes it necessary for us to recommend restriction of traffic on the East Liverpool-Chester Bridge."

The span has been under a 15-ton limit since last month when the inspection was first begun and while various repair work was undertaken by a contractor. It was completely closed to traffic last Wednesday while a girder in the structure, damaged in a truck mishap last year, was replaced.

Modjeski & Masters was directed to inspect the span after the Dec. 15 collapse of the West Virginia - owned Point Pleasant Bridge in which more than 40 lost their lives.

Officials at New Philadelphia said the bridge will be marked with signs warning of the 5,000 ton limit. They said a bridge superviser is on duty but that no plans are being made to have a 24-hour watch.

West Virginia and Pennsylvania authorities were to be advised of the load restriction, a spokesman said.

Asked what would be the nature of the repairs to the bridge, the spokesman replied that would depend upon the recommendations of the Harrisburg firm.

Masheter said the Chester Bridge has been inspected a number of times in the past several years, and was due for a routine inspection later this year, prior to the decision to have an in-depth check made of its condition.

Truck limitations are in effect on the Newell span, a privately owned bridge. A 10 - ton limit is placed on the bridge, meaning heavy trucks would not be permitted to cross the structure which was built in 1904.

Glenn Hall, manager of the Newell Bridge Co., said the height limit is 13 feet 6 inches.

Drivers crossing the span are requested to keep one car length apart "just as a precaution and mostly for a feeling of security for the motorists," Hall said.

He said the bridge, which is inspected annually by Modjeski & Masters, is in "excellent shape." The load limit is in effect to prevent any undue strain on the structure.

Tax Boost Seen 'Late' —If At All

Witnesses Advised To Add Sweeteners For Any Chance

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Massachusetts Democrat on the House Ways and Means Committee says President Johnson will get his proposed tax hike at least two months late—if he gets it at all.

And, Rep. James A. Burke told administration witnesses Monday, "You'd better put in a few sweeteners to have any chance at all."

Burke gave a grankly political analysis of the outlook to Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and other spokesmen for the proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

He said an increase next year would come on top of a hike in the Social Security tax, already in effect, and "when you cut a man's pay twice in one year—look out."

"One of your problems," Burke went on, "is that many of us members face primaries before June 1. I tell you, I don't see much chance of passage before then." Johnson is seeking an April 1 effective date.

Burke suggested the administration consider broadening exemptions from the tax boost in the lower income brackets.

Burke was the only Democrat at the opening day of the committee's sessions to predict trouble for the bill. But several Republicans were critical, contending the administration was not economizing enough to insure that a tax increase would really cut the deficit.

Schultze reeled off cutbacks he said were being made, including some in loans for farms, sewer and water projects and rural electrification; cancellation of some agriculture research projects and closing of research stations and reducing small watershed construction projects.

Other reductions, Schultze said, are being made by stretching out highway spending and construction projects by holding back $600 million from the states, reducing grants for higher education facilities and pro-

Pentagon Says U.S. Boat Captured By Red Koreans

SEOUL (AP) — The United States reported today a U.S. patrol boat with 83 men aboard was seized by North Koreans in international waters and in Seoul, South Korean troops killed a sixth member of a North Korean assassination team.

A North Korean broadcast charged the vessel was a "spy boat" violating North Korean waters.

The American announcement said the Pueblo, a Navy intelligence auxilliary ship, was boarded by an armed party about 25 miles off the North Korean coast today and taken to Wonsan.

The U.S. announcement said a North Korean patrol boat approached the Pueblo and asked identification. The Pueblo signaled that it was a U.S. boat in international waters and the North Koreans signaled:

Helicopters Carry 3,000 Infantrymen To Khe Sanh Front

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops and civilians pulled out of a second district town in the enflamed Khe Sanh Valley Monday as the U.S. Command rushed thousand of reiforcemets to South Vietnam's threatened northern sector.

ore thaMn 3,000 helicopterborne infantrymen from the U. S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were moved up the line, available as backup troops should they be needed anywhere along the front. A battalion of U.S. marines was rushed to the Khe Sanh combat base to bolster three other battalions there.

South Vietnamese military headquarters said about 200 militiamen, accompanied by an unknown number of civilians, had been withdrawn from the district town of Huong Hoa, nearly two miles southeast of the town of Khe Sanh.

Government forces abandoned Huong Hoa after three days of Communist attack in which the militiamen claimed 250 enemy troops were killed at a cost of 18 Vietnamese dead and 53 wounded.

Three Combined Action Platoons of U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese militiamen similarly abandoned the town of Khe Sanh Monday, withdrawing to the Marine combat base three miles north of the town. They were followed by 1,112 of the town's 10,000 civilians, and these refugees were shuttled on to Da Nang.

Both Khe Sanh and Huong Hoa had been considered technically secure under the government's pacification program, but their semi-isolated position and their proximity to the northern frontier placed them in the "C" category on the U.S. Mis-

Greenland Hunt Goes On For Crashed U.S. Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — Searchers using dogsleds and helicopters continue hunting in the icy polar darkness seven miles off Thule, Greenland, for perhaps as many as four U.S. hydrogen bombs lost in the fiery crash of a B52 bomber.

The Pentagon would not say Monday how many nuclear bombs were aboard the plane when it crashed Sunday. But sources said it was probably four of the 1.1 million megaton type, with a total explosive equivalent of more than 4.4 million tons of dynamite— a force thousands of times greater than that which incinerated Hiroshima in World War II.

The Pentagon said the devices weren't armed "so there is no danger of a nuclear explosion at the crash site." In its brief statement the Defense Department did not speculate on chances of recovering the bombs but other sources said recovery was doubtful.

Denmark, which owns Greenland, asked the United States for an explanation of the incident.

Denmark forbids flights of planes bearing nuclear bombs over her territory. But Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag said it was impossible to prevent emergency landings such as the plane was attempting when it hurled into the thick ice of North Star Bay.

In Copenhagen, Danes staged a protest demonstration at the U.S. Embassy.

The Soviet news agency Tass said in Moscow the crash was a "dangerous accident."

One crewman was killed in the crash. Seven others parachuted to safety.

Searchers worked with light provided by flares in temperatures well below zero and headed across the ice six to nine feet thick in the bay, where some wreckage had been sighted.

But the Pentagon said other parts of the plane, heated in the fire of the crash, "may have burned into or through the ice" and disappeared in the 800-foot water depth to the sea floor.

The $10 million plane, base at the Plattsburgh (N.Y.) Air Force Base 2,000 miles away, was on patrol duty that is part of the continuing U.S. bomber flights along the northern route in readiness for possible war.

The crash site is in northwest Greenland, a desolate area which has no sunlight most of the day. It is home for three or four hundred Eskimos who live by hunting polar bears and wal-

Council Will Meet Tonight

Night Police Patrol Eyed To Check Chester Thefts

Chester Council has scheduled a meeting tonight at 8 in an effort to work out a new police patrolling schedule after a heated two - hour discussion at Monday night's regular meetings.

The closed door conference tonight is designed to set up a schedule which will give the city police protection throughout the night, hopefully to stem the rising tide of burglaries at business establishments.

Major thefts have occurred in recent months, due, many residents believe, to the fact there is no police protection after 1 a. m.

"Something's got to be done about night police," Councilman Robert Kincaid declared last night. "Every place in town's been knocked off."

Kincaid questioned Patrolman Joseph (Bill) Cornell as to the length of time involved in answering a call to the Citizen's Drugstore last week where a breaking and entering was in progress.

Kincaid said he had been told it took the patrolman 20 minutes to answer the call, but Cornell declared it was only about 10 minutes. Cornell pointed out he was in bed at the time and the 10 minutes also involved time spent unfreezing the door on the city's cruiser.

Cornell, reporting the incident at the time, said he was on the scene shortly after the thieves left, since the tire tracks were fresh in the snow.

Kincaid said regardless of the time involved night patrolling is needed to alleviate the problem of police being called from home. In addition, he said, the extra patrolling probably would stop the mounting burglaries.

Kincaid said he was informed that Ludovici Pontiac sales and Hobbs tire shop were "knocked off," but neither reported the incident.

Mayor Burton G. Ward declared nothing can be done if reports are given to police of such incidents long after they occur.

Cornell explained the reported entering at Hobbs. He said after hearing about it he inspected the building and found only a small hole in one window, "not big enough to get your fist through."

U.S. Planes In Thai Bombing Laos Bases

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn broke a badly kept secret and officially revealed for the first time today that U.S. planes are bombing Laos from bases in Thailand.

Until Thanom spoke in reply to a question at his weekly press conference, the Thai government had maintained silence on the activities of U.S. aircraft over Laos.

The United States has been equally discreet. It has maintained that Thai-based U.S. aircraft fly over Laos only on armed reconnaissance missions. A U.S. Embassy spokesman in Bangkok said this was still the American official position.

$550 Million Cut Slated In Education Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, cutting its spending by $550 million in the first half of this year on orders from Congress, will take the biggest slice from college and university building aid.

But most of the higher education construction funds will simply be held up until the end of the current fiscal year July 1—unless Congress orders a continued financial holddown.

"A lot of people's plans are being upset," said an HEW budget official of college and university officers, "and they're already letting us know about it."

Officials said most institutions probably will get next fiscal year the money they were expecting this year. But they noted that the possibility state agencies disbursing the funds could give the money to new applicants.

The $450 million that was to have been spent on college and university buildings this year will be cut about one-third, to $300 million, officials said.

And funds for health teaching facilities—mainly medical and dental schools—are to be cut almost as much: $58 million from an authorized $175 million.

Hospital construction funds were left with only slight reductions, officials said, because of the great new need for hospital space generated by the medicare and medicaid programs. A planned $274 million outlay will be reduced by only $11 million.

In elementary and secondary education, the government's $1-

Man Appears On Indictment In Auto Death

LISBON — The first of defendants named in 50 secret indictments Friday by the Columbiana County grand jury appeared Monday afternoon in Common Pleas Court.

Bond of $10,000 previously set in County Eastern Court at East Palestine, was continued for Robert E. Cusick Jr., 30, of West Point, named in three traffic manslaughter indictments.

Judge Joel H. Sharp continued the bond in the absence of Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who will be in charge of criminal cases this term of court.

Cusick was driving a car involved in a four - car accident Nov. 11 on Route 30 at the Route 45 cutoff near West Point.

The collision killed his brother, Arnold Cusick, 19, who was riding with him, and three men in another car — Donald M. Adkins, 28, of Midland Heights, and his passengers, his father Albert G. Adkins, 55, of 447

House Leaders Seek Approval

Districting Plan Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House leaders pushed for committee approval of the Senate-passed congressional redistricting bill today with some Republicans still insisting on key changes.

Two proposed amendments were offered Monday afternoon and night by members of each party and the Republican delegation from Cincinnati was set to ask major changes today.

But with the redistricting court deadline four days away, observers saw little chance of major revisions. The plan has to be filed in U.S. District Court at Cleveland by late Friday or the court itself may draw new districts for elections this year in the state's 24 congressional districts.

Rep. Carlton Davidson R-26 Lawrence asked tht House Government Operations Committee Monday for a revision that would keep his county in the 10th District "where it has been for more than 100 years." Under the Senate bill, it would go into the 6th.

He proposed instead that Vinton and Hocking counties be added to the 6th along with three western townships of Athens County (Trimble, York, and Dover.)

Rep. James Holzemer D-78 Toledo asked a revision which would keep the Toledo metropolitan area — a Democratic stronghold — intact instead of having it divided by a proposed 5th-9th district border that generally would follow the Maumee River.

Rep. Gordon Scherer R-71 Cincinnati and others said they were ready to take up in the lower chamber the battle lost last week in the Senate by Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff R-8 Cincinnati.

Principal among their objections is a switch proposed in the Senate bill that would place a corner of southeastern Hamilton County, a heavy Republican area, into Republican Rep. William H. Harsha's sprawling 6th District in Southern Ohio.

Redistricting held the spotlight as the lawmakers began the second week of their recess session but leaders said groundwork for major issues that will follow the dilemma.

The Senate Finance Committee called for more testimony today on the administration's $850 million bond issue package. Across the statehouse, the lower chamber scheduled a floor vote on a measure authorizing limited use of industrial commission trust funds as seed money for financing state office building construction.

Senators held only a brief skeleton session Monday night for minor housekeeping chores but the House met for 55 minutes and passed four bills.

Two were Senate measures

C. A. Harrold To Seek Post In May Vote

Clyde A. Harrold of 136 N. Elm St., Columbiana, announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for one of two county commissioner's posts iin the primary election May 7.

Owner of the Columbiana Milling & Supply Co., Harrold is making his first political bid. A brother, Lee Harrold, is a former Columbiana mayor.

Harrold is a graduate engineer, holding degrees from Mt. Union College and Carnegie Tech. A Columbiana native, he is married and the father of three children. He is a member of the First United Church of Christ.

The terms of Commissioners Charles Gause, Republican, and R. Max Gard, Democrat, expire at the end of 1968. Both have entered for new terms. James Boyd, Republican, is the holdover on the three - member board.

ENGINEERS OF the Modjeski & Masters firm of Harrisburg, Pa., advised the highway department Monday of the corrosion in a set of cables in the anchorage on the Ohio side of the bridge which was erected in 1897.

P. E. Masheter, Ohio Highway Director ordered the traffic restriction after receiving the telegram from the engineering firm which had been retained at a cost of $40,000 to provide an in-depth inspection of the Chester Bridge, Ft. Steuben Bridge and Pomeroy Bridge.

Masheter said the restriction will be in effect until the department has had an opportunity to determine the proper repairs. "The repairs will be given top priority in the department's programs."

Two proposed amendments were offered Monday afternoon and night by members of each party and the Republican delegation from Cincinnati was set to ask major changes today.

But with the redistricting court deadline four days away, observers saw little chance of major revisions. The plan has to be filed in U.S. District Court at Cleveland by late Friday or the court itself may draw new districts for elections this year in the state's 24 congressional districts.

Rep. Carlton Davidson R-26 Lawrence asked tht House Government Operations Committee Monday for a revision that would keep his county in the 10th District "where it has been for more than 100 years." Under the Senate bill, it would go into the 6th.

He proposed instead that Vinton and Hocking counties be added to the 6th along with three western townships of Athens County (Trimble, York, and Dover.)

Rep. James Holzemer D-78 Toledo asked a revision which would keep the Toledo metropolitan area — a Democratic stronghold — intact instead of having it divided by a proposed 5th-9th district border that generally would follow the Maumee River.

Rep. Gordon Scherer R-71 Cincinnati and others said they were ready to take up in the lower chamber the battle lost last week in the Senate by Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff R-8 Cincinnati.

Principal among their objections is a switch proposed in the Senate bill that would place a corner of southeastern Hamilton County, a heavy Republican area, into Republican Rep. William H. Harsha's sprawling 6th District in Southern Ohio.

Redistricting held the spotlight as the lawmakers began the second week of their recess session but leaders said groundwork for major issues that will follow the dilemma.

The Senate Finance Committee called for more testimony today on the administration's $850 million bond issue package. Across the statehouse, the lower chamber scheduled a floor vote on a measure authorizing limited use of industrial commission trust funds as seed money for financing state office building construction.

Senators held only a brief skeleton session Monday night for minor housekeeping chores but the House met for 55 minutes and passed four bills.

Two were Senate measures

Helicopters Carry 3,000 Infantrymen To Khe Sanh Front

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops and civilians pulled out of a second district town in the enflamed Khe Sanh Valley Monday as the U.S. Command rushed thousand of reiforcemets to South Vietnam's threatened northern sector.

ore thaMn 3,000 helicopter-borne infantrymen from the U. S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were moved up the line, available as backup troops should they be needed anywhere along the front. A battalion of U.S. marines was rushed to the Khe Sanh combat base to bolster three other battalions there.

South Vietnamese military headquarters said about 200 militiamen, accompanied by an unknown number of civilians, had been withdrawn from the district town of Huong Hoa, nearly two miles southeast of the town of Khe Sanh.

Government forces abandoned Huong Hoa after three days of Communist attack in which the militiamen claimed 250 enemy troops were killed at a cost of 18 Vietnamese dead and 53 wounded.

Three Combined Action Platoons of U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese militiamen similarly abandoned the town of Khe Sanh Monday, withdrawing to the Marine combat base three miles north of the town. They were followed by 1,112 of the town's 10,000 civilians, and these refugees were shuttled on to Da Nang.

Both Khe Sanh and Huong Hoa had been considered technically secure under the government's pacification program, but their semi-isolated position and their proximity to the northern frontier placed them in the "C" category on the U.S. Mis-

Maiden Trip Termed 'Graceful'

Next Moon Module Flight Seen Used By Astronauts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The ugly-duckling spacecraft built to set Americans on the moon—Lunar Module 1—performed so gracefully in Monday's maiden flight that the next one launched probably will be used by men, top space agency officials said today.

"This was a remarkably good next step on the way to the moon," said Dr. George Mueller after the debut trip of the last piece of hardware to be qualified for the lunar journey. Mueller is the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's associate administrator for manned spaceflight.

Mueller and his colleagues were so pleased that they all but ruled out a proposed duplicate test in late spring, opening the way for Apollo astronauts to use the next lunar module in a deep space exercise early in 1969, year of the moon.

The seven-hour, 52-minute flight Monday was flawed only by an abbreviated firing of the rocket to be used to make a gentle moon landing.

As the orbiting moonship coasted over the Indian Ocean, that engine started up. But a touchy computer aboard sensed low fuel pressure and shut it off. Mueller said an astronaut in the ship could have whipped the problem in no time flat. "Unfortunately, there wasn't a man there," he said.

At the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, controllers reached for an anthology of emergency mission plans for a trip the space agency warned in advance was too risky to follow a rigid course.

The alternate scheme they chose was based on an old and less ambitious flight plan, but was an initiation tough enough to qualify the ship for astronauts.

On the second try, the backdown engine performed at full thrust and then at 10 per cent of full thrust, exactly as controllers told it to. The change of plan ruled out a test of how it would work at thrust rates in between.

Then, in the most crucial checkout, the craft's getaway engine began firing while the descent rocket still burned. This "fire in the hole" test duplicated the procedure astronauts would follow in lifting away from a potentially hazardous lunar touchdown. The lunar module passed it perfectly.

Free of its landing stage, which would be a launch platform on the moon, the passenger section's ascent engine fired for 6½ minutes. This was a test of the lunar takeoff which start two astronauts from the moon to the Apollo command ship waiting to carry them home to earth.

Scientists said that final surge apparently consigned the craft to destruction by fiery reentry into the atmosphere, but no plans were possible or planned for recovery of the ship, which was built to operate only in space.

Bristling with antennae, its mantis-like folding legs left off for this test in earth orbit, Lunar Module 1 was lifted from Cape Kennedy by a Saturn 1B rocket—the same rocket atop which the three Apollo astronauts died a year ago next Saturday in the fire which crippled the nation's moon program.

A bonus experiment in Monday night's flight involved dumping of leftover propellant from the Saturn's top stage, a plan to be followed by astronauts in the post-lunar era to convert expended rocket stages into orbiting laboratories.

New Officers Are Named By Midland CAC Group

Mrs. J. C. Singleton was re-elected president of the Midland Neighborhood Community Action Committee Monday night at the borough building.

Others named to the executive board were Mrs. Betty Hawthorne, first vice president; Ray Raak, second vice president; Sam Zuppe, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Willie Burks, recording secretary; Mrs. Phillip Taylor, treasurer, and Mrs. Gilbert Clark, recording treasurer.

Mrs. J. B. McKeown was chairman of the nominating committee.

Mrs. Angeline Vranich, chairman of the Day Care committee, reported that Midland Council is unable to act on the CAC request for a building to house the proposed center. Hugh I. Smith, executive director of the Beaver County CAC, advised the committee to act as a planning body in preparing a proposal for a center.

At the request of Mrs. Singleton, four Midland civic leaders will work with the committee in drafting the proposal listing the needs of the group. Named to work with the CAC were Al Lona, president of United Steelworkers Union Local 1212; Raymond Stowitzky, Lincoln High School guidance director; the Rev. Stephen J. Burdis of the Presentation Catholic Church, and Lester Trainer, Midland tax collector.

Smith and Mrs. Francena Colamarino, program coordinator, answered questions on federal funds. Mrs. Singleton elaborated on the meaning of community action and said it should be a project to benefit all residents. She invited residents to help plan programs and outline various goals.

Mrs. Hilda Jones, manager of the Midland Area Center at Midcrest, reported she has submitted names of those eligible to participate in new careers training at Dixmont State Hospital. She said seven Midland students are employed under the Neighborhood Youth Corps program.

"Heave to or I will open fire on you."

About an hour later, the announcement said, three more patrol boats arrived, surrounded the Pueblo and North Koreans boarded the American vessel. The Pueblo reported she was requested to follow the North Korean ships into Wonsan and that she had not used any weapons, the announcement said.

The final message from the Pueblo reported it was "going off the air."

The Defense Department said there were 6 officers, 75 enlisted men and 2 civilians aboard the Pueblo.

In Seoul, meanwhile, South Korean troops tried to round up members of a North Korean team that entered Seoul in an attempt to kill South Korean officials.

A sixth member of the team was shot dead today and a South Korean soldier was killed Monday night in two of several shooting encounters as the Communists tried to elude pursuers.

The army said the Communist infiltrator was found fleeing north along a mountain ridge 10 miles northwest of Seoul and was shot by South Korean soldiers. A submachine gun was found near his body.

The joint antiespionage operations headquarters announced that a North Korean agent surrendered to authorities of the U.S. 2nd Division Monday night, but the U.S. Army would neither confirm nor deny the report. It was not known whether the man belonged to the terror group that raided Seoul Sunday night.

South Korean units captured another North Korean earlier who said the raid's purpose was to kill President Chung Hee Park and other high officials.

The government announced that the 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew already in effect for three counties and one city north of Seoul was extended to three other counties northeast of Seoul this evening. The curfew is designed to help government units spot members of the assassination team trying to flee under cover of darkness.

The 31-man team slipped into Seoul Sunday night and shot it out with South Korean police near Park's residence. They killed one police officer and five civilians, and a sixth civilan wounded in the shooting died Monday. Five of the North Korean infiltrators were also killed.

The South Korean Army said the government soldier was shot during a brief skirmish Monday night with an unknown number of gunmen on the northern outskirts of Seoul. South Korean military and police forces kept after the intruders.

North Korea's Radio Pyongyang claimed that the raiders were South Koreans who wanted to overthrow the president.

But the Seoul government held a news conference to exhibit the captured member of the band, who said he was 2nd Lt. Kim Shin-cho, 25, and that he and his 30 teammates were members of a specially trained Communist guerrilla force.

Kim said the team's "sole mission was to attack the Blue House (the presidential mansion), kill President Chung Hee Park and shoot to death other key personnel."

He said the North Koreans each carried a revolver, a submachine gun and 300 rounds of ammunition, eight grenades and an antitank mine. They crossed the demilitarized zone in a sector guarded by the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division at 10 p.m. Thursday, cutting through a chain-link fence the Americans had built to deter sneak attacks, he said.

Kim said they moved on without difficulty until they came upon four woodcutters Friday afternoon. They threatened the woodcutters with a brutal reprisal if they informed South Korean or U.S. authorities. But after the raiders went on, the woodcutters did inform authorities, and a massive dragnet was spread.

The guerrilla team was about half a mile from Park's residence when they encountered a checkpoint and a gunbattle broke out. The raid was one of the most daring Communist actions since the armistice ending the Korean War was signed in 1953.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

Chester Council still is seeking a part - time worker for the street department, no formal applications having been submitted.

It was announced two weeks ago that a replacement is needed for Lou Lyons, who has been ill and will be confined to his home at least for another week.

The new worker would serve as a helper to Street Commissioner Lester Bishop, with Lyons performing the "extra work." The new helper would average between 35 and 40 hours a week, at 1.80 an hour.

Applications will be received by Clerk Donald Hood, who said he has had only phone inquiries to date.

IN OTHER business Monday night, Council announced that Atty. Ruth Cox Turner and Alvin L. (Pete) Arner Jr. have raised about $400 to date for new flooring in the City Hall auditorium. It was pointed out that the two have requested future donations be made directly to the city.

Council has received a donation from an area resident. Mayor Burton G. Ward pointed out any contributions are deductible from income tax figures.

Hood said he has been told that three church groups soon will conduct a house - to - house solicitation for funds. Several bids already have been received for the work.

The three churches are the Nazarene, First Methodist and Christian.

COUNCILMAN Charles Kology commended the city water department employes for their work in repairing a main line to the reservoir from the pumping station near the river.

Workers labored all night Friday and part of Saturday to repair the line which, left unrepaired, would have caused a total loss of water by noon Saturday. Water Supt. Lewis Govey drove to Coshocton, Ohio, to obtain the necessary part to repair the break.

Councilman Robert Kincaid said, however, the fire department should have been notified of the situation.

Members, upon questioning the mayor, were informed a car parked at 1st St. for nearly a month will be moved today.

ConCon Faces New Deadline On Tax Exemption Problem

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Constitutional Convention's tax panel faced a new deadline today for a solution to the thorny problem of what to do about tax exemptions for public and charitable institutions.

The Committee on Taxation and State Finance spent more than 90 minutes discussing the issue Monday night, but again put off a decision on a package of disputed proposals.

Delegate Robert L. Leonard of Philadelphia, committee co-chairman, gave the subcommittee on Taxation until tonight to come up with a final proposal, including a recommendation on public utilities.

The question of what to do about public utilities was raised by delegate Blaine C. Hocker of Dauphin County, who said the package would not be complete until the matter is settled.

"I think there is a little hanky-panky going on with the public utilities," Hocker said, "and I want to see the whole package before anything is done."

Public utilities now are exempt from local property taxes on their operating facilities, although they do pay the state a 20-mill tax on gross receipts.

The committee has been bogged down for more than a week in despute over whether public and charitable institutions should be required to make pecial payments to local government units for municipal services.

Public and charitable institutions now are exempt from all local taxes.

Early last week, the committee had approved a proposal that would have required the institutions to make payments in lieu of taxes. The proposal was amended, however, to exempt all schools from such payments.

Although several alternate plans were proposed Monday night, most interest seemed to center on a recommendation by delegate David G. Baldus of Pittsburgh that present exemptions be continued, but limited to property actually used for public, educational or charitable purposes.

Under Baldus's plan, for example, classrooms would be tax-exempt, football stadiums would not; hospital rooms would be tax exempt, but hospital parking lots and snack bars would not; meeting rooms in veterans posts would be tax exempt, bars in the same posts would not.

"This plan would treat everyone alike," Baldus said. "This is a suggestion that already has been adopted by many states."

Both Man, Wife Await Hearings

EAST PALESTINE — Joseph (Jack) Reese, 37, of East Liverpool RD 1, who filed an assault - with - a - dangerous-weapon charge Jan. 3 against his wife, is the defendant in a similar charge she filed Jan. 16.

Both hearings are scheduled for Feb. 19 before Judge D. Barry Dickson in Columbiana County Eastern Court here, beginning at 9:30 a. m.

Reese pleaded not guilty Monday to the allegation of Mrs. Dolores M. Reese, 37, that he assaulted her Jan. 17 with a knife. The parents of three children, the Reeses have a divorce action pending.

Mrs. Reese pleaded not guilty Jan. 15 in Eastern Court to her husband's charge she shot him through the upper right arm with a .22-caliber pistol.

She was released from the County Jail Jan. 8 after Judge Dickson reduced her bond from $5,000 to $1,000. The court made the same reduction Monday in Reese's bond and relatives "bonded him out" through Southwest Court at Lisbon.

Users Of Gas In Beaver Hit By Utility Tax

Residents of Beaver County who use natural gas for cooking or heating will be affected by the 6-mill gross receipts tax increase levied on Pennsylvania utilities recently.

The increase is being passed on to their customers by two companies in Western Pennsylvania.

The Peoples Natural Gas Co., which serves Beaver County, and the Equitable Gas Co. were authorized by the Public Utility Commission Monday to pass the increase off in the form of surcharges on customers' bills. The two utilities cover 14 counties.

This, the PUC said, is because the utilities have shown proof they could not bear the additional tax expense because of their operating costs and present earnings.

The PUC said customers have been paying the tax at the old 64-mill rate since 1960.

The tax will add $524,000 yearly to bills of 268,000 Peoples customers and $376,000 to charges of 238,000 Equitable customers.

Peoples' average customers will pay 38 cents more a year for non-heating residential gas, and $1.21 more for heating gas. Equitable's customers will pay 34 cents more annually for non-heating gas, and $1.06 for heating gas, the PUC said.

Peoples and Equitable furnish service in Allegheny, Beaver, Blair, Butler, Cambria, Clarion, Fayette, Greene, Indiana, Lawrence, Mercer, Venango, Washington and Westmoreland counties.

Big Things From Patterson

Recent moves by the energetic leadership of Patterson Industries point to new horizons for the firm, a longtime part of the East Liverpool economic base.

The merger with Banner Industries puts the corporation in the public investment domain with listing on the American Stock Exchange, greatly enlarging its capital resources and opening the door for future growth and financing.

The acquisition of the Dubie-Clark Co., Inc., of Toccoa, Ga., not only furthers the immediate diversification program of the firm, but broadens the potential for more new product lines.

Willam P. Barker, president of Patterson and head of the new parent firm of Banner, reports Dubie-Clark, a 15-year-old company which employs 175, specializes in aluminum shipping containers for torpedoes, missiles, bombs and other such items — 95 per cent of its output is under government contract.

Patterson is interested in phasing into other lines for the firm, located in the textile and pulp and paper area of Georgia so it will not be so dependent on defense work.

Barker, along with Richard Heddleston, veteran Patterson executive and vice president of the parent firm, and their staffs are putting Patterson and its broad operations into high gear with a display of initiative and imagination that promises to reap real rewards for the company, its employes and this community.

Possibility Of A Wider War

While the gloomy prospects for peace in Vietnam turn a shade darker, the possibility of even more fighting involving American forces looms larger on the Southeast Asia horizon.

Reports from Laos indicate North Vietnam-controlled insurgency is making progress. Reds captured a key government outpost north of the capital city Luang Prabang last week. Crumbling government resistance now has exposed the capital city to Communist attack.

With U.S. helicopters ferrying Laotian troops already, government officials may request additional American help at any moment.

Cambodia is charging the United States and South Vietnam with violating its borders and killing three Cambodian soldiers. Even though the "evidence" cited by Cambodian officials pointing to American involvement could easily have been planted, the fact an incident has been stirred up reflects growing anti-American sentiment in the country.

Over the weekend there was a brazen attempt by North Koreans to break into the South Korean presidential palace and assassinate high government officials.

It was the first major incident inside Seoul since the armistice of 1953.

The situation is not as acute in Thailand but there definitely is fighting between Thais and Communist forces. The American base in Thailand would make it awkward for the United States to refuse a Thai request for help.

Activity on the wide range of fronts has been stepped up as the tempo has quckened in Vietnam since the first of the year. A pattern seems to have been established.

The evacuation of the Khe San by U.S. and Sout Vitnamese troops under pressure from North Vietnam forces could be the beginning of something big for the Reds.

Their victories have been few and far between but just one like Khe Sanh could be the starting point for a concerted offensive. It may be limited to South Vietnam but it more likely will include Laos and Thailand — and possibly a renewal of hostilities in Korea in hopes of involving China.

There is a cry for peace around the world but the heavy betting is on more bloodshed.

Eartha Kitt Went To Lunch

One besetting problem of high position was solved dramatically when Eartha Kitt, a singer, blasted off at a White House luncheon.

The besetting problem is how to learn what the ordinary run of people are thinking about and what they are saying.

The difficulty is that the lords and ladies who cluster around thrones because they belong there and commoners invited to approach the throne to tell what is on their minds never level with kings and queens. They never tell them what they don't want to know.

Instead, they tug at their forelocks, look at their shoes and mutter fulsomely polite phrases. They tell the throne what its occupants want to hear.

That was to have been the routine when the First Lady invited a clutch of ladies to the White House for lunch. The topic was to be crime and how to stop it.

When Miss Kitt's turn came, though, she said what nobody was ready to hear — that crime among the young is generated by hopelessness and bitterness generated by a war in Southeast Asia that has eaten away confidence in the American way of life.

Her remakrs were rude. They were compulsive. They were shocking. They were an affront to the hostess and the ladies present. Miss Kitt's language was a wild departure from the talk that supposedly prevails at nice luncheons.

The First Lady was embarrassed and upset. Other ladies were embarrassed and upset. The proprieties had been flouted. Miss Kitt was out of step.

But is it not possible that President and Mrs. Johnson now know more than they ever knew first-hand before how the Eartha Kitts of this Republic feel about the adventure in Southeast Asia?

AAU-NCAA Still Squabbling

The longest contest in the history of sports threatens to keep the United States out of the Olympic Games.

The marathon sanctioning squabble between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association has worn thin the patience of Congress.

That's understandable. Even Job, paragon of patience, would have been hard pressed to contain his temper in the face of the exasperating antics of the two organizations. Long and exhaustive efforts at mediation have failed.

Basically, the problem stems from the traditional role of the AAU in certifying to the International Olympic Committee the athletes to represent the United States.

This arrangement worked fine when most American athletes were developed by athletic clubs. The picture changed when college athletes made their presence felt.

The NCAA now feels its representation of thousands of high schools and colleges gives it the right to have a say.

Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., says he is fed up with the feud and it is time for Congress to straighten out the matter. His remarks serve as a background for a bill by Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., that would ban disqualification of any amateur athlete from competition because he had engaged in a meet staged by a rival organization.

But another complication has cropped up. Avery Brundage, chairman of the International Olympic Committee, says government action in the matter might pave the way for the entire U.S. team to be ruled ineligible.

Mr. Brundage says this is possible because his committee will not tolerate goverument interference.

That is where the ridiculous situation now stands.

If the prospect of congressional action and possible disqualification of the U.S. team doesn't spur the rival organizations into working out a solution, American amateur athletes would be justified in acting on their own.

They could either refuse to participate in any NCAA or AAU events until the problem is solved, or form their own organization and method of selecting representatives.

The Peace Threat

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

My good friend Joe Wallstop, whom all of us in the column business look on as the opinion-maker's opinion-maker, was in a foul mood when I saw him the other day.

"What's the trouble, Joe?"

"I can't stand these fools who keep talking about peace in Vietnam."

"You mean President Johnson and Dean Rusk?"

"No, you idiot!" he said angrily. "I mean the appeasers and the peaceniks and the nervous Nellies who keep screaming for us to stop the bombing and sit down with the Communists."

Art Buchwald

"Oh, those fools. But why are you so upset right now?"

"Because Hanoi is trying to trick us into peace negotiations."

"I thought that was what we were going for in Vietnam."

"Don't you see? If they're asking for peace negotiations, that means they're hurting, and instead of letting up on them now, we should really start clobbering them."

"BUT WE WERE clobbering them before because they wouldn't talk peace with us."

"Exactly. We clobbered them before because they wouldn't discuss negotiations with us. They thought they were winning the war. Now that they're asking for peace, they obviously don't think they can win the war, and this is the time to let them have it."

"But, Joe, what I don't understand is that if we can't sit down with them when they think they're winning the war, and we can't sit down with them when they think they're losing the war, when the hell can we sit down with them?"

"There is no good time to sit down with Hanoi. That's why we have to keep clobbering them. I have here some captured documents which indicate that it was part of Hanoi's master plan that if they couldn't win the war they would sit down with us and talk peace."

"That's serious, if true," I said. "But what's wrong with it?"

Wallstop seemed exasperated. "Don't you understand? All they want is a breathing spell from the bombing."

"But I thought the whole idea of the bombing was to bring the North Vietnamese to the conference table."

"SURE," SAID Wallstop, "but they won't come to the conference table unless we stop the bombing. So why should we stop the bombing to appease them?"

"I guess we shouldn't. Then you see peace as the biggest danger of the war?"

"I certainly do. It's the one thing we can't afford to have. When you start talking peace, you have to make concessions. We're in no position to make concessions to the Communists. After all, our obligation is to South Vietnam, not North Vietnam."

"From what you have said, you really can't have peace talks with the Communists, even if they ask for it, because if you do they would interpret it as a sign of weakness on our part."

"Now you've got it," said Wallstop. "If we stop the bombing and sit down with them, it will be a moral victory for their side."

"And if we continue to bomb them after they've asked for peace, it will be a moral victory for our side," I said excitedly.

Wallstop seemed weary. "It's so simple. Why do I have to keep explaining it to those fools all the time?"

Purely Personal Observations

Ohio Sen. Frank J. Lausche says he was broken down emotionally by letters he received from loyal friends after his party bosses turned their backs on him as a candidate in the May primaries. For a real emotional breakdown, watch the bosses when Democrats renominate Lausche for the U.S. Senate anyway.

I could be a first-rate consultant, provided I could latch on to an opportunity 500 miles from home where all local yokels would regard me as an expert and take my word.

Soon, all the snow will melt and run away, along with the blacktop patches our road fixers spent all last summer pasting on to unreceptive surfaces.

A California school superintendent went to England to hire a dozen teachers and was snowed under by 1,500 applicants eager to give up British citizenship for life in sunny California at four times their present wages.

Whenever it's high school basketball tournament time, I remember how we made a superstar of our only six-footer by rubbing him with liniment that stung when he perspired. An otherwise so-so player, thus inspired, carried our team to the finals.

"Nice work if you can get it" is the refrrain of a once-popular song, and it comes to mind when I read about hourly rates for artisans that would give them higher pay than their bosses — if they could get steady work. But they can't — not at those prices!

It is reasoning after the fact to say heart transplant patient Mike Kasperak would have died anyway, due to the other things that ailed him. But what happened to him suggests what happens when a new, stronger pump is hooked up to an old plumbing system. Everything leaks.

I know a man whose wife asks him after gloomy TV weather reports why they are living in a climate that produces so much foul weather from November to May, and he admits he does not have a satisfactory answer.

I tell high school seniors expecting to go to college that inability to use a typewriter with speed and accuracy is comparable to an apprentice carpenter who hasn't learned to use a hammer.

An early spate of baseball news makes me wonder what springtime sensations my favorite club will uncover this year, only to sputter out as soon as opposing pitchers learn the phenoms can't hit the curve.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Most people write a letter because they have something to complain about, but not in this case. I live in Glenmoor and have the best neighbors in the world.

I am 69 years old, and last week with all that snow it would have been impossible for me to clean my driveway. But it wasn't any time at all when a neighbor, who just got over the flu, came over and said, "Aunt Myrtle, I'll clean your driveway." There were also several youngsters who offered their help.

Because of my age, I have problems driving at night. What do they do about this? "Just call me anytime Aunt Myrtle, we know that your brother-in-law hasn't been well, if Eli needs medicine let me know." With my brother-in-law being hospitalized, friends (my neighbors) have brought me over meals, taken me to the hospital, and treated me like a cherished friend.

I could think of no other way except to write to you, to let my neighbors know how much I appreciate them. If every neighborhood was as good as ours, what a great world this would be. God Bless Them.

WASHINGTON — In days of old (movies) they would have cast Edward Arnold to play the part. But these being the days of realism and happens, Mr. Labor, otherwise known as George Meany, will play himself in a new film. His co-star will be a tall Texan, Lyndon Baines Johnson.

That short picture soon will roll into production—and as the election hits high gear, the movie will become one of the propaganda weapons to be hurled at the Republican contender whoever he is.

The movie, unique as it will be, is just a small bit of one of the most massive and imaginative campaigns ever launched for any candidate in the history of American politics—by any force.

For labor, it will be the most electronic election in history—the most computerized, the longest, the most heavily financed.

Not until next year can the final cost be tallied. It will be in the scores of millions.

EVERYWHERE, from Oregon's smaller cities down into California and across to the District of Columbia, campaign workshops have been meeting since Jan. 3.

But the final planning will be made at the 10-day midwinter AFL-CIO Executive Council session in Bal Horbour, Fla., beginning Feb. 19. Then comes one of the most unique moves in labor's political action history—a facsimile national convention.

Meany has invited all national union presidents to bring their executive boards and most active aides and officials into Washington for a one-day strategy session on March 29, in the Statler-Hilton Hotel. Since each of these groups will parallel the delegations to the recent AFL-CIO convention, some 1,000 officials are expected to join in what will, in effect, be another national convention. Same people, but this time talking politics only.

They will be joined by what is shaping up into a White House-Democratic political team—Vice President Hubert Humphrey to outline foreign policies; Bayard Rustin, Executive Director of the A. Philip Randolph Institute, to discuss labor, politics and the Negro community and vote; Barefoot Sanders, as White House liaison man, and Frank "Nordy" Hoffman, formerly United Steelworkers Capitol lobbyist, now Executive Secretary of the Democratic Senate Campaign Committee.

Of course, the regular laborities, such as the whirlwind-ish Al Barkan, director of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE), will be there. They've electrified and electronicized this campaign as no one ever has before.

It can be reported that COPE has now data-processed more than 4 million of the AFL-CIO's 14.3 million members. They'd have been better but Walter Reuther rejected Meany's request to send along the auto union's membership lists.

"THIS COMPUTERIZATION is a long range project," said one of labor's top political strategists. "We will cover the nation. We don't operate for just one election—vital as this one may be."

The computer can whip up at push-button speed any AFL-CIO member's political profile labor wants. It can follow the younger members into the suburbs. It can locate all union members on a single block or country lane. It can tell who is registered, in what party, and who is not.

It can provide routes for Election Day drivers for short or long hauls to balloting places. It can print out a list of those who have contributed in the past when new cash is needed in some emergency.

It can find weak precincts and strong ones, so COPE district men can be switched from one neighborhood to another for "walking trips" block by block, address by address, union by union.

Thus the computer can tell COPE, right up to the last minute, where new money, men and precinct concentration are needed and they can be rushed in from other districts where the electronic precinct finder, sorter and analysis say don't worry.

And that's just the beginning. There still are over nine computerized months to go for Mr. Johnson, Meany and the cast of millions.

Big Things From Patterson

Recent moves by the energetic leadership of Patterson Industries point to new horizons for the firm, a longtime part of the East Liverpool economic base.

The merger with Banner Industries puts the corporation in the public investment domain with listing on the American Stock Exchange, greatly enlarging its capital resources and opening the door for future growth and financing.

The acquisition of the Dubie-Clark Co., Inc., of Toccoa, Ga., not only furthers the immediate diversification program of the firm, but broadens the potential for more new product lines.

Willam P. Barker, president of Patterson and head of the new parent firm of Banner, reports Dubie-Clark, a 15-year-old company which employs 175, specializes in aluminum shipping containers for torpedoes, missiles, bombs and other such items — 95 per cent of its output is under government contract.

Patterson is interested in phasing into other lines for the firm, located in the textile and pulp and paper area of Georgia so it will not be so dependent on defense work.

Barker, along with Richard Heddleston, veteran Patterson executive and vice president of the parent firm, and their staffs are putting Patterson and its broad operations into high gear with a display of initiative and imagination that promises to reap real rewards for the company, its employes and this community.

Possibility Of A Wider War

While the gloomy prospects for peace in Vietnam turn a shade darker, the possibility of even more fighting involving American forces looms larger on the Southeast Asia horizon.

Reports from Laos indicate North Vietnam-controlled insurgency is making progress. Reds captured a key government outpost north of the capital city Luang Prabang last week. Crumbling government resistance now has exposed the capital city to Communist attack.

With U.S. helicopters ferrying Laotian troops already, government officials may request additional American help at any moment.

Cambodia is charging the United States and South Vietnam with violating its borders and killing three Cambodian soldiers. Even though the "evidence" cited by Cambodian officials pointing to American involvement could easily have been planted, the fact an incident has been stirred up reflects growing anti-American sentiment in the country.

Over the weekend there was a brazen attempt by North Koreans to break into the South Korean presidential palace and assassinate high government officials.

It was the first major incident inside Seoul since the armistice of 1953.

The situation is not as acute in Thailand but there definitely is fighting between Thais and Communist forces. The American base in Thailand would make it awkward for the United States to refuse a Thai request for help.

Activity on the wide range of fronts has been stepped up as the tempo has quckened in Vietnam since the first of the year. A pattern seems to have been established.

The evacuation of the Khe San by U.S. and Sout Vitnamese troops under pressure from North Vietnam forces could be the beginning of something big for the Reds.

Their victories have been few and far between but just one like Khe Sanh could be the starting point for a concerted offensive. It may be limited to South Vietnam but it more likely will include Laos and Thailand — and possibly a renewal of hostilities in Korea in hopes of involving China.

There is a cry for peace around the world but the heavy betting is on more bloodshed.

Board Discusses Disturbances At Athletic Events

Concerned over recent outbreaks at sports events, the East Liverpool Board of Education Monday night discussed ways of avoiding possible disturbances in the future at basketball and football games.

Tom Rodfong, board member, commented during a general discussion that he had received numerous complaints from individuals about the "bad name" and reputation East Liverpool schools have seemed to acquire because of fights at games.

"Something should be done fast" to correct the image, he said, although it doesn't seem to be the fault of the city teams most of the time.

BOARD MEMBERS suggested Clifford Lynch, high school principal, or Supt. Paul Blair speak to the coaches and team members, impressing on the youths that they should "take it," referring to abuse, rather than losing their tempers.

Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini said he believes it is not an act of cowardice to back down from a public display of temper.

Pointing to a recent disturbance, he said the worst phase was not the two players immediately involved that caused most of the difficulty, but the others who attempted to enter into the disturbance.

Pelini said the presence of additional police and members of the faculty near the playing area seems to quell trouble in most cases.

Postmaster Samuel Brown, president, suggested Rodfong present the problem at a meeting of the Athletic Board. It also was suggested that game officials speak to members of both teams before the games.

IN OTHER business, Brown named standing committees for the coming year. They follow, with chairmen listed first:

Harry McConville and Rodfong, finance; Mrs. Nessie Dunlop and George Ward, buildings; Ward and Rodfong, public relations; Rodfong and McConville, non - certificated employe relations; Mrs. Dunlop and Ward, certificated employees; Rodfong and Ward, transportation, and Mrs. Dunlop and all other board members, insurance.

Brown said all members should strive to attend all meetings concerning employes.

Rentals approved by the board included the Kent State Academic Center, Memorial Auditorium, Jan. 27, Feb. 9 and Feb. 23, for branch basketball games custodial fees; East Liverpool Quota Club, Westgate Auditorium, March 22, for an illustrated lecture, $75; East Liverpool Lions Club, Westgate Auditorium, March 28, and March 30 for an annual Minstrel, for rehearsal, $30, for performance, $75 and custodial fees, and American Legion Post 374, East Junior High gymnasium, June 8, for 10th District meeting from approximately 8 a. m. to 4 p.m., $37.50 and custodial fees.

IN OTHER action, the board accepted the resignation of Miss Sandra Owen, English instructor at East Junior High School. It becomes effective Jan. 26, the termination of the semester. Miss Owen is moving to Rochester, N. Y. Named as her replacement was Mrs. Jo Ann Capehart.

John Beatty was appointed a custodian. He has been serving as a substitute, Blair said he has done an "outstanding job." He is covered by Civil Service.

The Metropolitan Insurance Co.'s East Liverpool office was designated the official account representative for Tax Sheltered Annuities for all employes of the school system. Blair said about 20 have requested the service. Employes have until March to decide whether or not they want to participate. It will be opened again at the beginning of the new school term from September until November. Payroll deductions for those choosing to begin the service now can begin as early as February.

An annual Service Fund, which finances the expenses of board members attending meetings and out-of-town events was approved. It is determined by the number of students enrolled in the system (5,612) at 20 cents per student, Blair stated.

Formal approval was received to enable procedure with a request by the Ohio Department of Education for approval of vocational education units in the high school for the next term.

Health and attendance office reports were submitted by Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, and Harold West, attendance officer.

THE FINANCIAL report showed the General Fund, $4,162; bond retirement, $17,243; lunch room $8,354; improvement fund No. 1, $3,000; improvement fund No. 2, $63,991; MDTA, $244; night schools, $186; uniform supplies, none; repair and maintenance, $51,636; federal funds, $14,325; and project 491, $584,823.

Mrs. Dunlop asked if potential drop - outs, over 16 years of age, are being told about training school in Youngstown which works under a Federal program. Pelini said he would check into the matter with the Dean of Women, Mrs. Conners, and Dean of Men, Bert Dawson. It was noted that two local students have attended the school in the past six months.

Pelini thanked the East Liverpool Junior Women's Club for working with the school system in a presentation Friday by Mrs. Lois Venham at Westgate School. Mrs. Venham, an adolescent specialist from the Ohio Department of Public Health, discussed "Sex Education." Mrs. Vicki Lane is club president. Miss Kathryn Liebschner, absent because of illness, will write a letter of thanks to the group.

Jackman Vodrey, assistant city solicitor, was congratulated on his Jaycee Distinguished Service Award received during "Bosses Night" Jan. 17.

Pelini served as secretary. Supt. Blair offered prayer. All members were present.

The board meets the first and third Mondays of each month at 8 p.m. in the superintendent's office at the high school.

Firemen Confer On Improvement Of Techniques

Past "runs" were discussed in an effort to help improve firefighting techniques in the future when nine members of the Calcutta Volunteer Fire Department met Monday night at the hall.

Floor markings were repainted, equipment was cleaned and a new door for the fire truck doorway, a door lift and a scatter beam red signal light for the pumper truck were ordered.

Norman Neal, who presided, reminded of the Tri - State Firemen's meeting at Liverpool Township East in Dixonville Thursday at 8 p. m.

David Hall was enrolled as a full - time member of the department after completion of his probationary period.

Six firemen answered a call to a car fire Sunday night at 7:30 at St. Clair Ave. and the old McIntosh Rd. Extensive electrical damage was done to the car. The blaze was out on arrival, firemen said.

Man Kills Himself While Family Watches

CLEVELAND (AP)— While members of his family watched Elmer Gresson, 65, shot himself to death, apparently accidentally, in his West Side home Monday night.

Police said Gresson was cleaning his .22 caliber rifle in the living room of his home when the gun discharged. The bullet hit him in the right temple.

Bus Terminal Agent Sought

Possible discontinuance of bus express package service to East Liverpool was announced today by the Greyhound Lines at Pittsburgh, which is seeking an agent in the city.

The bus firm said Gerald Barcus, currently operating the agency at the terminal, has announced he no longer will serve as agent after Jan. 31.

Four bus lines have 16 buses daily utilizing the terminal. Greyhound has four buses operating each day, according to James Swingos of Pittsburgh, district marketing supervisor.

In the event an agent is not obtained by the end of the month, passengers may obtain tickets from the drivers on the buses. However, packages will be delivered to the Beaver Valley Motor Coach Co. at New Brighton, since there will be no place to leave them in East Liverpool.

Swingos said anyone interested in becoming an agent may notify him at the district office at 11th and Liberty Aves.

All buses are scheduled to continue use of the terminal, Swingos added. The other firms include Ohio Valley Charter Service, Beaver Valley Motor Coach and Trailways.

KDKA Names King As General Manager

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. has announced appointment of James M. King as general manager of KDKA-TV.

King, 38, executive vice president of Television Advertising Representatives Inc., replaces Paul G. O'Friel who resigned last week effective Jan. 31.

Webber Receives Oath As Lisbon Councilman

LISBON — Mayor Clyde B. Pike administered the oath of office Monday night to Councilman Charles R. Webber, named Jan. 8 to complete the unexpired term of Franklin R. Rudibaugh, resigned.

Webber and Ray Beers, appointed to take Pike's place on Council, were designated last night to meet with the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs to work on an ordinance authorizing the expenditure of funds.

Clyde M. Wilson, chairman of the trustees, said the board is under state health department orders to upgrade the sewage disposal plant.

The cost of engineering for the improvements will be about $6,000, according to a proposal submitted by Stillson and Associates of Columbus — the firm that engineered the disposal plant and interceptor sewer system about 15 years ago.

WILSON said the trustees have the funds, but need council's authorization to proceed. He said the state is demanding the addition of a chlorinization system at once and a secondary treatment setup by Dec. 31, 1972. In addition, the whole system must be surveyed to determine if it can accommodate the proposed addition of residential areas north, east and south of Lisbon.

Representatives of various insurance companies attended regarding group health and accident insurance for village employes, a proposal made two weeks ago by Street Commissioner Richard Roberts.

William Robinson, Council's chairman for the project, was absent. Bill Mattix, council president, said Council and the employes must get together first and decide what coverage they desire and how much, if any, of the cost they will bear.

William Hiscox, supervisor of the Sheltered Workshop for the retarded at the corner of S. Market and E. Washington Sts., asked for school bus loading space on Washington St. at the rear of the building—from Old Stone House alley west for two parking spaces.

He told Council buses now stop at the front of the building and block traffic on S. Market (Route 164). Council granted the request and will have the school bus loading area marked. Hiscox emphasized the space asked is not in front of the Old Stone House — The Lisbon Historical Society's museum — but farther west along the workshop building.

WEBBER'S motion to ban overnight parking on Beaver St. and Mattix's amendment to ban overnight parking on all streets in Lisbon were tabled after discussion. The mayor asked the street committee to present recommendations at the next meeting Feb. 12.

Also tabled pending a report of the finance committee was a proposal by Councilman Fayson Miller, chairman of the police committee, to raise the salary of Police Chief Leon T. Zahrndt from $425 to $440 a month.

Miller said this would make the chief's salary comparable to the $450 drawn by the street commissioner. The police base pay is based on a 40-hour week, while the street crew has a 44-hour schedule.

Clerk - Treasurer John Ebert reminded Council the 3-mill operating levy will expire this year. It produces $18,000 annually.

Council granted Boy Scout Troop 92 of the First Methodist Church to set up a tent camp on Fountain Square the weekend preceding Boy Scout Sunday Feb. 11. Scoutmaster Dean Senanefes explained that the boys will conduct demonstrations Saturday and camp out overnight.

The street commissioner attended with his workmen, Lester Moore and Robert Fatherly, to ask Council about complaints regarding his work. Mayor Pike asked the street committee to meet with the crew and talk over the problems.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Frances Dade Van Every, 70, movie actress in the early 1930s, died Sunday. Her roles included the lead opposite Ronald Coleman in "Raffles."

Farm Bureau Begins Drive

LISBON — The Columbiana County Farm Bureau Federation launched its annual membership campaign Monday night at the Mt. Nebo Grange Hall. The goal is 670 member families.

Galen Greenisen of Salem, growth chairman, announced 548 families are enrolled, leaving workers 122 to sign by Friday.

A victory dinner will be served Friday at 8 p. m. at Mt. Nebo to the workers. Teams comprised of canvassers in the eastern and western halves of the county will be recognized.

Remarks were given by G. V. Weinstock, district manager of the Nationwide Insurance Co.; Gene Courtney, manager of the Farm Bureau's Landmark Store, and Glenn Pirtle, the Farm Bureau's northeastern district supervisor.

Greenisen and Dawson Irey of Lisbon RD 3, president, presented a skit demonstrating how to sign up members. Approximately 40 workers attended.

Fire Kills Blind Man

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin killed a blind 68-year-old man at his home in Randolph Township Monday. Township firemen said the victim, Frank Moledor, was found in the kitchen of the Home. The fire apparently started in the kitchen.

Joint Investigation Sought

Fear Of Reprisal Cited In Bridge Probe Refusal

CHARLESTON (AP) — Fear of administration reprisal has been cited as one reason why the legislature would not approve a joint House-Senate committee to investigate the Silver Bridge collapse.

"I am still trying to get support for a joint investigation," House Minority Leader Brereton Jones, R-Mason, said Monday.

"But the leadership of the House emphatically said they don't want to get involved in it," Jone added.

The young minority leader first proposed the idea to Gov. Hulett C. Smith for inclusion in his legislative call. But Smith refused, Jones stated.

Jones is now seeking support from House Democrats before proposing a resolution to establish a joint investigating committee.

He envisions a bipartisan committee with subpoena powers to look into the collapse. The committee also would review the State Road Commission's procedures and methods of inspecting state bridges.

"There's a very strong possibility the bridge fell because of lack of maintenance,' Jones added. He has spent considerable time investigating the collapse.

One informed source explained that many Democrats would vote against creation of an investigating committee because of fear "the administration won't look favorably on them in the primary."

"This is more important than politics,' argued Jones, who is a resident of Point Pleasant. He knew many of the 39 persons who perished in the Dec. 15 tragedy. Seven persons are still missing.

"Unquestionably, I'm emotionally involved," he admitted. "But I have yet to find one logical reason for not investigating the collapse and guaranteeing hat it won't happen again."

Some critics of the idea claim that it would be superflous because a federal panel already is conducting an investigation.

Seek Mandate To Combat Inflation

Ruling Danish Socialists Face Big Elections Test

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Seeking a mandate to combat inflation and hold down Denmark's soaring cost of living, Premier Jens Otto Krag's ruling Socialists faced their strongest challenge in more than a decade in national elections today.

Krag called the third national election since September 1967, after opposition parties combined to defeat the government 92-85 on a bill to freeze cost-of-living wage increases that now are automatic.

Consumer prices have risen more than 40 per cent since 1961, and last year the nation's cost of living rose 6.3 per cent. The financial horizon grew grayer when Denmark was forced to devalue the kroner after the British pound dropped. Much of Denmark's foreign trade is with Britain.

"If it had not been for devaluation of the pound," Krag declared, "this would not have happened in Denmark."

Krag's Social Democrats were expected to remain the largest party in the 179-seat Folketing (parliament), but political observers seriously doubted that Krag could muster enough support from other parties to assemble a majority in parliament. The Social Democrats had 69 seats in the last parliament and relied chiefly on support from the 14 members of the Peoples Socialist party, with occasional support from the Radical Liberals.

A record 90 per cent turnout of Denmark's 3.3 million eligible voters was predicted.

Krag, 53, has been Denmark's premier since September 1962, heading a party which has wielded power for 33 of the last 38 years—usually as the leader of a coalition.

This time the Radical Liberals were expected to make a strong showing and throw their support to the right. There were predictions of a new majority coalition made up of the Conservatives, the Moderate Liberals and the Radical Liberals.

Radical Liberal leader Hilmar Baunsgaard, 47, a former minister of trade, has been making a favorable impact on television audiences and is widely discussed as the front runner for the premiership.

The last parliament included, in addition to the 69 Social Democrats, 35 Moderate Liberals, 34 Conservatives, 14 Peoples Socialists, 13 Radical Liberals, 6 Left Socialists and 4 Liberal Center. The other four seats, representing Greenland and the Faroe Islands, are not at stake.

Duke Kahanamoku, 77, Hawaiian Figure, Taken

HONOLULU (AP) — Duke Kahanamoku, Olympic swimming champion, sheriff, movie actor and to many the symbol of Hawaii, is dead at 77.

Sports writers dubbed him "the Bronze Duke of Waikiki" for his prowess as a sprint swimmer in Olympic Games from 1912 to 1928.

"I started swimming before I can remember," Duke said once.

He retained his powerful physique—6-foot-1, 200 pounds—and with long, iron-gray hair, cut an impressive figure in later years as Honolulu's greeter.

Duke collapsed at the Waikiki Yacht Club Monday and died in Kaiser Hospital an hour later. Doctors blamed heart disease.

A close friend said Kahanamoku would receive the beach-boy funeral he wanted: At sea off Waikiki, beyond the reef.

Duke swam and rode the surfboard on Waikiki's waves until recent years when he was asked to taper off because of a heart condition. Since then, he had taken to sailing.

He won the Olympic swimming crowns in 1912 and 1920 and was a top contender in the sprints in the 1924 and 1928 games.

His records included the 50-yard freestyle, the 100-yard freestyle and the 100-meter freestyle.

Sports writers commented that the Duke's records might have been even better, except that he swam only fast enough to win.

Duke went to Hollywood in 1925 and stayed until 1933. He once said, "I played all kinds of chiefs—Polynesian chiefs, Aztec chiefs, Indian chiefs, all kinds of chiefs."

Among his roles were parts in "Wake of the Red Witch" and "Mr. Roberts."

One of the most spectacular stories about Duke's swimming exploits was a water rescue in 1925.

Duke was camping on the beach with a party of actors when the yacht Thelma capsized under the battering of heavy ground swells off Newport Beach, Calif.

Duke made three trips on his surfboard through giant waves to take part in the rescue. Seventeen lives were lost that day and 12 persons rescued. Duke saved eight.

When Duke returned to Hawaii, he was elected sheriff of the city-county of Honolulu in 1934, 1936 and 1938 as a Democrat and then continued to win the post as a Republican.

He held the post until it was abolished by the city charter in 1960 and remained as the city's official greeter.

Illustrious Name Saves Man Fine

Confronted today with a defendant named Icenhower, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff decided he deserved the same treatment as a Nixon and a Kennedy who also appeared in recent months — a suspended fine.

Ralph Icenhower of Thompson Pl., arrested Monday night at 11:30 at his home on an intoxication charge, drew a suspended fine of $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to an intoxication charge. Police said he was arrested by Patrolmen Charles Coen and W. F. Copestick, who responded to a complaint of a domestic disturbance.

"I've had a Kennedy and a Nixon and now here's an Icenhower," the judge said. "I will treat you the same as the other two — fine suspended." Despite the difference in spelling, the defendant's name usually is pronounced the same as the former President's.

New Bids Due For Span Job At Salineville

LISBON — Columbiana County will have to readvertise for bids for construction of a new bridge over Nancy Run on E. Main St., Salineville.

Two contractors submitted proposals Monday, but commissioners rejected them because neither was accompanied by a contractor's certificate of qualification issued by the Ohio Highway Department.

Krause Construction Co. of Canfield bid $30,546 and Earl H. Newell & Sons of Columbiana, $33,004.

The Nancy Run Bridge, just a few feet east of the point where Route 30 leaves Main St., will have precast, box-type concrete beams — the first use of this construction in the county, according to John Ursu, county engineer.

Commissioners yesterday viewed Cherry Fork Rd. (also known as Sandbank Rd.) which runs west from Route 344 at Valley Golf Club west of Columbiana and joins north - south Beeson Mill Rd. one mile west of the clubhouse.

The highway department has requested the commissioners to vacate the portion of Cherry Fork which will be intersected by Route 11 — the Lake Erie-to-Ohio River Freeway.

A public hearing on the requested vacation is scheduled for 2 p. m. Monday in the commissioners' office.

A hearing will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday in the office over the proposed widening and improvement of County Rd. 401 (Homeworth - Alliance Rd.) and Township Rd. 804 (Bowman Rd.).

The commissioners announced the Courthouse will be closed Monday, Feb. 12, for Lincoln's Birthday, and Thursday, Feb. 22, for Washington's Birthday. Since the holidays fall on the commissioners' meeting days, the board will conduct business on Feb. 13 and 23.

Cusick is accused of unintentionally causing the deaths of the three men in the other car. The affidavits allege he drove recklessly, left of center and while under the influence of alcohol. He is free under bond.

Another traffic manslaughter defendant scheduled to make bond today is Lucy A. Bush, 32, of 290 N. Lundy Ave., Salem, charged in the death of Edward John Bailey, 66, of 438 Franklin Ave., Salem.

The accident occurred Nov. 18 on E. Pershing, 100 feet east of S. Lincoln Ave. The victim was a passenger in his 1964 sedan which ran up a telephone pole guy wire and flipped over.

Sheriff's deputies took eight men into custody Monday on secret indictments. They are to be brought into court for the setting of bond.

But Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, said it appeared from the administration witnesses' testimony that it would be "business as usual, and I don't think business as usual supports a tax increase."

Byrnes said he has found "no sense of urgency or real restraint" on the administration's part regarding significant cuts in spending.

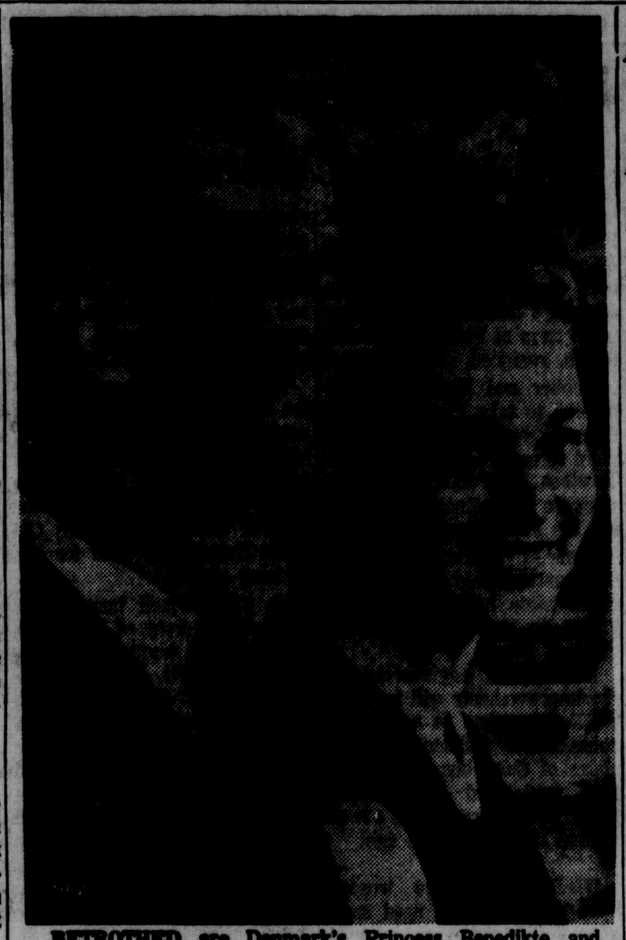

Fowler replied the administration has taken budget-cutting measures which are showing up in savings and added more cuts are planned.

"The reductions are there, concrete and being felt," Fowler said.

County's Draft Board Gets February Quota

LISBON — Columbiana County Selective Service Board 16 has received its February quotas — 32 men for induction and 53 for physical examinations Feb. 13.

Mrs. Elane Griffith, board clerk, said special buses will take both groups to the Cleveland induction center. The buses will leave before daylight from FVW Post 4111 on E. Lincoln Way.

sion's A-to-E scale of rating how secure an area is. A, B or C hamlets are considered secure, D and E contested.

Associated Press correspondent Robert D. Ohman reported from the Khe Sanh base that U. S. Marine commanders feared the small allied force in the town of Khe Sanh could not hold out against another North Vietnamese attack. That apparently was also the reason for the withdrawal from Huong Hoa.

The U.S. Command said it had received no report of any significant action at Khe Sanh today, but the Marine observation post on Hill 861, one of three strategic peaks overlooking the northwest approaches to South Vietnam, had come under light sporadic shelling.

Meanwhile, massive U. S. air power kept up the pressure on North Vietnamese buildup areas threatening the valley. More than 200 American bombers, including B52 strategic bombers, dropped an estimated 1,000 tons of explosives on suspected Communist gun positions, troop concentrations and infiltration routes in the last 24 hours.

Some of the targets were only a mile from the Laotian border, a staging area for the North Vietnamese 325C Division whose units have been shelling and attacking allied positions in the valley.

The air strikes cost another American plane, the second in two days in support of Khe Sanh and the 226th downed in combat in South Vietnam. A Marine F4 Phantom dive-bombing Communist positions was brought down Monday by ground fire, but the two crewmen parachuted and were quickly rescued with only minor injuries.

The North Vietnamese have also killed 20 Marines and wounded 84 in attacks since Saturday around Khe Sanh, destroyed three helicopters and damaged several others. But the U.S. Command says at least 146 of the enemy have been killed.

Meanwhile, at the eastern end of the demilitarized zone near the allied anchor at Gio Linh, a South Vietnamese task force sweeping along the coast reported killing 83 North Vietnamese troops and capturing four prisoner in a one-hour fight. Government casualties were reported light.

Transfer of a brigade of the 1st Air Cavalry Division to the Hue-Phu Bai area boosts allied strength to about 50,000 men—80 per cent of them Americans—in South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces, Quang Tri and Thua Thien.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam, has said "there are indications" North Vietnam feels that Quang Tri and Thua Thine "are a natural extension of his southern provinces." He had sent the 5th Marine Regiment into the northern sector two weeks ago.

U.S. intelligence sources estimate as many as 40,000 North Vietnamese troops are in Quang Tri, Thua Thien and the demilitarized zone just to the north.

Marines guarding South Vietnam's northern frontier have been expecting a major Red attack before the cease-fire for Tet, the lunar new year Jan. 30, figuring the Communists would use the truce period to regroup for a second wave of assaults.

Although the air cavalry brigade moved to positions about 50 miles south of the DMZ, with its large fleet of helicopters it could move quickly into almost any part of the northern sector.

The shift of the air cavalry men freed a Marine battalion to reinforce the Khe Sanh combat base, threatened by the 12,000-man North Vietnamese 325C Division. The Marines now have four battalions, or about 5,000 men, at Khe Sanh, seven miles east of the Laotian border and 16 miles south of the DMZ.

Westmoreland, in an interview with the National Broadcasting Co., said he believed the enemy's 325C Division had "been preparing the battlefield. By this, I mean building underground shelters, cave dugouts, positions for mortars and perhaps even artillery, moving in supplies of ammunition and rice . . . a preliminary step to an offensive."

ed at improving bridge safety in Ohio in the wake of the Ohio River Silver Bridge tragedy was prepared for introduction in the Ohio Legislature today.

Rep. Roger Tracy Jr. R-60 Columbus and members of his special subcommittee on bridges drew up the measure after a brief but exhaustive study and a poll of county engineers in Ohio.

Tracy said the subcommittee's efforts resulted in findings that Ohio's bridge safety standards "are as outdated and unobserved as the many bridges throughout the state."

In addition to the bill, Tracy said the subcommittee would recommend that consideration be given to earmarking some of a proposed $560 million highway bond issue for bridge repair and replacement.

He mentioned no specific figure but he said the subcommittee heard testimony indicating $130 million is needed to repair or replace bridges under state jurisdiction now marked for limited load limits.

Trucker Forfeits $57 In Overload On Bridge

A Butler County trucker forfeited a $57.50 appearance bond today in Municipal Court on a charge he drove across the Chester Bridge Jan. 12 with a load that was 37,000 pounds over the temporary 15-ton limit on the span.

Orville P. Witherow of Monroe was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol, which was using portable scales at the Ohio end of the bridge. The patrol reported Witherow's rig had a gross weight of 67,000 pounds, including the 40,000 pounds of cargo and the 27,000 pounds of the tractor - trailer.

Witherow was one of three truckers cited by the patrol shortly after the temporary load limit was instituted pending inspection and repair of the span. Another trucker was fined and a third forfeited a bond.

Sims Will Attend State Meeting

Robert Sims, a St. Clair Township trustee, will attend a meeting of the Ohio State Trustees and Clerk Association in Columbus Wednesday through Saturday, it was announced during a meeting of the trustees Monday night.

The trustees authorized the purchase of several new parts for the slag spreader. A slag request for the Annesley Rd. was received.

The trustees have for sale a used tractor-loader and are not planning to purchase one as reported earlier. Bids will be accepted for sale of the machine until Feb. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

The next meeting will be Monday at the hall.

Beaver Group Will Meet On Bridge Plan

Beaver County commissioners are to meet Wednesday at 10 a. m. in Harrisburg with Pennsylvania Secretary of Highways Robert Bartlett.

They will discuss a proposal for the state to take over the operation of the East Rochester-Monaca toll bridge.

The meeting was arranged by Sen. Ernest P. Kline.

The commissioners were in Washington today attending a legislative meeting of the National Association of County Officials. The session opened Monday.

Also attending is James Camp, county comptroller. Robert Zapsic, county planning director, attended today's session to gather information on federal programs.

2 Are Fined In Fraud Case

Two Columbiana County men involved in an alleged attempt to defraud an insurance company were fined and given suspended jail sentences in hearings Monday before Judge D. Barry Dickson in East Division Court at East Palestine.

Victor Hauenstein of 34 McCullough St., East Palestine, was fined $100 and costs and given a three - day suspended sentence on a charge of receiving stolen property and Charles Green Jr. of 155 N. Elm St., Columbiana, was fined $50 and costs and given a 60-day suspended sentence for falsely reporting a stolen vehicle.

The pair was placed on three-year probation. Columbiana Police Chief William McGuckin said Green notified the department his car was stolen Nov. 9. A later investigation showed he parked the car and had Hauenstein take parts from it. Green turned the loss into his insurance company.

A third youth, James Allen Dickey of Columbiana, apparently was involved, but charges against him were dismissed because of a legal error.

Hauenstein earlier had pleaded innocent, but changed his plea to guilty yesterday.

In other hearings, James E. Davis of 415 Elm St., East Liverpool, was fined $5 and costs for driving a car without a muffler and Frank D. Stealy of Lisbon RD 5 was fined $35 and costs for failure to yield half the road.

The court dismissed a charge "of neglect to provide for a pregnant woman" filed against Thurman Mayfield of the Salineville area.

Japanese Drug Cured Cancer Report Claims

TOKYO (AP) — Officials of a pharmaceutical company reported today that a Japanese research team has developed a drug which cured a cancer in the roof of a man's mouth and achieved "encouraging" results in clinical tests on other cancer patients at the Kanazawa University Hospital.

In some cases, officials of the Chugai Pharmaceutical Co. said, the drug has produced a "drastic" improvement and in others "slow" results.

The research team is headed by Prof. Hajime Okamoto, director of the department of pharmacology at Kanazawa University. The team has worked in collaboration with the Chugai company, which said it has marketing rights on the new drug.

Since Saturday, Chugai's stock has climbed from 23.3 cents to 31.4 cents on the Tokyo Stock Exchange because of reports of the new drug.

Before using the drug on humans, the company said, Prof. Okamoto conducted extensive tests with animals, mostly rats and mice which had been given cancer.

"There was no exception," one executive said. "All the tests were effective.

Strike In 7th Month

Some In Congress Press LBJ On Copper Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress members from the nation's copper-producing states urge President Johnson to use muscle—with some favoring the Taft-Hartley Act—to end the 6½-month-old copper strike that has idled 60,000 workers.

Under Taft-Hartley, the President may seek a court injunction temporarily halting the strike for 80 days. If the court orders the cooling off period, a presidential fact-finding panel is created to study the dispute and offer recommendations for its solution.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery today that the strike is as much a national emergency as past situations in which Taft-Hartley was invoked.

But Rep. Arnold Olsen, D-Mont., in whose district lie the nation's richest copper mines, said the Taft-Hartley Act "can't be invoked because there is no shortage of copper endangering the nation."

Olsen said copper stockpiles "are still big" and that domestic companies aren't hurting yet. However, he said, the President should "use all the pressure his office can bear" to end the shutdown.

His remarks were prepared for House delivery.

Olsen said he favored a presidential fact-finding board "and he ought to use a little muscle on management and labor."

Olsen criticized the companies as "enjoying tremendous profits with the inflated price of copper" while employes suffer because of no work.

"I remember when (President John F.) Kennedy got the steel leaders out of bed in the night because of a $2 a ton increase in steel, but this increase in the price of copper is $500 a ton," Olsen said.

Sen. Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., in urging Monday that Johnson invoke the Taft-Hartley Act, said 10,000 workers are idle in his state and "it will take most of them 30 years or more to make up the wages lost so far."

Issues in the strike vary since a number of companies and unions are involved. But Kennecott Copper Corp., largest domestic producer, claims the unions are asking for more than $1 an hour increased wages and benefits. The company says it has offered a 50.6-cent package.

Outstanding Firm Selected In Junior Achievement Here

WEBCO has been named Junior Achievement company of the month.

Jerry Winstead, program manager for J.A., said the company received the citation "for its efficiency in conducting its business organization."

The award, he explained, is based on a point system based on business operation. The company manufactures Christmas wreaths and reported selling over $100 worth of merchandise during December. The company now is setting up operations to produce personalized match books. Production is scheduled to begin Wednesday.

WEBCO received 225 points, the second highest in the two-year period of J.A. here. The company now will be entered in the regional "company of the month" contest. Advisers are Al Fricano, Richard Silverthorn and Mike Cook. JAPCO placed second and PIJA third.

Profit rates for J.A. companies for the four months ending Jan. 31 were 5 per cent lower than for the same period last year.

Winstead said the semi-annual reports of the six teen-age-operated concerns show the average profit is $68, amounting to 30 cents a share. Last year company profit was $105, or 94 cents a share.

THE FIGURES represent profit before taxes. Although the companies pay no taxes because of their educational nature, they set aside an equivalent amount to make their work coincide as nearly to business standards as possible. The taxes paid are used for awards and scholarships to outstanding members of the J.A. organization here.

December sales of the six companies showed an increase over November and indicate nearly all the firms will show a profit in May, the end of their fiscal year.

Average gross sales last month were $150, compared with $183 in November.

John Hales of East Liverpool High School has become the first this year entitled to join the $100 sales club for J.A. He is the third to achieve the honor in the two years JA. has been operating. John is a member of WSCC radio company. It is the second year for Hales in the J.A program. He is a senior.

Educational TV

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's public school teachers' use of educational television during the 1966-67 school year was more than twice the national average of use, according to a report from the State Department of Education. The report says 44 per cent of the Hawaii teachers used educational television in their instructional program, compared with a national average of 19 per cent.

Joint Investigation Sought

Fear Of Reprisal Cited In Bridge Probe Refusal

CHARLESTON (AP) — Fear of administration reprisal has been cited as one reason why the legislature would not approve a joint House-Senate committee to investigate the Silver Bridge collapse.

"I am still trying to get support for a joint investigation," House Minority Leader Brereton Jones, R-Mason, said Monday.

"But the leadership of the House emphatically said they don't want to get involved in it," Jone added.

The young minority leader first proposed the idea to Gov. Hulett C. Smith for inclusion in his legislative call. But Smith refused, Jones stated.

Jones is now seeking support from House Democrats before proposing a resolution to establish a joint investigating committee.

He envisions a bipartisan committee with subpoena powers to look into the collapse. The committee also would review the State Road Commission's procedures and methods of inspecting state bridges.

"There's a very strong possibility the bridge fell because of lack of maintenance,' Jones added. He has spent considerable time investigating the collapse.

One informed source explained that many Democrats would vote against creation of an investigating committee because of fear "the administration won't look favorably on them in the primary."

"This is more important than politics,' argued Jones, who is a resident of Point Pleasant. He knew many of the 39 persons who perished in the Dec. 15 tragedy. Seven persons are still missing.

"Unquestionably, I'm emotionally involved," he admitted. "But I have yet to find one logical reason for not investigating the collapse and guaranteeing hat it won't happen again."

Some critics of the idea claim that it would be superflous because a federal panel already is conducting an investigation.

grams for hospitals, medical schools and other health facilities as well as the aid program for schools in areas impacted with government workers.

The nuclear program is being trimmed in reductions for nuclear excavation and controlled thermonuclear fission experiments, Schultze said.

But Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, said it appeared from the administration witnesses' testimony that it would be "business as usual, and I don't think business as usual supports a tax increase."

Byrnes said he has found "no sense of urgency or real restraint" on the administration's part regarding significant cuts in spending.

Fowler replied the administration has taken budget-cutting meaures which are showing up in savings and added more cuts are planned.

"The reductions are there, concrete and being felt," Fowler said.

County's Draft Board Gets February Quota

LISBON — Columbiana County Selective Service Board 16 has received its February quotas — 32 men for induction and 53 for physical examinations Feb. 13.

Mrs. Elane Griffith, board clerk, said special buses will take both groups to the Cleveland induction center. The buses will leave before daylight from FVW Post 4111 on E. Lincoln Way.

men freed a Marine battalion to reinforce the Khe Sanh combat base, threatened by the 12,000-man North Vietnamese 325C Division. The Marines now have four battalions, or about 5,000 men, at Khe Sanh, seven miles east of the Laotian border and 16 miles south of the DMZ.

Westmoreland, in an interview with the National Broadcasting Co., said he believed the enemy's 325C Division had "been preparing the battlefield. By this, I mean building underground shelters, cave dugouts, positions for mortars and perhaps even artillery, moving in supplies of ammunition and rice . . . a preliminary step to an offensive."

sion's A-to-E scale of rating how secure an area is. A, B or C hamlets are considered secure, D and E contested.

Associated Press correspondent Robert D. Ohman reported from the Khe Sanh base that U. S. Marine commanders feared the small allied force in the town of Khe Sanh could not hold out against another North Vietnamese attack. That apparently was also the reason for the withdrawal from Huong Hoa.

The U.S. Command said it had received no report of any significant action at Khe Sanh today, but the Marine observation post on Hill 861, one of three strategic peaks overlooking the northwest approaches to South Vietnam, had come under light sporadic shelling.

Meanwhile, massive U. S. air power kept up the pressure on North Vietnamese buildup areas threatening the valley. More than 200 American bombers, including B52 strategic bombers, dropped an estimated 1,000 tons of explosives on suspected Communist gun positions, troop concentrations and infiltration routes in the last 24 hours.

Some of the targets were only a mile from the Laotian border, a staging area for the North Vietnamese 325C Division whose units have been shelling and attacking allied positions in the valley.

The air strikes cost another American plane, the second in two days in support of Khe Sanh and the 226th downed in combat in South Vietnam. A Marine F4 Phantom dive-bombing Communist positions was brought down Monday by ground fire, but the two crewmen parachuted and were quickly rescued with only minor injuries.

The North Vietnamese have also killed 20 Marines and wounded 84 in attacks since Saturday around Khe Sanh, destroyed three helicopters and damaged several others. But the U.S. Command says at least 146 of the enemy have been killed.

Meanwhile, at the eastern end of the demilitarized zone near the allied anchor at Gio Linh, a South Vietnamese task force sweeping along the coast reported killing 83 North Vietnamese troops and capturing four prisoner in a one-hour fight. Government casualties were reported light.

Transfer of a brigade of the 1st Air Cavalry Division to the Hue-Phu Bai area boosts allied strength to about 50,000 men—80 per cent of them Americans—in South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces, Quang Tri and Thua Thien.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam, has said "there are indications" North Vietnam feels that Quang Tri and Thua Thine "are a natural extension of his southern provinces." He had sent the 5th Marine Regiment into the northern sector two weeks ago.

U.S. intelligence sources estmate as many as 40,000 North Vietnamese troops are in Quang Tri, Thua Thien and the demilitarized zone just to the north.

Marines guarding South Vietnam's northern frontier have been expecting a major Red attack before the cease-fire for Tet, the lunar new year Jan. 30, figuring the Communists would use the truce period to regroup for a second wave of assaults.

Although the air cavalry brigade moved to positions about 50 miles south of the DMZ, with its large fleet of helicopters it could move quickly into almost any part of the northern sector.

Beaver Group Will Meet On Bridge Plan

Beaver County commissioners are to meet Wednesday at 10 a. m. in Harrisburg with Pennsylvania Secretary of Highways Robert Bartlett.

They will discuss a proposal for the state to take over the operation of the East Rochester-Monaca toll bridge.

The meeting was arranged by Sen. Ernest P. Kline.

The commissioners were in Washington today attending a legislative meeting of the National Association of County Officials. The session opened Monday.

Also attending is James Camp, county comptroller. Robert Zapsic, county planning director, attended today's session to gather information on federal programs.

2 Are Fined In Fraud Case

Two Columbiana County men involved in an alleged attempt to defraud an insurance company were fined and given suspended jail sentences in hearings Monday before Judge D. Barry Dickson in East Division Court at East Palestine.

Victor Hauenstein of 34 McCullough St., East Palestine, was fined $100 and costs and given a three - day suspended sentence on a charge of receiving stolen property and Charles Green Jr. of 155 N. Elm St., Columbiana, was fined $50 and costs and given a 60-day suspended sentence for falsely reporting a stolen vehicle.

The pair was placed on three-year probation. Columbiana Police Chief William McGuckin said Green notified the department his car was stolen Nov. 9. A later investigation showed he parked the car and had Hauenstein take parts from it. Green turned the loss into his insurance company.

A third youth, James Allen Dickey of Columbiana, apparently was involved, but charges against him were dismissed because of a legal error.

Hauenstein earlier had pleaded innocent, but changed his plea to guilty yesterday.

In other hearings, James E. Davis of 415 Elm St., East Liverpool, was fined $5 and costs for driving a car without a muffler and Frank D. Stealy of Lisbon RD 5 was fined $35 and costs for failure to yield half the road.

The court dismissed a charge "of neglect to provide for a pregnant woman" filed against Thurman Mayfield of the Salineville area.

Japanese Drug Cured Cancer Report Claims

TOKYO (AP) — Officials of a pharmaceutical company reported today that a Japanese research team has developed a drug which cured a cancer in the roof of a man's mouth and achieved "encouraging" results in clinical tests on other cancer patients at the Kanazawa University Hospital.

In some cases, officials of the Chugai Pharmaceutical Co. said, the drug has produced a "drastic" improvement and in others "slow" results.

The research team is headed by Prof. Hajime Okamoto, director of the department of pharmacology at Kanazawa University. The team has worked in collaboration with the Chugai company, which said it has marketing rights on the new drug.

Since Saturday, Chugai's stock has climbed from 23.3 cents to 31.4 cents on the Tokyo Stock Exchange because of reports of the new drug.

Before using the drug on humans, the company said, Prof. Okamoto conducted extensive tests with animals, mostly rats and mice which had been given cancer.

"There was no exception," one executive said. "All the tests were effective.

Trucker Forfeits $57 In Overload On Bridge

A Butler County trucker forfeited a $57.50 appearance bond today in Municipal Court on a charge he drove across the Chester Bridge Jan. 12 with a load that was 37,000 pounds over the temporary 15-ton limit on the span.

Orville P. Witherow of Monroe was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol, which was using portable scales at the Ohio end of the bridge. The patrol reported Witherow's rig had a gross weight of 67,000 pounds, including the 40,000 pounds of cargo and the 27,000 pounds of the tractor - trailer.

Witherow was one of three truckers cited by the patrol shortly after the temporary load limit was instituted pending inspection and repair of the span. Another trucker was fined and a third forfeited a bond.

Sims Will Attend State Meeting

Robert Sims, a St. Clair Township trustee, will attend a meeting of the Ohio State Trustees and Clerk Association in Columbus Wednesday through Saturday, it was announced during a meeting of the trustees Monday night.

The trustees authorized the purchase of several new parts for the slag spreader. A slag request for the Annesley Rd. was received.

The trustees have for sale a used tractor-loader and are not planning to purchase one as reported earlier. Bids will be accepted for sale of the machine until Feb. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

The next meeting will be Monday at the hall.

Strike In 7th Month

Some In Congress Press LBJ On Copper Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress members from the nation's copper-producing states urge President Johnson to use muscle—with some favoring the Taft-Hartley Act—to end the 6½-month-old copper strike that has idled 60,000 workers.

Under Taft-Hartley, the President may seek a court injunction temporarily halting the strike for 80 days. If the court orders the cooling off period, a presidential fact-finding panel is created to study the dispute and offer recommendations for its solution.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery today that the strike is as much a national emergency as past situations in which Taft-Hartley was invoked.

But Rep. Arnold Olsen, D-Mont., in whose district lie the nation's richest copper mines, said the Taft-Hartley Act "can't be invoked because there is no shortage of copper endangering the nation."

Olsen said copper stockpiles "are still big" and that domestic companies aren't hurting yet. However, he said, the President should "use all the pressure his office can bear" to end the shutdown.

His remarks were prepared for House delivery.

Olsen said he favored a presidential fact-finding board "and he ought to use a little muscle on management and labor."

Olsen criticized the companies as "enjoying tremendous profits with the inflated price of copper" while employes suffer because of no work.

"I remember when (President John F.) Kennedy got the steel leaders out of bed in the night because of a $2 a ton increase in steel, but this increase in the price of copper is $500 a ton," Olsen said.

Sen. Paul Fannin, R-Ariz., in urging Monday that Johnson invoke the Taft-Hartley Act, said 10,000 workers are idle in his state and "it will take most of them 30 years or more to make up the wages lost so far."

Issues in the strike vary since a number of companies and unions are involved. But Kennecott Copper Corp., largest domestic producer, claims the unions are asking for more than $1 an hour increased wages and benefits. The company says it has offered a 50.6-cent package.

Outstanding Firm Selected In Junior Achievement Here

WEBCO has been named Junior Achievement company of the month.

Jerry Winstead, program manager for J.A., said the company received the citation "for its efficiency in conducting its business organization."

The award, he explained, is based on a point system based on business operation. The company manufactures Christmas wreaths and reported selling over $100 worth of merchandise during December. The company now is setting up operations to produce personalized match books. Production is scheduled to begin Wednesday.

WEBCO received 225 points, the second highest in the two-year period of J.A. here. The company now will be entered in the regional "company of the month" contest. Advisers are Al Fricano, Richard Silverthorn and Mike Cook. JAPCO placed second and PIJA third.

Profit rates for J.A. companies for the four months ending Jan. 31 were 5 per cent lower than for the same period last year.

Winstead said the semi-annual reports of the six teen-age-operated concerns show the average profit is $68, amounting to 30 cents a share. Last year company profit was $105, or 94 cents a share.

THE FIGURES represent profit before taxes. Although the companies pay no taxes because of their educational nature, they set aside an equivalent amount to make their work coincide as nearly to business standards as possible. The taxes paid are used for awards and scholarships to outstanding members of the J.A. organization here.

December sales of the six companies showed an increase over November and indicate nearly all the firms will show a profit in May, the end of their fiscal year.

Average gross sales last month were $150, compared with $183 in November.

John Hales of East Liverpool High School has become the first this year entitled to join the $100 sales club for J.A. He is the third to achieve the honor in the two years JA. has been operating. John is a member of WSCC radio company. It is the second year for Hales in the J.A program. He is a senior.

Educational TV

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's public school teachers' use of educational television during the 1966-67 school year was more than twice the national average of use, according to a report from the State Department of Education. The report says 44 per cent of the Hawaii teachers used educational television in their instructional program, compared with a national average of 19 per cent.

billion-a-year program of aid to poor youngsters will not be reduced.

But funds for supplementary education centers, to be administered by the states this year for the first time, will be cut by 10 per cent, or $20 million. Officials noted, however, that amount still will have been increased greatly because of additional money that was authorized.

Federal impact aid—for school districts with federally connected students—will be reduced by about 5 per cent, or $20 million.

In addition to these major spending cuts, HEW since the middle of December has been awarding only a few construction grants each week in order to minimize the inflationary pressures.

Truck, Car Involved In Mishap At Lisbon

LISBON — Police said a 1966 panel truck operated by Charles Stiffler, 46, of Lisbon RD 4 and a 1958 sedan driven by David Cope, 18, of Lisbon RD 3 collided, with minor damage, at 11:30 a. m. Monday on Park Ave. on the south side of the Square.

Both vehicles were headed east, police said, and Stiffler pulled from a parked position at the curb and hit the right rear fender of the automobile. No one was cited.

Robert G. McCarthy, 26, of Willoughby, arrested yesterday for passing within 100 feet of an intersection, forfeited a $15 appearance bond in mayor's court.

Jury To Resume Deliberations In Bank Theft Case

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Deliberations were to resume this morning by a federal court jury deciding the fate of accused "Commuter Bandit" William E. Zeller.

The nine men and three women weighing eight bank holdup charges against the 52-year-old grocer deliberated for about eight hours Monday without reaching a verdict.

They got the case after two hours of summations by defense and government attornies and a 45-minute charge by Judge Joseph P. Willson.

The holdups with which Zeller was charged were among 16 dating back seven years which authorities believe were committed by the same man. They dubbed him the "Commuter Bandit" because of a police theory that he lived in the suburbs and came into town for a robbery when he was low on cash.

Some $80,000 was taken in the holdups for which Zeller is charged. He also was indicted for eight counts of jeopardizing the lives of bank employes.

Johnson Asks $2.1 Billion For Jobs Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to approve a $2.1-billion manpower program—the biggest ever—and to finance a special effort to find jobs for half a million of the hard core unemployed in the next three years.

In a special message, Johnson announced the formation of a National Alliance of Businessmen to work with the government in planning a joint attack on hard core unemployment.

The alliance will be headed by Henry Ford II, board chairman of the Ford Motor Company.

Johnson also disclosed that he is submitting to Congress an occupational safety and health bill aimed at strengthening safeguards against occupational hazards, even for those whose work does not involve them in interstate commerce.

The $2.1 billion price tag for all federal manpower programs would be available in the fiscal year starting July 1 and would represent an increase of $442 million, or about 25 per cent over the current level.

While pointing to declining unemployment and the creation of more than 5,000 new jobs every day during the past four years, the chief executive said that not every American enjoys the right to earn a living.

"We have always paid lip service to that right," he said, then called for new efforts to make theory a reality.

Wilson Talks With Soviet's Top Leaders

MOSCOW (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson met with the Soviet Union's top leader today for three hours—one hour longer than scheduled—and British spokesman said the talks were constructive.

Wilson and Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet Communist party general secretary, were said to have discussed world problems, but neither Soviet nor British spokesmen would say which ones.

An official Soviet announcement said: "There was a frank exchange of opinion on some topical international problems and also on questions pertaining to relations between the U.S.S.R. and Britain."

The Soviets usually use the term "frank" to indicate disagreement.

Communist China has the world's largest population.

Koppers Income Shows Increase

PITTSBURGH — Net income of Koppers Company, Inc. for 1967 was $13,972,000, a 16 per cent increase over the $12,046,000 earned in 1966.

Results for 1966 have been restated to reflect the merger of the Buffalo Slag Co., Inc. into Koppers in 1967 on a pooling of interest basis.

After payment of preferred stock dividends, earnings were equal to $2.70 per share of common stock outstanding, compared with $2.34 in 1966.

Koppers sales in 1967 were $448,148,000, against $442,618,000 in the previous year. Sales of units increased 7 per cent, to $341,682,000 from $319,429,000 in 1966.

The company's backlog at the end of 1967 was $223 million, compared with $246 million at the close of 1966.

The 1967 income figures include $727,000 resulting from a year-end reduction of federal income taxes realized from a net operating loss accumulated over several years by a company prior to its purchase by Koppers in 1965.

Education

billion-a-year program of aid to poor youngsters will not be reduced.

But funds for supplementary education centers, to be administered by the states this year for the first time, will be cut by 10 per cent, or $20 million. Officials noted, however, that amount still will have been increased greatly because of additional money that was authorized.

Federal impact aid—for school districts with federally connected students—will be reduced by about 5 per cent, or $20 million.

In addition to these major spending cuts, HEW since the middle of December has been awarding only a few construction grants each week in order to minimize the inflationary pressures.

2 Brothers Hurt As Car, Truck Collide

Two brothers were injured early today when a car in which they were riding collided with a township cinder truck on Shadyside Ave.

They are James A. Show of Center Rd. and Elwood Show of Lisbon RD 5.

James Show, a passenger, was listed as "fair" at City Hospital with a possible concussion and lacerations of the right eyelid and forehead. Elwood Show, dirver, was treated and released for contusions of the chest.

The Ohio Highway Patrol is continuing its investigation.

noted "day after day" the daylight policeman does only the "bank detail," and added he believes a man should begin work late in the afternoon, with a second man working through the night, thus leaving the daylight hours without permanent police patrol.

City Clerk Donald Hood, pointing out there were less fines last quarter than most, reported the city spent $500 more on police protection than any other time, since he took office.

Kincaid said while Chief Audley T. Campbell wants to work the daylight shift, "he can't have it any longer."

Then members agreed to hold the private meeting tonight, but declared the new schedule would not be made public so any potential thief would have no knowledge when the city is patrolling.

Truck, Car Involved In Mishap At Lisbon

The Midland Art and Book Club will meet Feb. 23 at the Midland First Baptist Church. A program will be held in observance of national Negro History Week. Mrs. Howard Brame will be program chairman.

The theme will be "One Hundred and Two Years of Progress."

Mrs. Blanche Clark, president, invites the public to attend the event, which will include a musical and literary program on the Negro's role in American history.

NAACP At Midland To Plan Observance

The Midland Branch of the NAACP will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. in the CIO Hall to complete plans for the observance of Negro History Week Feb. 11-17.

Mrs. Aaron T. Golding is president. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer last week issued a proclamation designating the observance.

He urged all civic, religious, recreational and education organizations to call attention to the Negro's role in American history.

He said the action would aid Negro youth in developing "self respect so necessary for good citizenship."

Plant Picket Killed In Fall Under Truck

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gilbert Hamilton, 38, a striking Formica plant worker, was fatally injured Monday when he fell beneath the wheels of a tractor-trailer truck at the Reading Road plant, police said.

Officers said witnesses told them Hamilton, a picket at the plant, fell from the moving vehicle after he had jumped onto the running board.

Novelist Claimed

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Olive Tilford Dargan, 99, poet, playwright, short-story writer and novelist, died Monday. The novel "Call Home the Heart," published in 1932, was the best known of her writings.

STYLES CHANGE and the passing of two centuries is evident in the dress of this miniskirted viewer admiring an 18th-century portrait at a London exhibition.

Archbishop Due To Preach In Catholic Pulpit

LONDON (AP) — More than 400 years of bitterness and suspicion are being officially buried tonight when the archbishop of Canterbury preaches from the foremost Roman Catholic pulpet in Britain.

Dr. Michael Ramsey, primate of the Church of England, goes to vast red-brick Westminster Cathedral by special invitation from John Cardinal Heenan, Roman Catholic archbishop of Westminster.

Priests of both churches have sometimes exchanged pulpits since Pope John XXIII launched the most powerful movement toward unity the Roman Church has ever known. The bishops on both sides held aloof until this week.

The 1968 worldwide week of prayer for Christian unity, sponsored by the World Council of Churches Jan. 18-25, is bringing them closer together.

The archbishop of Canterbury and Cardinal Heenan are old friends. The cardinal is a frequent dinner guest at Lambeth Palace and Dr. Ramsey goes to Archbishop's House at Westminster. The primate's appearance in a Roman Catholic pulpit sets the public sea on what they have long sought at a personal level.

Bazaar Planned Bv Church Group

Plans for a fall bazaar were discussed when the Glenmoor Presbyterian Church Ladies Aid met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Rhea Beaver.

Mrs. Marian Smith, president, read the 46th Psalm and an article, "What I Believe."

Mrs. Thelma Williams read a letter from Mrs. Irma Smitt, who is in charge of the Korean Orphan program, thanking the Ladies Aid for a $25 Christmas donation.

Lt. Gary Williams, son of Mrs. Thelma Williams who is stationed with the Army in Korea, is in charge of the program at the orphanage.

The next meeting will be Feb. 19 at the home of Mrs. Mary Worcester, with Mrs. Genesta McPherson in charge of devotions.

The Queen Esther Class prepared the congregational dinner.

DAR Discusses Attempts To Dent U.S. Moral Fiber

Attempts to break down the moral fiber of the nation were discussed during the meeting of Bethia Southwick Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carolyn Vogel of 939 Riverside Ave., Wellsville.

The disrespect for law and order also was touched upon under the topic of national defense.

The annual business meeting was opened according to ritual, with Mrs. Clarence G. Green, vice regent, in charge. Mrs. Ford S. Ball, chaplain, led devotions, including the state chaplain's devotions from the Ohio DAR magazine. Mrs. Robert Faulk led the pledge of allegiance and the group repeated the American Creed.

During business, reports were completed and donations voted to DAR projects. Members responded to roll call with "Historical Places in Ohio I Have Visited."

Mrs. Issbel Hart, regent, and Mrs. Green were elected delegates to the state conference March 18-20 at Columbus. Mrs. Vogel and Mrs. D. T. O'Hara are the alternates. Mrs. Hart was named delegate to the National Congress in Washington, D. C., April 15-20, with Mrs. Green the alternate.

Mrs. Ball, Indian chairman, read a letter of thanks for three boxes of clothing sent for the work of the American Indians. Mrs. Vogel reported two boxes of clothing sent to the Tamassee DAR School at Salem, S. C. A New Year's message of Mrs. William H. Sullivan Jr., president-general of the National Society of the DAR, was read by Mrs. Donald E. Wolfe.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ball. The next meeting will be Feb. 9 when American History month will be observed.

Historical Society Receives Document As Gift Of Vodreys

An original copy of the Ordinance of the Northwest Territory has been donated to The Ohio Historical Society at Columbus by members of the Vodrey family.

The ordinance was passed by the Continental Congress on July 13, 1787, and established the form of government under which Ohio became a state.

THE TWO-PAGE, printed slip law is the gift of William H. Vodrey Jr. of East Liverpool and Joseph Kelly Vodrey of Canton and their sister, Mrs. Louise Vodrey Boyd of Portsmouth. It was obtained about 25 years ago from a dealer.

The ordinance was printed by Francis Childs for John Dunlap of Philadelphia, official printer to Congress, and is signed by Charles Thomson, secretary of Congress. Only about a dozen copies of the ordinance are known to exist. Threee are reported in the Marietta College Library, one is possessed by the Western Reserve Historical Society in Cleveland and the remainder are in eastern libraries.

An identical copy of the ordinance with a George Washington letter sold for $33,000 at auction in New York City last year.

The Ordinance of 1787 was the authority and plan by which the westward expansion of the United States was accomplished. It provided for the future division of the territory into not less than three or more then five states after certain conditions had been met.

The ordinance also established freedom of religion, prohibited slavery and provided a means of support for public education. Next to the U.S. Constitution, the ordinance was the most important governmental enactment for the territory.

THE BOARD of Trusees of the historical society awarded Mrs. Boyd and Joseph Vodrey benefactor memberships in the society in recognition of their gift.

William Vodrey, a society past president and trustee, previously had been elected an honorary life member of the society.

A reprint of the ordinance, together with 10 other fundamental documents of Ohio, is available from The Ohio Historical Society Columbus, 43210, in a descriptive folder for 60 cents plus tax.

Chester Firemen Will Distribute Safety Booklets

The Chester Fire Department shortly will begin distribution of 1,000 fire safety booklets prepared by a former Newell resident still being hunted in connection with an alleged swindle of "major proportions" pertaining to contracts entered into with other tri-state area organizations for publication of a historical booklet.

The Chester department sold advertisements and arranged for the printing of its pamphlet, which was in the hands of the printer before James S. Haggerman, about 42, "skipped town."

The Chester booklet, department officials point out, was completed as scheduled despite problems that arose under commitments by Haggerman in other areas.

Members of the department will make the deliveries.

Chester Post To Sponsor 4 At Boys State

Chester American Legion Post 121 has announced it will sponsor four high school boys to the annual Boys State convention at Jackson's Mills in June.

During the meeting Monday night, Adjt. Charles W. Morris was named chairman of the committee to arrange the trip.

In other business, Mike Sweeney reported on his visits to the Veterans Hospital at Oakland, Pittsburgh.

Harry Hall reported plans are being made for the past commander dinner - dance Feb. 17. Department Comdr. John Jones of Weirton will be guest speaker.

Post 121 will name annual recipients of the "Outstanding Citizen of Chester Award" during the program.

Dale Allison reported on a building adjacent to the post home which the group has purchased. It will be rented for office space to a Chester firm.

Entertainment at the post home each Friday night will be provided for the next six weeks. Arrangements are being handled by Robert House, commander, who presided last night.

The next meeting will be Feb. 12 at 7 p. m.

Third Concert Scheduled By Midland Group

The Midland Community Concert and Cultural Committee will present its third program of the season March 6 at 8 p.m. The Crucible Steel Male Chorus directed by Fred Martell will be guest artists.

Also heading the program, which will be presented in the Lincoln High School auditorium, will be the Beaver Bobcats, stage band of the Beaver Area High School, directed by William K. Schwartz.

C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh, chairman, said there will be no admission charge.

Other events planned by the committee include a high school band concert April 5 at 8:15 p.m., a concert by the elementary pupils April 26 at 8 p.m. and the annual high school choral and organ concert May 10 at 8 p. m.

Historical Group To Hear Speaker

Clyde Piquet of Ohio View, Industry, will discuss "Lookout, There Is History All Around You" during a meeting of the Mill Creek Valley Historical Association Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Independence School on Route 151.

New officers have been elected by the group. They are Clifford Smith of Hopewell Township, president; Alex Morrow of Hopewell Township, vice president; Mrs. Grace Wilson of Raccoon Township, secretary, and Miss Mary Thompson of Greene Township, treasurer.

Smith, a history teacher at Aliquippa High School, replaced Mrs. Gladys Hoover, who was the association's first president.

Mrs. Wilson said the 1967 membership totaled 727. More than 200 have been renewed for 1968.

GOP To Pick Board Choice

LISBON — The Columbiana County Republican executive committee will meet tonight at 7:30 at GOP headquarters in the Wick Hotel building with Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, county chairman, in charge.

He said the committee will select a member for a seat on the County Board of Elections, with the recommendation to be forwarded to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for appointment.

Pike is completing his second four-year term on the board and will step down March 1. County Republicans have a mandatory two-term-limit rule for board of election members.

Following the meeting in headquarters, Pike will go to Village Hall for a session of the GOP central committee at 8:30. Committeemen will discuss the primary election and check on the filings of the 169 precinct committee members. The filing deadline is Feb. 7.

The central committee will meet after the primaries to reorganize. Pike is completing his third two-year term as party chairman.

Traditionally, three terms has been the limit for the GOP chairman. Looking back over the last 20 years, T. Emerson Smith of Salem served three terms, James L. McSweeney of Wellsville succeeded him and served three terms and Ernest U. Whitacre of Salem served one term before the election of Pike.

Wardens Named At Parish Event

Others chosen were Robert Lowther, treasurer; Mrs. Evelyn Calhoun, clerk; Robert Glover, Mrs. Margaret Deeley and George Wilkins, vestrymen.

Wilkins and Lowther will attend a diocese meeting Friday and Saturday at Cleveland and will submit a report during the Sunday afternoon service next Sunday.

U.S. Resumes Normal Ties With Greece

ATHENS (AP) — The United States resumed normal diplomatic contacts with Greece today, indicating it had formally recognized the ruling military junta.

U.S. Ambassador Philips Talbot called on Foreign Minister Panayiotis Pipinelis at noon. Asked by newsmen if this constituted recognition of the Greek regime by the American government, Talbot replied: "This is really the resumption of normal diplomatic contacts."

The United States was the second of Greece's allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to extend recognition to the military dictatorship despite King Constantine's continued absence in self-imposed exile in Rome.

Turkey, another NATO member, extended its recognition Saturday.

After the military coup last April, the U.S. government took the position that its maintenance of diplomatic relations with Greece did not constitute implied approval of the coup since its ambassador was accredited to the chief of state—King Constantine—and not to the government in power.

Management Topics To Feature Seminar

BEAVER — A one-day management seminar will be held Feb. 10 at the Lincoln Senior High School in Ellwood City by the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce and the Beaver Campus of the Pennsylvania State University.

Topics will include communications, motivation and labor relations. A panel discussion and luncheon will follow the seminar. Information may be obtained by contacting the Beaver Campus at Monaca.

The college also has announced Jean K. Coleman, a former instructor at Duquesne University, has been named English instructor.

Friedrich Froebel, a German educator, was the originator of the kindergarten in 1837.

Chester Post To Sponsor 4 At Boys State

Chester American Legion Post 121 has announced it will sponsor four high school boys to the annual Boys State convention at Jackson's Mills in June.

During the meeting Monday night, Adjt. Charles W. Morris was named chairman of the committee to arrange the trip.

In other business, Mike Sweeney reported on his visits to the Veterans Hospital at Oakland, Pittsburgh.

Harry Hall reported plans are being made for the past commander dinner - dance Feb. 17. Department Comdr. John Jones of Weirton will be guest speaker.

Post 121 will name annual recipients of the "Outstanding Citizen of Chester Award" during the program.

Dale Allison reported on a building adjacent to the post home which the group has purchased. It will be rented for office space to a Chester firm.

Entertainment at the post home each Friday night will be provided for the next six weeks. Arrangements are being handled by Robert House, commander, who presided last night.

The next meeting will be Feb. 12 at 7 p. m.

Third Concert Scheduled By Midland Group

The Midland Community Concert and Cultural Committee will present its third program of the season March 6 at 8 p.m. The Crucible Steel Male Chorus directed by Fred Martell will be guest artists.

Also heading the program, which will be presented in the Lincoln High School auditorium, will be the Beaver Bobcats, stage band of the Beaver Area High School, directed by William K. Schwartz.

C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh, chairman, said there will be no admission charge.

Other events planned by the committee include a high school band concert April 5 at 8:15 p.m., a concert by the elementary pupils April 26 at 8 p.m. and the annual high school choral and organ concert May 10 at 8 p. m.

Historical Group To Hear Speaker

Clyde Piquet of Ohio View, Industry, will discuss "Lookout, There Is History All Around You" during a meeting of the Mill Creek Valley Historical Association Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Independence School on Route 151.

New officers have been elected by the group. They are Clifford Smith of Hopewell Township, president; Alex Morrow of Hopewell Township, vice president; Mrs. Grace Wilson of Raccoon Township, secretary, and Miss Mary Thompson of Greene Township, treasurer.

Smith, a history teacher at Aliquippa High School, replaced Mrs. Gladys Hoover, who was the association's first president.

Mrs. Wilson said the 1967 membership totaled 727. More than 200 have been renewed for 1968.

GOP To Pick Board Choice

LISBON — The Columbiana County Republican executive committee will meet tonight at 7:30 at GOP headquarters in the Wick Hotel building with Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, county chairman, in charge.

He said the committee will select a member for a seat on the County Board of Elections, with the recommendation to be forwarded to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for appointment.

Pike is completing his second four-year term on the board and will step down March 1. County Republicans have a mandatory two-term-limit rule for board of election members.

Following the meeting in headquarters, Pike will go to Village Hall for a session of the GOP central committee at 8:30. Committeemen will discuss the primary election and check on the filings of the 169 precinct committee members. The filing deadline is Feb. 7.

The central committee will meet after the primaries to reorganize. Pike is completing his third two-year term as party chairman.

Traditionally, three terms has been the limit for the GOP chairman. Looking back over the last 20 years, T. Emerson Smith of Salem served three terms, James L. McSweeney of Wellsville succeeded him and served three terms and Ernest U. Whitacre of Salem served one term before the election of Pike.

Wardens Named At Parish Event

Others chosen were Robert Lowther, treasurer; Mrs. Evelyn Calhoun, clerk; Robert Glover, Mrs. Margaret Deeley and George Wilkins, vestrymen.

Wilkins and Lowther will attend a diocese meeting Friday and Saturday at Cleveland and will submit a report during the Sunday afternoon service next Sunday.

U.S. Resumes Normal Ties With Greece

ATHENS (AP) — The United States resumed normal diplomatic contacts with Greece today, indicating it had formally recognized the ruling military junta.

U.S. Ambassador Philips Talbot called on Foreign Minister Panayiotis Pipinelis at noon. Asked by newsmen if this constituted recognition of the Greek regime by the American government, Talbot replied: "This is really the resumption of normal diplomatic contacts."

The United States was the second of Greece's allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to extend recognition to the military dictatorship despite King Constantine's continued absence in self-imposed exile in Rome.

Turkey, another NATO member, extended its recognition Saturday.

After the military coup last April, the U.S. government took the position that its maintenance of diplomatic relations with Greece did not constitute implied approval of the coup since its ambassador was accredited to the chief of state—King Constantine—and not to the government in power.

Management Topics To Feature Seminar

BEAVER — A one-day management seminar will be held Feb. 10 at the Lincoln Senior High School in Ellwood City by the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce and the Beaver Campus of the Pennsylvania State University.

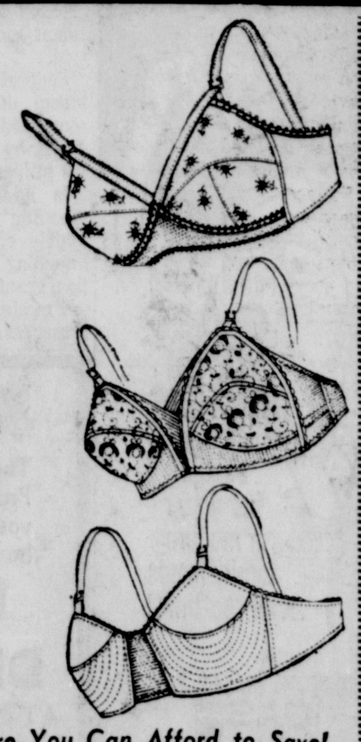

Topics will include communications, motivation and labor relations. A panel discussion and luncheon will follow the seminar. Information may be obtained by contacting the Beaver Campus at Monaca.

The college also has announced Jean K. Coleman, a former instructor at Duquesne University, has been named English instructor.

Friedrich Froebel, a German educator, was the originator of the kindergarten in 1837.

News Of Area Residents In Armed Forces

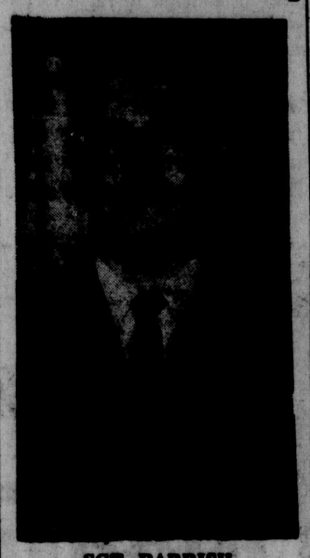

A former Newell resident, Master Sgt. Ralph L. Parrish, was selected "USAFE Outstanding Airman of 1967" in exercises at Wiesbaden, Germany. He is stationed at Ankara, Turkey.

Parrish, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parrish of 610 Grant St., Newell, was selected from six candidates by the major subordinate commands of USAFE because of "his leadership, job knowledge, significant self - improvement though off - duty education and participation in social and cultural activities which contributed during the year to community and group welfare in Ankara."

He has received a degree of associate of science from Amarillo (Tex.) Junior College, where he had completed a two-year course in psychology and sociology. He is a psychiatric technician at Turkey.

A veteran of 16 years in the Air Force, Parrish spent his first 11 years as an air policeman, changing to his present field about five years ago.

In Ankara, Parrish is the only enlisted member of the Ankara Area Dependent School Board, a member of the board of governors of the NCO Club, a neighborhood

Inspectors Check Mine

As a result of the Beaver County Commissioners asking for a survey of abandoned mines in the area, Michael Garner and Stephen Federick, state mine inspectors from Cannonsburg, visited the Dow Lin Coal Mine adjacent to the Charles Cook property in Georgetown Monday.

The inspectors were sent to the Beaver County Courthouse to check on abandoned mines and learned of the mine in the Georgetown area. They were not aware efforts already had been taken to close the entrance.

Dan Donatella, chief clerk at the Courthouse, said the inspectors told him it will be the county's duty to inform the state of the location of abandoned mines. As a result, a study will be made by the field assessors and planning office of Beaver County.

Reports will be made to Garner and steps then taken to have mines sealed.

The study also will include strip mining where the land has not been reclaimed. Approximately $5 million is available for the project as a result of the recent strip mine bill passed by the legislature.

Donatella had written the state about the mines on the recommendation of the commissioners.

'Slots' Returned On Technicality

West Virginia state police Monday returned six slot machines owned by the Embassy Club (formerly the SAC Club) at 3066 Main St., Weirton, after an order signed by Circuit Court Judge James G. McClure.

The machines were returned on the bais of a faulty warrant in an appeal filed by Atty. George Bohach. It charged the warrant was insufficient "in that it was not legally executed and did not describe the place, name or person to be searched."

The warrant was issued by Squire Thomas Bellanco.

Marie Dadasovich, president of the Embassy, signed the receipt for return of the machines.

Board Requests Bids On 2 Water Projects

The Board of Public Utilities said today it will open bids at City Hall at noon on Wednesday, March 6, for two improvement projects in the city water department.

One project calls for installation of a new electrical power line to serve the main pumping plant in Klondyke. The other calls for installation of a chlorinator and a new pump at the Haywood St. booster station. The pump will have a capacity of 1,200 gallons per minute.

The board said specifications may be obtained at its office in City Hall or from the Chester Engineers at 601 Suismon St., Pittsburgh. Council appropriated funds for the work late in 1967.

City Hospital Treats 7 In Emergencies

A woman hurt in a fall and a child struck by a glass bottle were admitted Monday to City Hospital, where five others were treated.

Gosney Proposes County Act Upon St. Clair Project

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana County commissioners were urged Monday night by County Democrat Chairman Don R. Gosney to take action on construction of a new water system for St. Clair Township areas.

Speaking at a meeting of the Columbiana Democrat Women's Club, attended by others from the county, Gosney said the Chicago office of the Housing and Urban Development agency has notified the commissioners they are past due in advertising for bids on the project.

Action by the commissioners had been delayed last year for some time as a result of a court move by some opponents of the project.

Gosney said the commissioners still have not made up their minds on what they are going to do. He warned further delay may see the loss of the $240,000 federal grant for the construction, along with higher construction costs.

Gosney said he plans to visit Washington Feb. 10-11 at the invitation of Clifford Carter, national Democrat aide, to join in discussions on the 1968 election campaign.

Chester Council Studies Complaints On Sledding

Chester Council Monday night agreed during future snowfalls to make provisions for pedestrians along Louisiana Ave. between 3rd and 4th Sts., the section now designated for sledriding.

Members heard complaints from residents of the area.

A spokesman for the neighborhood, Mrs. Emma Cunningham of 338 Louisiana Ave., told Council resident of about 10 homes on the stretch feel it is unfair to allow sledriding on the road since there is no sidewalk or alley.

Residents not only cannot drive to their homes, she pointed out, but most are unable to walk safely because the road becomes extremely slippery after the children have sledded on it for a time.

Mrs. Cunningham also reported vandalism by some youngsters.

COUNCILMAN Charles Kology suggested the street department might hand-ash about half of Louisiana with cinders and salt so residents still can get in and out of their homes, thus leaving half of the stretch for sledders.

Mayor Burton G. Ward took the opportunity to point out residents only cause delays in solving their problem when they phone him and suggested they should call their ward councilman instead.

Council will begin charging the Kiwanis Club $8 a month for use each Tuesday of the City Hall auditorium for its meetings.

Over the protests of Kincaid, the members passed the motion to assess the club.

Kology explained the club has, for as long as council can remember, used the hall each week and its electricity, gas, heat and light.

Kincaid, declaring a public building is for public use, said the cost of heat and light is not increased because of the meeting.

But Kology pointed out the club has declined to meet at the City Park's building because the park board places a rental fee on those who use it.

Councilman Thomas Bowen said he believed a donation should be made, or the club should be charged — last night's final action.

WARD NOTED the club, along with the local Lions organization, has undertaken to erect street signs in Meadowcrest, formerly the Mill Addition, and Kincaid also reported the club assists the city in various ways.

Councilman Roy Cashdollar explained the city formerly rented the City Hall to basketball teams, but no money could be made on Tuesday nights because the Kiwanis Club met then.

After the final action was taken, members notified residents a new stove has been installed in the auditorium and the old one is available.

Anyone can have it for hauling away, Ward said. It will be scrapped if not taken in a week, he added. Members said the stove is in "fair" condition.

"We've spent money there," Kology declared, referring to the fact the auditorium has been painted along with some other parts of the City Hall, "but the clubs don't seem to give a hoot."

WARD TOLD members the city now owns the bell taken from the razed Central School at 3rd St. and Indiana Ave.

He said he wrote the school board concerning the matter days before the contractor began demolition and received a phone call from Supt. Robert Hall notifying the city it could keep the bell.

He said when it was taken from its position in the building, the bell was turned over to the city and a base will be constructed and the bell cleaned and mounted.

Ward explained the bell will not be placed in the city park, but at one corner of the city hall. It will be set on a 12-inch base about six or eight feet long. A bronze plaque will be placed on the bell, with the wording to be determined.

Ward expressed appreciation that several residents were interested in saving the bell.

Cashdollar told members he has received a request from the City Park board for additional funds. No action was taken.

Hancock Man Placed On 3-Year Probation

A Weirton resident, who pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering a Weirton club, has been placed on three-year probation by Hancock Circuit Court Judge James G. McClure.

Peter Streho, 24, of 108 Hillcrest Rd. entered the IVP Club on N. 20th St. in mid-March last year. Reportedly $415 was taken.

The state did not oppose the probation. Earlier in the week, through his attorney, Frank Cuomo Jr. of Wellsburg, Streho pleaded guilty to the indictment returned by a Hancock grand jury last September.

Unable To Meet Demand

Supply Shortage Seen In Kennedy Half Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite heavy production of half dollars, the Treasury Department is still unable to meet the entire demand for the coin bearing President John F. Kennedy's likeness.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said Monday all indications are the half dollar continues to increase in circulation although it's still in short supply.

The future of the half dollar—and Treasury officials insist it has a future—will be discussed anew March 1 by the Joint Commission on the Coinage.

Pressure has been exerted by industries which use silver to remove it from the half dollar but such a move would require congressional approval.

Although the coin shortage which first hit the nation several years ago has long since been declared over, the Treasury still receives complaints from citizens saying half dollars aren't circulating.

Through Dec. 31, the Treasury produced 894,799,143 Kennedy half dollars and has tentatively projected production of about 200 million pieces for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

By comparison, only 16 million of the coins—which then were Franklin halves—were minted in 1961. This was stepped up to 43 million in 1962 and 56 million in 1963.

Wallace said the Treasury hopes some day to return to an annual production of 100 million halves and even this would be far above what was considered normal a decade or two ago.

Halves, the Treasury feels, have been saved as mementoes of the late president but they are also a handy way for individuals to save money by storing them in a desk drawer.

Saving the new halves for their silver content, officials feel, is useless since the price would have to rise to $3.38 an ounce before a new half dollar would be worth 50 cents in silver. Silver has been bringing about $1.95 an ounce in recent months in market sales.

The 1965 Coinage Act, which removed all silver from dimes and quarters, cut the amount of silver in the half dollar from 90 per cent to 40 per cent. A 90 per cent half was worth its face value in silver when the price went to $1.38 an ounce.

But the Treasury last year invoked its power to bar the melting of coins for their silver content. A conviction could bring a maximum sentence of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Before it switched to a lower silver content, the Treasury produced 429,509,450 Kennedy halves containing 90 per cent silver. Through last month it had minted 465,289,693 halves containing 40 per cent silver.

He said he wrote the school board concerning the matter days before the contractor began demolition and received a phone call from Supt. Robert Hall notifying the city it could keep the bell.

He said when it was taken from its position in the building, the bell was turned over to the city and a base will be constructed and the bell cleaned and mounted.

Ward explained the bell will not be placed in the city park, but at one corner of the city hall. It will be set on a 12-inch base about six or eight feet long. A bronze plaque will be placed on the bell, with the wording to be determined.

Ward expressed appreciation that several residents were interested in saving the bell.

Cashdollar told members he has received a request from the City Park board for additional funds. No action was taken.

Hancock Man Placed On 3-Year Probation

A Weirton resident, who pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering a Weirton club, has been placed on three-year probation by Hancock Circuit Court Judge James G. McClure.

Peter Streho, 24, of 108 Hillcrest Rd. entered the IVP Club on N. 20th St. in mid-March last year. Reportedly $415 was taken.

The state did not oppose the probation. Earlier in the week, through his attorney, Frank Cuomo Jr. of Wellsburg, Streho pleaded guilty to the indictment returned by a Hancock grand jury last September.

Unable To Meet Demand

Supply Shortage Seen In Kennedy Half Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite heavy production of half dollars, the Treasury Department is still unable to meet the entire demand for the coin bearing President John F. Kennedy's likeness.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said Monday all indications are the half dollar continues to increase in circulation although it's still in short supply.

The future of the half dollar—and Treasury officials insist it has a future—will be discussed anew March 1 by the Joint Commission on the Coinage.

Pressure has been exerted by industries which use silver to remove it from the half dollar but such a move would require congressional approval.

Although the coin shortage which first hit the nation several years ago has long since been declared over, the Treasury still receives complaints from citizens saying half dollars aren't circulating.

Through Dec. 31, the Treasury produced 894,799,143 Kennedy half dollars and has tentatively projected production of about 200 million pieces for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

By comparison, only 16 million of the coins—which then were Franklin halves—were minted in 1961. This was stepped up to 43 million in 1962 and 56 million in 1963.

Wallace said the Treasury hopes some day to return to an annual production of 100 million halves and even this would be far above what was considered normal a decade or two ago.

Halves, the Treasury feels, have been saved as mementoes of the late president but they are also a handy way for individuals to save money by storing them in a desk drawer.

Saving the new halves for their silver content, officials feel, is useless since the price would have to rise to $3.38 an ounce before a new half dollar would be worth 50 cents in silver. Silver has been bringing about $1.95 an ounce in recent months in market sales.

The 1965 Coinage Act, which removed all silver from dimes and quarters, cut the amount of silver in the half dollar from 90 per cent to 40 per cent. A 90 per cent half was worth its face value in silver when the price went to $1.38 an ounce.

But the Treasury last year invoked its power to bar the melting of coins for their silver content. A conviction could bring a maximum sentence of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Before it switched to a lower silver content, the Treasury produced 429,509,450 Kennedy halves containing 90 per cent silver. Through last month it had minted 465,289,693 halves containing 40 per cent silver.

Girard Man Re-Elected

Various Positions Filled At Church Camp Meeting

Robert Hummer of Girard was re-elected chairman of the board when the trustees of the Beaver Creek United Presbyterian Church Camp reorganized Saturday at the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church.

Also named were the Rev. Franklin MacAllister of Sebring, administration committee chairman; the Rev. Richard Shipley of East Liverpool, program committee chairman; Marshall Dutterer of East Liverpool and Charles Findling of Youngstown, operations committee co - chairmen; William Crawford of Toronto, development committee chairman; Mrs. Phyllis Conley of East Liverpool, secretary, and Marion Horger of East Liverpool, treasurer.

The Rev.. H. Gene Toot of East Liverpool submitted the nominating committee report. The Rev. MacAllister led prayer. The Rev. David Stensvad of Warren, the Rev. Richard Ross of Canfield and the Rev. Thomas Redick of Carrollton were introduced as new trustees.

EACH committee held a brief meeting. Mrs. Conley gave a report and a copy of the 1968 Trustee Director was presented for corrections before printing.

The Administration Committee report noted that the present insurance policy for campers is up for renewal.

Five tents will be sent to Camp Joseph Badger Meadows located in the Mahoning Presbytery. The Rev. Roger Bush of Richmond, will be in charge of selections and script preparations for a new set of slides on the camp. A review and editing committee will be formed, with each committee represented.

Rev. Shipley gave the Program Committee report, which included the announcement that Rev. Robert Palisin of Homeworth will supervise the two Canadian canoe trips June 14-22 and Aug. 9-17, with a maximum of 30 campers per trip. Promotional material for the camp will be prepared by H. Keith Langdon of East Liverpool. The board authorized preparation of the church bulletin inserts along with brochures. Mrs. Robert Palisin will serve as counselor recruitment secretary this year.

Rev. Redick announced that the Program Committee will sponsor a dinner Feb. 25 at 6 p. m. in Lisbon. All trustees, directors and key counselors will attend. Rev. Roland Kamm of Cambridge, Christian Eduation Field director, will be a guest.

APPLICATION for a summer missionary student has been approved by the synod. The annual treasurer's report, presented by Horger, was approved.

The Operations Committee report was given by Co-chairmen Dutterer and Findling. Surveying has been completed for a new road into the camp.

Dates for the spring and fall scouting weekend were announced as May 3 through 5 and Sept. 27 through 29. A contour map, with new trails marked, will be ready by the next meeting, March 23 at 1:30 p. m. at the camp.

Crawford, chairman of the Development Committee, said that installation of the new furnace for Rose Lodge is complete. This will enable more winter camping and weekend retreats, he pointed out.

The Rev. Richard Fruit of Lake Milton led closing prayer.

Chester Council Gets Reply From Rodak On Probe

Sheriff Joseph Rodak of Hancock County has replied to a letter from Chester Council asking an investigation into illegal activities along the "Strip."

Rodak offered to meet with the legislators between Jan. 15 and Jan. 20. Council was informed by Clerk Donald Hood Monday night that the letter had been turned over the Councilman Thomas Bowen, who said no meeting had been arranged during the period mentioned.

Rodak said he would need assistance in determining what illegal activities are taking place and in the gathering of evidence.

During a Council meeting two weeks ago, members received a letter from Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr saying he would do all within the powers of his office to step up an investigation.

$40 Million Cut Seen In Ohio Road Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Plans announced Monday to withhold $600 million in federal government funds for highway construction for fiscal 1968 could slash Ohio's highway construction money by $40 million, a state official said.

C. L. Emmons, Highway Department financial advisor, said the $40 million cut would result if the $600 million federal freeze were applied to states on a straight percentage basis. Emmons said Ohio was to receive more than $270 in federal highway money in fiscal 1968.

Restrictions On Signs Aired By City's Planning Board

Meeting with representatives of the outdoor advertising business in the East Liverpool area, the City Planning Commission Monday night started another point-by-point review of restrictions on signs as spelled out in the municipal zoning regulations.

The sign companies objected several months ago to some of the provisions of the new regulations, particularly those limiting the area and placement of signs. They argued that the rules would inhibit their operations and hamper business advertising without serving any useful purpose.

ROY COOPER of the Central Neon Sign Co. at Calcutta acted as spokesmen for the sign companies in the meeting with the commission in the Council chamber at City Hall. George Steele, commission chairman, presided. Others attending were Frank Mangano, James Grafton, J. Clifford Conley and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, members of the commission, and Daniel Ziegler II, consultant.

It developed that the company representatives had no serious objections to a regulation which puts a limit of 15 square feet on the area of "bulletin boards and signs for a church, school, community or other public or semi-public institutional building." They said the regulation will not be inhibiting so long as it applies only to bulletin boards outside such structures. But it would be impossible to place the names of certain churches on the exterior of the buildings, for instance, if the limitation in area is construed to apply to such markings, they added.

They conceded no objection to the next regulation discussed, which puts a limit of 20 square feet on wall signs "pertaining to a non-conforming use on the premises of such use." Ziegler pointed out a "non - conforming use," for example, would be an auto repair shop located in an area zoned for residential use.

THERE ALSO was no serious objection to a rule that requires "no building wall shall be used for display of advertising except that pertaining to the use carried on within such building." The sign men and the commission agreed that very few such signs are in use in East Liverpool at present. Another regulation requiring that wall signs "shall not project more than two feet from the face of the building" also was passed over without prolonged discussion

Next the group discussed a regulation that limits the area of all permanent signs for any single business enterprise according to the width of the building occupied by the business. Ziegler indicated he feels most East Liverpool business places are in compliance with the law as it stands.

The sign companies objected to a regulation which provides that free-standing signs cannot exceed 30 feet in height or more than 100 square feet in area when they are erected to "serve a group of business establishments." The same regulation says the big signs cannot be erected less than 10 feet from a street right-of-way or 100 feet of any adjoining lot line. Ziegler said the regulation is aimed primarily at signs used at shopping centers.

STEELE TOLD the group a public hearing will be held before the regulations are amended. He said persons objecting to any of the proposed new regulations will have an opportunity to express their views at the public hearing.

The commission received and filed a letter from the Fife Advertising Co. which asserted that the regulations would seem to outlaw conventional outdoor advertising billboards of the so-called 24-sheet size. The regulations put a limit of 300 square feet on such signs, but the 24-sheet billboard is 12-x-36 feet, or 312 square feet, the letter said.

Conferring briefly with James Morrissey of the County Regional Planning Commission, the local group agreed to cooperate with the county commission in cases of enforcement of subdivision regulations where their two jurisdictions overlap.

Band Radio Club Plaque Will List Officers' Names

The purchase of a plaque listing the names of officers who have served since 1962 was approved by members of the Penova Citizens Band Radio Club Sunday night at the clubhouse on Route 45, near Wellsville.

A "coffee break," open to the public, was planned for Feb. 11 at 7 p. m. when there will be prizes, music, surprises for the youngsters, swapping and auctioneering.

Refreshments will be served and monitoring of the gathering, sponsored by the club which serves the tri-state area, will be on Channel 9, WSTV, Steubenville.

Plans were formulated for the jamboree June 23.

Ralph Coleman presided and Chuck McCoy served as secretary pro-tem.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dailey of Geneva were welcomed and luncn was served.

A special meeting will be held Jan. 31 at 7 p. m. when new and past officers will plan activities and discuss revisions in the bylaws. The next club meeting will be Feb. 4.

$40 Million Cut Seen In Ohio Road Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Plans announced Monday to withhold $600 million in federal government funds for highway construction for fiscal 1968 could slash Ohio's highway construction money by $40 million, a state official said.

C. L. Emmons, Highway Department financial advisor, said the $40 million cut would result if the $600 million federal freeze were applied to states on a straight percentage basis. Emmons said Ohio was to receive more than $270 in federal highway money in fiscal 1968.

Restrictions On Signs Aired By City's Planning Board

Meeting with representatives of the outdoor advertising business in the East Liverpool area, the City Planning Commission Monday night started another point-by-point review of restrictions on signs as spelled out in the municipal zoning regulations.

The sign companies objected several months ago to some of the provisions of the new regulations, particularly those limiting the area and placement of signs. They argued that the rules would inhibit their operations and hamper business advertising without serving any useful purpose.

ROY COOPER of the Central Neon Sign Co. at Calcutta acted as spokesmen for the sign companies in the meeting with the commission in the Council chamber at City Hall. George Steele, commission chairman, presided. Others attending were Frank Mangano, James Grafton, J. Clifford Conley and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, members of the commission, and Daniel Ziegler II, consultant.

It developed that the company representatives had no serious objections to a regulation which puts a limit of 15 square feet on the area of "bulletin boards and signs for a church, school, community or other public or semi-public institutional building." They said the regulation will not be inhibiting so long as it applies only to bulletin boards outside such structures. But it would be impossible to place the names of certain churches on the exterior of the buildings, for instance, if the limitation in area is construed to apply to such markings, they added.

They conceded no objection to the next regulation discussed, which puts a limit of 20 square feet on wall signs "pertaining to a non-conforming use on the premises of such use." Ziegler pointed out a "non - conforming use," for example, would be an auto repair shop located in an area zoned for residential use.

THERE ALSO was no serious objection to a rule that requires "no building wall shall be used for display of advertising except that pertaining to the use carried on within such building." The sign men and the commission agreed that very few such signs are in use in East Liverpool at present. Another regulation requiring that wall signs "shall not project more than two feet from the face of the building" also was passed over without prolonged discussion

Next the group discussed a regulation that limits the area of all permanent signs for any single business enterprise according to the width of the building occupied by the business. Ziegler indicated he feels most East Liverpool business places are in compliance with the law as it stands.

The sign companies objected to a regulation which provides that free-standing signs cannot exceed 30 feet in height or more than 100 square feet in area when they are erected to "serve a group of business establishments." The same regulation says the big signs cannot be erected less than 10 feet from a street right-of-way or 100 feet of any adjoining lot line. Ziegler said the regulation is aimed primarily at signs used at shopping centers.

STEELE TOLD the group a public hearing will be held before the regulations are amended. He said persons objecting to any of the proposed new regulations will have an opportunity to express their views at the public hearing.

The commission received and filed a letter from the Fife Advertising Co. which asserted that the regulations would seem to outlaw conventional outdoor advertising billboards of the so-called 24-sheet size. The regulations put a limit of 300 square feet on such signs, but the 24-sheet billboard is 12-x-36 feet, or 312 square feet, the letter said.

Conferring briefly with James Morrissey of the County Regional Planning Commission, the local group agreed to cooperate with the county commission in cases of enforcement of subdivision regulations where their two jurisdictions overlap.

Band Radio Club Plaque Will List Officers' Names

The purchase of a plaque listing the names of officers who have served since 1962 was approved by members of the Penova Citizens Band Radio Club Sunday night at the clubhouse on Route 45, near Wellsville.

A "coffee break," open to the public, was planned for Feb. 11 at 7 p. m. when there will be prizes, music, surprises for the youngsters, swapping and auctioneering.

Refreshments will be served and monitoring of the gathering, sponsored by the club which serves the tri-state area, will be on Channel 9, WSTV, Steubenville.

Plans were formulated for the jamboree June 23.

Ralph Coleman presided and Chuck McCoy served as secretary pro-tem.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dailey of Geneva were welcomed and lunch was served.

A special meeting will be held Jan. 31 at 7 p. m. when new and past officers will plan activities and discuss revisions in the bylaws. The next club meeting will be Feb. 4.

Bank Of Canada Hikes Interest Rate To 7%

OTTAWA (AP) — Heavy transfers of funds abroad by Canadian subsidiaries of foreign companies have forced the Bank of Canada to raise its interest rates from 6 to 7 per cent, the bank's governor indicated.

Louis Rasminsky, the governor, said the move was taken "in the light of recent developments in the exchange market." The increase became effective today.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is a 68-year-old husband who has less sense than his teen-age grandson when it comes to how to behave around girls.

Alex acts his worst when we go out to eat. If the waitress has her name on her uniform he has to use it immediately. For example: "Hello, Hazel. My but you look pretty tonight!" What is the old buzzard trying to prove — that he can read?

I've told Alex dozens of times that it embarrasses me when he gets personal with the waitresses and they do not appreciate it either. He says I'm crazy — that ALL women like to be told they have pretty hair or a lovely smile or a nice figure.

When I reminded him that it's been 45 years since I've had a compliment from him he said, "Wives don't count."

Why does he behave this way and what can I do about it? — OLD GRAY MARE.

Dear Mare: Alex knows it's a sure way to get your goat and he will continue to behave this way as long as you let him know he is succeeding. If you've been married for 45 years and this is all you have to complain about, Lady, you are lucky. Be glad he can see.

Eternal Grooming

Dear Ann: Our 16-year-old daughter is driving me crazy. Lynn is a sophomore in high school and she spends twice as much time on her hair as on her homework.

Her last report card was disgraceful — nothing over a C and mostly Ds. Lynn washes her hair every other night and rolls it up on curlers. This is tremendously time-consuming because her hair is very long and thick.

In the meantime the family never sees her looking nice. When she comes to the dinner table her hair is already up in curlers.

Frankly I'm sick of it. I will not allow Lynn to go to bed with a wet head so she must dry it before she sleeps, and this takes another hour. Every morning Lynn brushes and teases her hair for at least 30 minutes, which means she has no time for a nourishing breakfast.

If you say this is just a phase I'll keep quiet and continue to take tranquilizers. How about it? — MOTHER MARY.

Dear Mother: Be thankful it's a daughter and not a son you are writing about.

Hair always has been a major bone of contention between parents and children and so long as there's hair there'll be disagreement. As to what should be done about it, my advise is to save your pipes, Mother. Insist that Lynn get her grades up if she wants to enjoy dating privileges but leave her hair out of it.

The Odd Couple

Dear Ann: During the holidays we gave a series of small dinner parties. On two separate occasions, invited guests brought along another couple. I would not have minded if they'd telephoned first but they just showed up and said, "We knew it would be okay."

I felt like a hypocrite smiling and saying, "Oh, it's perfectly all right." Frankly, I was burned up. My husband says I'm petty. What do you say? — SHORT ON SILVERWARE.

Dear Short: It's extremely poor taste to bring guests without first checking with the hostess. Unexpected dinner company can mean rearranging tables and a multiplicity of other problems. Social amenity demands that a surprised hostess be pleasant under such circumstances, but nothing says she has to invite the clods back.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jobs Sought For Elderly In Hancock

The Hancock County Committee on Aging has requested employers needing part-time or full-time help contact the committee immediately.

"There are many older citizens in the county who possess certain skills and are capable of performing work on a full-time or part-time basis and I know they would be valuable to any employer needing certain help," Malcolm (Lefty) Graham, chairman of the aging committee, said.

"We have received several letters from retired citizens asking for help in some form or another and the biggest request is for jobs.

"Thus far, the aging committee has received letters from people desiring secretarial and bookkeeping work; typing, mimeographing, and filing; mechanical engineering and designer of specialty machines; landscaping and gardening; and a night watchman's job.

"We have the skills here, now we need the jobs," Graham explained.

Anyone desiring further information about placement of retired persons in certain jobs may write the Hancock County Committee on Aging, Box 1080, Cove Station, Weirton, W. Va. 26062.

At the committee's monthly meeting in the Weirton Christian Center, the Rev. Mr. David Stone, member of the aging executive committee, said he is inquiring about two films, "A Place to Live" and "Preparation for the Later Years," for possible showings to various clubs and organizations in the Weirton area.

He also said he is working on a resource sheet "that will contain local services and anything else available to older citizens." He said he is contacting agencies in Hancock County to ascertain what they have to offer older citizens and the information will be compiled into a resource sheet.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

LADIES: I've been sewing up a storm and making alterations for a week now. Here's something I learned that I want you to pluck out of the air and put in your pocket:

Don't put your steam iron on wools, jerseys, stretch material and such.

More-better-yet, don't iron it or press it on a silicone ironing board cover. Go get your heaviest bath towel and fold it double on your ironing board. Lay your material face side down and hold your steam iron at least a quarter inch above it, letting that steam get into the material. Then take your hand and go pat, pat, pat on the material.

This way you will completely avoid a shine. I came out with the most beautiful results.

I learned this from going through a dry cleaning plant but didn't know we could do it at home. I thought we didn't have the equipment until I tried pouring water in my steam iron and letting it sit at least five minutes before using it. Put it on full blast and turn it to linen so that it will have the most heat possible and watch that steam come out.

Gals, it does the greatest job ever.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When those canceled checks come back, I just clip off a corner of the stub. Then it's easy to see which checks are outstanding.

I find this better than marking the stub with a red pencil.

ANITA.

DEAR HELOISE: Most homemakers use a small sugar bowl that requires frequent fillings. And no matter how carefully we pour, some gets spilled.

I filled a two-quart plastic juice container — the kind with the sliding center lid — with almost five pounds of sugar.

Now it's a simple task to fill my bowls and no spoon, cup or scoop needed to transfer it.

MRS. L. GORDON.

DEAR HELOISE: In taking a tub bath, I find that resting my head on a dry sponge is a great comfort.

I had used a plastic, blown-up cushion, but it did not stay in place half as well as this sponge does. Great for bubble bath soaks.

MRS. MAMIE LEVY.

DEAR HELOISE: To help keep our bedrooms tidy, we put oversize towel racks on the back of each bedroom door. We fold the bedspreads over them when not in use and they stay neat, clean and out of sight.

They're also good to hang slacks over.

KAY J.

DEAR HELOISE: To thoroughly clean an electric broom, remove the little basket that catches the dirt and take the broom outside. Then turn the electricity on, tap the bag lightly with your hand and watch the hidden dust and dirt fly.

SARAH J. CHAPLES.

DEAR HELOISE: I have window shades with pulls made of a double cord. When the shade is up too high for me to reach, I just take a wire hanger and bend it straight leaving the hook as is. Then I slip the hook into the shade and pull the shade down easily.

Saves me getting something to stand on to reach it.

MRS. HELEN STEWART.

It is also a safety factor. Let's multiply that out . . .

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a hint for the children:

To make a strong sled rope that will not be hard to lie or sit on, braid some old nylon stockings together.

We have been using the same one for years. Easy on little hands too.

ARMETTA.

Newcomer Seeks W. Va. Governor Bid

CHARLESTON (AP) — A political newcomer from Marion County filed without fanfare Monday as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

William A. Lawson of Rt. 3, Fairmont, paid the $250 fee in Secretary of State Robert D. Bailey's office and filed his certificate of candidacy.

Bailey said Lawson declined his offer to summon reporters from the nearby state capitol press room. Bailey said all he knew about Lawson was that he was a railroad conductor.

Two others filed previously to run in the May 14 primary as candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. They are Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson and State Democratic chairman James M. Sprouse.

Filing to run for Democratic nomination for his 11th consecutive term in the U.S. House from the West Virginia 2nd District was Rep. Harley O. Staggers of Keyser. For a time Staggers was mentioned as a possible Democratic contender for governor this year.

Also filing with the secretary of state as primary candidates were:

Sen. Hans McCourt of Webster Springs, Democrat, for State Senate from the 12th Senatorial District.

P. Douglass Farr of West Union, Republican, for judge of the 3rd Judicial Circuit. Incumbent Judge Max DeBerry of Harrisville withdrew last week as a candidate for Republican renomination because of illness.

U.S. Clicks Off Record Dollar Spurt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy—already enjoying almost seven consecutive years without a recession—is now clicking off the biggest dollar advance in its history, says the government's chief economist.

But Gardner Ackley, outgoing chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, added Monday he isn't overly happy about it.

In a preview of the council's economic report, scheduled for submission to Congress later this month, Ackley said the nation's Gross National Product this year should increase by a record $61 billion over 1967.

This would mean a gain for 1968 as a whole of $846 billion or about 7.75 per cent above last year.

GNP is the value of all goods and services produced in the economy and is the broadest yardstick of economic activity.

But Ackley told the House Ways and Means Committee, Congress must raise taxes to get the nation moving toward better balance and stable prices.

Even with higher taxes, Ackley said, the economy will have trouble with prices this year.

He forecast continuation of the wage-price spiral which began in 1966, but said that with higher taxes the 4 per cent price rises of recent months can be lowered toward 3 per cent by years end.

Ex-Diplomat Dies

TRUMBULL, Conn. (AP) — Dr. Francis Patrick Corrigan, 86, surgeon who became a career diplomat, died Sunday. Corrigan was this country's first ambassador to Venezuela in 1938. Following World War II he became active in United Nations affairs.

'Wasn't Rude,' Eartha Kitt Says Of White House Issue

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I feel the people feel that what I said was good," says Eartha Kitt, whose protest about the Vietnam war stunned White House luncheon guests.

Critics said the singer's speech Thursday was rude and ill-timed.

Miss Kitt told a news conference Monday: "I was not rude. I raised my hand and asked to be heard. I was recognized by the First Lady in order to give my opinion.

At the luncheon Miss Kitt told 50 women invited to discuss crime and juvenile delinquency that the war is to blame for such social problems.

Since her speech, Miss Kitt said, she has received many letters commending her.

"The letters have been beautiful," she said. "The people whom I have heard from—their opinion is that what I said was right. They are behind me 100 per cent."

In Washington the White House said it has received about 1,900 letters on the incident, most of them deploring Miss Kitt's conduct.

Asked if she might apologize to Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, Miss Kitt replied: "Since I don't feel I have done anything wrong, I haven't given any thought to it."

Of Mrs. Johnson she said," I have tremendous respect for her position . . . She's a mother just as I am. I can understand why she would be emotional."

2 U.S. Civilians Killed By Viet Cong Road Mine

SAIGON (AP) — Two American civilians were killed by a Viet Cong road mine and a Korean civilian working for the same firm was critically wounded in a separate terrorist attack.

The Americans were Arnold A. Issacson, 34, of Renton, Wash., and Howard W. Andree, 47, of Sacramento, Calif., U.S. spokesman said. They worked for Pacific Architects and Engineers, Inc.

Spokesmen said the two were killed Monday when a pickup truck in which they were driving struck a mine on a road between My Tho and Dong Tam, in the Mekong Delta.

Two Top Quotas For Seal Drive

LISBON — Perry and Salem townships exceeded their quotas in the annual Christmas Seal campaign sponsored by the Columbiana County Public Health League.

Total returns last weekend were $31,714, or 97 per cent of the $32,500 goal.

Perry residents contributed $7,352 and Salem Township $1,514. Their quotas were $7,000 and $1,480 respectively.

Other reporting areas follow, with collections and quotas:

Fairfield, $3,004 ($3,245); Lisbon area, $2,808 ($2,850); Liverpool and St. Clair, $8,606 ($8,900); Middleton, $448 ($475); Unity, $3,032 ($3,200); Washington, $585 ($600); Western area, $2,149 ($2,250), and Yellow Creek, $2,065 ($2,500).

2 Police Lodges Await Banquet At Wellsville Friday

Final plans were reviewed for the installation banquet Friday when Wellsville Lodge 11 of the Fraternal Order of Police and Wellsville Lodge 51 of the Fraternal Order of Police Associates met Monday night.

The event will begin at 6 p.m. in the hall of American Legion Post 70, with separate ceremonies set for both the FOP and FOPA.

Judge Raymond Buzzard of Common Pleas Court at Lisbon will speak.

Three new applications for membership were approved by the FOPA.

Pete Trainer, banquet ticket chairman, requests that all unsold tickets be returned to him at once so plans may be made for their resale. Admission to the banquet will be limited to ticketholders, he explained.

A program of entertainment is being arranged.

Crash At Zanesville Claims 2nd Victim

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A collision of two cars on a Zanesville street a week ago today has claimed its second victim.

Eternal Grooming

Dear Ann: Our 16-year-old daughter is driving me crazy. Lynn is a sophomore in high school and she spends twice as much time on her hair as on her homework.

Her last report card was disgraceful — nothing over a C and mostly Ds. Lynn washes her hair every other night and rolls it up on curlers. This is tremendously time-consuming because her hair is very long and thick.

In the meantime the family never sees her looking nice. When she comes to the dinner table her hair is already up in curlers.

Frankly I'm sick of it. I will not allow Lynn to go to bed with a wet head so she must dry it before she sleeps, and this takes another hour. Every morning Lynn brushes and teases her hair for at least 30 minutes, which means she has no time for a nourishing breakfast.

If you say this is just a phase I'll keep quiet and continue to take tranquilizers. How about it? — MOTHER MARY.

Dear Mother: Be thankful it's a daughter and not a son you are writing about.

Hair always has been a major bone of contention between parents and children and so long as there's hair there'll be disagreement. As to what should be done about it, my advise is to save your pipes, Mother. Insist that Lynn get her grades up if she wants to enjoy dating privileges but leave her hair out of it.

The Odd Couple

Dear Ann: During the holidays we gave a series of small dinner parties. On two separate occasions, invited guests brought along another couple. I would not have minded if they'd telephoned first but they just showed up and said, "We knew it would be okay."

I felt like a hypocrite smiling and saying, "Oh, it's perfectly all right." Frankly, I was burned up. My husband says I'm petty. What do you say? — SHORT ON SILVERWARE.

Dear Short: It's extremely poor taste to bring guests without first checking with the hostess. Unexpected dinner company can mean rearranging tables and a multiplicity of other problems. Social amenity demands that a surprised hostess be pleasant under such circumstances, but nothing says she has to invite the clods back.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jobs Sought For Elderly In Hancock

The Hancock County Committee on Aging has requested employers needing part-time or full-time help contact the committee immediately.

"There are many older citizens in the county who possess certain skills and are capable of performing work on a full-time or part-time basis and I know they would be valuable to any employer needing certain help," Malcolm (Lefty) Graham, chairman of the aging committee, said.

"We have received several letters from retired citizens asking for help in some form or another and the biggest request is for jobs.

"Thus far, the aging committee has received letters from people desiring secretarial and bookkeeping work; typing, mimeographing, and filing; mechanical engineering and designer of specialty machines ; landscaping and gardening; and a night watchman's job.

"We have the skills here, now we need the jobs," Graham explained.

Anyone desiring further information about placement of retired persons in certain jobs may write the Hancock County Committee on Aging, Box 1080, Cove Station, Weirton, W. Va. 26062.

At the committee's monthly meeting in the Weirton Christian Center, the Rev. Mr. David Stone, member of the aging executive committee, said he is inquiring about two films, "A Place to Live" and "Preparation for the Later Years," for possible showings to various clubs and organizations in the Weirton area.

He also said he is working on a resource sheet "that will contain local services and anything else available to older citizens." He said he is contacting agencies in Hancock County to ascertain what they have to offer older citizens and the information will be compiled into a resource sheet.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

LADIES: I've been sewing up a storm and making alterations for a week now. Here's something I learned that I want you to pluck out of the air and put in your pocket:

Don't put your steam iron on wools, jerseys, stretch material and such.

More-better-yet, don't iron it or press it on a silicone ironing board cover. Go get your heaviest bath towel and fold it double on your ironing board. Lay your material face side down and hold your steam iron at least a quarter inch above it, letting that steam get into the material. Then take your hand and go pat, pat, pat on the material.

This way you will completely avoid a shine. I came out with the most beautiful results.

I learned this from going through a dry cleaning plant but didn't know we could do it at home. I thought we didn't have the equipment until I tried pouring water in my steam iron and letting it sit at least five minutes before using it. Put it on full blast and turn it to linen so that it will have the most heat possible and watch that steam come out.

Gals, it does the greatest job ever.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When those canceled checks come back, I just clip off a corner of the stub. Then it's easy to see which checks are outstanding.

I find this better than marking the stub with a red pencil.

ANITA.

DEAR HELOISE: Most homemakers use a small sugar bowl that requires frequent fillings. And no matter how carefully we pour, some gets spilled.

I filled a two-quart plastic juice container — the kind with the sliding center lid — with almost five pounds of sugar.

Now it's a simple task to fill my bowls and no spoon, cup or scoop needed to transfer it.

MRS. L. GORDON.

DEAR HELOISE: In taking a tub bath, I find that resting my head on a dry sponge is a great comfort.

I had used a plastic, blown-up cushion, but it did not stay in place half as well as this sponge does. Great for bubble bath soaks.

MRS. MAMIE LEVY.

DEAR HELOISE: To help keep our bedrooms tidy, we put oversize towel racks on the back of each bedroom door. We fold the bedspreads over them when not in use and they stay neat, clean and out of sight.

They're also good to hang slacks over.

KAY J.

DEAR HELOISE: To thoroughly clean an electric broom, remove the little basket that catches the dirt and take the broom outside. Then turn the electricity on, tap the bag lightly with your hand and watch the hidden dust and dirt fly.

SARAH J. CHAPLES.

DEAR HELOISE: I have window shades with pulls made of a double cord. When the shade is up too high for me to reach, I just take a wire hanger and bend it straight leaving the hook as is. Then I slip the hook into the shade and pull the shade down easily.

Saves me getting something to stand on to reach it.

MRS. HELEN STEWART.

It is also a safety factor. Let's multiply that out . . .

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a hint for the children:

To make a strong sled rope that will not be hard to lie or sit on, braid some old nylon stockings together.

We have been using the same one for years. Easy on little hands too.

Newcomer Seeks W. Va. Governor Bid

CHARLESTON (AP) — A political newcomer from Marion County filed without fanfare Monday as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

William A. Lawson of Rt. 3, Fairmont, paid the $250 fee in Secretary of State Robert D. Bailey's office and filed his certificate of candidacy.

Bailey said Lawson declined his offer to summon reporters from the nearby state capitol press room. Bailey said all he knew about Lawson was that he was a railroad conductor.

Two others filed previously to run in the May 14 primary as candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. They are Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson and State Democratic chairman James M. Sprouse.

Filing to run for Democratic nomination for his 11th consecutive term in the U.S. House from the West Virginia 2nd District was Rep. Harley O. Staggers of Keyser. For a time Staggers was mentioned as a possible Democratic contender for governor this year.

Also filing with the secretary of state as primary candidates were:

Sen. Hans McCourt of Webster Springs, Democrat, for State Senate from the 12th Senatorial District.

P. Douglass Farr of West Union, Republican, for judge of the 3rd Judicial Circuit. Incumbent Judge Max DeBerry of Harrisville withdrew last week as a candidate for Republican renomination because of illness.

U.S. Clicks Off Record Dollar Spurt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy—already enjoying almost seven consecutive years without a recession—is now clicking off the biggest dollar advance in its history, says the government's chief economist.

But Gardner Ackley, outgoing chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, added Monday he isn't overly happy about it.

In a preview of the council's economic report, scheduled for submission to Congress later this month, Ackley said the nation's Gross National Product this year should increase by a record $61 billion over 1967.

This would mean a gain for 1968 as a whole of $846 billion or about 7.75 per cent above last year.

GNP is the value of all goods and services produced in the economy and is the broadest yardstick of economic activity.

But Ackley told the House Ways and Means Committee, Congress must raise taxes to get the nation moving toward better balance and stable prices.

Even with higher taxes, Ackley said, the economy will have trouble with prices this year.

He forecast continuation of the wage-price spiral which began in 1966, but said that with higher taxes the 4 per cent price rises of recent months can be lowered toward 3 per cent by years end.

Ex-Diplomat Dies

TRUMBULL, Conn. (AP) — Dr. Francis Patrick Corrigan, 86, surgeon who became a career diplomat, died Sunday. Corrigan was this country's first ambassador to Venezuela in 1938. Following World War II he became active in United Nations affairs.

'Wasn't Rude,' Eartha Kitt Says Of White House Issue

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I feel the people feel that what I said was good," says Eartha Kitt, whose protest about the Vietnam war stunned White House luncheon guests.

Critics said the singer's speech Thursday was rude and ill-timed.

Miss Kitt told a news conference Monday: "I was not rude. I raised my hand and asked to be heard. I was recognized by the First Lady in order to give my opinion.

At the luncheon Miss Kitt told 50 women invited to discuss crime and juvenile delinquency that the war is to blame for such social problems.

Since her speech, Miss Kitt said, she has received many letters commending her.

"The letters have been beautiful," she said. "The people whom I have heard from—their opinion is that what I said was right. They are behind me 100 per cent."

In Washington the White House said it has received about 1,900 letters on the incident, most of them deploring Miss Kitt's conduct.

Asked if she might apologize to Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, Miss Kitt replied: "Since I don't feel I have done anything wrong, I haven't given any thought to it."

Of Mrs. Johnson she said," I have tremendous respect for her position . . . She's a mother just as I am. I can understand why she would be emotional."

2 U.S. Civilians Killed By Viet Cong Road Mine

SAIGON (AP) — Two American civilians were killed by a Viet Cong road mine and a Korean civilian working for the same firm was critically wounded in a separate terrorist attack.

The Americans were Arnold A. Issacson, 34, of Renton, Wash., and Howard W. Andree, 47, of Sacramento, Calif., U.S. spokesman said. They worked for Pacific Architects and Engineers, Inc.

Spokesmen said the two were killed Monday when a pickup truck in which they were driving struck a mine on a road between My Tho and Dong Tam, in the Mekong Delta.

2 Police Lodges Await Banquet At Wellsville Friday

Final plans were reviewed for the installation banquet Friday when Wellsville Lodge 11 of the Fraternal Order of Police and Wellsville Lodge 51 of the Fraternal Order of Police Associates met Monday night.

The event will begin at 6 p.m. in the hall of American Legion Post 70, with separate ceremonies set for both the FOP and FOPA.

Judge Raymond Buzzard of Common Pleas Court at Lisbon will speak.

Three new applications for membership were approved by the FOPA.

Pete Trainer, banquet ticket chairman, requests that all unsold tickets be returned to him at once so plans may be made for their resale. Admission to the banquet will be limited to ticketholders, he explained.

A program of entertainment is being arranged.

Two Top Quotas For Seal Drive

LISBON — Perry and Salem townships exceeded their quotas in the annual Christmas Seal campaign sponsored by the Columbiana County Public Health League.

Total returns last weekend were $31,714, or 97 per cent of the $32,500 goal.

Perry residents contributed $7,352 and Salem Township $1,514. Their quotas were $7,000 and $1,480 respectively.

Other reporting areas follow, with collections and quotas:

Fairfield, $3,004 ($3,245); Lisbon area, $2,808 ($2,850); Liverpool and St. Clair, $8,606 ($8,900); Middleton, $448 ($475); Unity, $3,032 ($3,200); Washington, $585 ($600); Western area, $2,149 ($2,250), and Yellow Creek, $2,065 ($2,500).

Ashland, the top small college defensive basketball team in the nation, yielding only 36.6 points a game, showed Steubenville how it's done Saturday night, edging the Barons 44-38 at Ashland.

Steubenville led 19-13 at halftime, but Ashland tied the score at 28 and pulled away from there. The Eagles are 13-1, Steubenville 10-4.

Ohio abounds in defensive-minded small college teams, with Akron sixth nationally, Hiram eighth, Mt. Union 11th, Wooster 13th, Heidelberg 17th and Denison 30th. Statistics are sometimes misleading, however, as Swarthmore (Pa.) is 23rd in defense, but has a 1-9 record.

On offense, Findlay ranks fifth and Kenyon 11th. The Oilers are scoring 106.0 a game and the Lords 101.4.

Akron is 14th in field goal percentage, while Kenyon is second in foul shooting, Wilmington sixth and Morris Harvey 16th.

John Rinka of Kenyon leads the small college scorers with a 34.5 average. Jeff Claypool of Grove City, a Lexington, Ohio, native, is 16th, Claggett of Denison is 18th and Jerry Carder of Findlay 47th. All of Grove City's starters, their coach and assistant are from Ohio.

The East provides 12 of the top small college rebounders, with the South claiming seven of the other eight.

JOSE PAGAN of the Pirates was named "Player of the Year" in Puerto Rican League. Pagan hit .342, but was edged out for the batting title by Tony Taylor of the Phillies. Roberto Clemente and Juan Pizarro also made the league's all-star team.

GEORGE SIMSTAD, successful basketball coach at Chaney High in Youngstown, had a few words of praise for Pennsylvania high school basketball the other day. Simstad liked the way the sport was organized there. This might be considered sour grapes, as Simstad's coaching pay was cut out by the failure of Youngstown voters to pass a levy. Rather than coach without pay, as the rest of the Youngstown coaches did, Simstad decided to sit out and leave Chaney with no basketball. There is no question, however, that having sports depend upon the whim of the voters is an archaic way of doing things. Even New York state, with a very poor high school athletic program, at least always has a program.

THE FIRING of Jimmy Dudley, long-time Cleveland Indian baseball announcer, brought numerous criticisms. We have to agree that Dudley was a good announcer and that such are hard to come by. Herb Score will move from TV to replace Dudley and Bob Feller, Al Rosen and Gene Woodling are mentioned as candidates to take Score's place.

CLASS A WAYNE of Jefferson County, the only unbeaten school in the OVAC, rolled to its 11th straight Saturday night, 102-91 over Jewett, as 6-8 Gary Davenport set a school record with 44 points.

CARL YASTRZEMSKI received another honor recently when he was named "Man of the Year" by Sports Magazine. The "Rookie of the Year" award went to another Boston player, Bobby Orr of the hockey Bruins.

E. Palestine Ties Beavers In 30th

COLUMBUS (AP) — East Liverpool retained eighth place in the weekly Associated Press high school basketball rankings, as the only change in the Top 10 from last week was that Toledo Central and Cleveland East High switched places.

Beaver Local and East Palestine shared 30th place with seven votes each while Steubenville ranks 35th. Columbus East, which hasn't lost a regular season game in two years, continues to hold down the number one spot.

Coach Bob Hart's Tigers, rolling along at an 11-0 pace, piled up 202 points from the sports writers and broadcasters who vote in the poll.

That gave the leaders a commanding 64-point bulge over runnerup Middletown and almost 100 points over third-place Toledo Central.

Toledo Central, 12-0, swapped 11-0, in the only significant changes in the top ten. The rest of the field was intact with Newark, 11-1, in fifth place, followed by Columbus Linden, 10-2, Zanesville, 11-1, East Liverpool, 10-0, Euclid, 12-0; and Cuyahoga Falls, 11-1.

East whacked 1965 Class AA titlist Columbus South 75-60 last Saturday and takes on the challenge of City League hopeful Columbus West this Saturday.

Ross Southeastern, sporting a 13-1 record, continued atop the heap in the Class A ratings with 107 points. Northwestern (Wayne), with a 14-1 mark, held seond place again, this time polling 90 points.

Unbeaten Canal Winchester, 13-0, was in a tie for third with Western of Pike County, 14-0.

Rounding out the elite circle are Convoy Crestview, 15-0; Guernsey Catholic, 12-0; Arcanum, 11-2; Avon, 10-0; Streetsboro, 11-0; and St. Henry, 14-1.

Tennessee Whips Kentucky

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bobby Croft, one of Canada's biggest southern exports, has stirred up an international crisis —for Kentucky and Baron Adolph Rupp.

Croft, a 6-foot-10 Tennessee sophomore from Hamilton, Ont., fired in 20 points as the sixth-ranked Vols handed ninth-ranked Kentucky its worst basketball setback in 18 years Monday night, obliterating the Wildcats 87-59.

It was the biggest margin of defeat for a Kentucky team since 1950, when City College of New York humbled the Wildcats 89-50 in the National Invitation Tournament.

Tennessee's 32nd consecutive home court victory sent the Vols into a first-place tie with idle Louisiana State in the Southeastern Conference race. Tennessee is 11-2 on the season and 5-1 in the SEC.

Kentucky, 10-4 over-all, fell into a fourth place tie with Vanderbilt, at 4-3, as Rupp failed for the second time in a row to match the all-time victory mark of 771 held by Kansas' Phog Allen.

Another SEC giant, 6-10 soph Neal Walk of Florida, wrecked Georgia with 33 points and 25 rebounds in a 90-63 Gator romp at Gainesville, Fla. The victory gave Florida a 7-3 conference record and a 10-6 season mark. Mississippi State upended visiting Alabama 72-69 in another SEC struggle.

Eight of The Associated Press' Top Ten teams had the night off, but three Ohio powers boosted their national stock. Cincinnati, 12-3, trimmed Missouri Valley Conference rival Memphis State 75-68 in overtime on the losers' court. Toledo, 10-3, crushed Coast Guard 88-47 at home and Ohio State, 9-3, outscored Georgia Tech 66-55 at Columbus, Ohio.

Visiting North Carolina State whipped Jacksonville 69-52 while Chicago Loyola and Michigan breezed to home-court victories, the Ramblers routing Windsor, Ont., 105-52 and the Wolverines belting Ball State 99-75.

Other home floor winners were Weber, by an 88-73 margin over Colorado State University, and East Tennessee, by a 61-53 count over East Carolina.

John Howard's 33 points led Cincinnati past Memphis State, winless in six MVC starts, in a game marked by five technical fouls—two of them against the home club after fans tossed litter on the court in the last minute of overtime.

Steve Nix poured in 18 of his game-high 24 points in the first 12 minutes of play, triggering Toledo's runaway victory over outmanned Coast Guard.

Dave Sorenson sent Ohio State ahead to stay with a three-point play in the opening minutes and finished with 21 points. The Buckeyes shot 56 per cent from the floor in overpowering Georgia Tech.

McKinstry Regains Area Scoring Lead

Dan McKintry of East Palestine regained the lead among area scorers this week, displacing Ron Peden of South Side, who had a one-week stay at the top.

McKinstry upped his average from 22.3 to 22.4, while Peden fell from 22.5 to 21.0. He was held to nine points by Western Beaver.

Stan Barefield of Lisbon and Dan Crago of Oak Glen moved into the Top 10, while Jim Courtney of Lisbon and Rob Carter of Southern, both sophomores, dropped out. Barefield jumped all the way to sixth place.

In the team statistics, unbeaten East Liverpool saw its defensive average rise from 45.7 to 47.5, but still maintains a wide lead in that department. Crestview is next at 56.6 while East Palestine and United are at 57.0.

On offense, Beaver Local's average dropped from 75.7 to 73.3, but it still maintains a wide lead. East Palestine is next at 66.5 and Stanton is at 65.9.

Stanton Hosts Southern In One Of 5 Area Games

There are five games in the area tonight, with action in all three states.

Southern Local tries to snap its 13-game winless streak when it travels to Stanton. The Red Raiders, 3-9, won at Southern 71-56. Rob Carter is scoring 14.4 a game for Al Girone's Indians, while Dave Murray has four players in double figures at Stanton. Randy Frampton is at 16.7, Dave Olesky at 14.1, Cliff Slusher at 11.4 and Bill Koehnelin at 10.6.

Oak Glen, 5-6, entertains Weirton Madonna. The Golden Bears won at Weirton 60-55 earlier, but the Blue Dons were missing some front-line players. Jim Carnes is scoring 15.6 a game for Bob Starkey's team, Dan Crago 15.3 and John Roach 10.7.

Midland, 3-3 in Section 6 competition and 6-8 on the year, entertains powerful Monaca. The Indians are 6-0 in league play and 13-1 on the year. Their only loss was to highly-regarded Laurel Highlands, 65-56. Mickey Davis leads Otto Pritchard's quint. Dave Vanlier is scoring 19.7 a game for Ed Olkowski's team, with Howard Leak adding 11.4.

In Section 17 play South Side hosts West Allegheny and Western Beaver is at Centre. The Rams will try to rebound from their upset by Western Friday against a team that is winless in four section outings, but 5-7 on the year. South Side is tied for the league lead with Crafton, both at 3-1, and the Rams have a 7-5 season's record.

Ron Peden paces John Nace's group with a 21.0 average, Dan Hartz is at 12.4 and the injured Tom Doak is at 11.2.

Western, 2-2 in league play, will try to get back into the race against Center, also 2-2. The Golden Beavers are 4-11 on the season, the Trojans 9-6.

Houston Takes Top Spot In College Cage Poll

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Cougars, kings of the hill for the first time this season after their stunning 71-69 victory over UCLA, are not likely to be knocked off their lofty position—not for a while, anyway.

It would take a small miracle for it to happen this week because the Cougars, now 17-0, take on a small-college team, Lamar Tech, in their only start this week.

Lamar Tech is 4-11, a record not calculated to frighten the tenacious Cougars. The teams play Saturday on Houston's court.

The Cougars, who ended UCLA's unbeaten string at 47 games last Saturday night took over first-place from the Bruins in the weekly Associated Press poll. The margin was decisive in the voting by a national panel of 35 sports writer and broadcasters.

Houston collected 32 votes for the leading position and three for second place while UCLA had only three for the No. 1 spot and 32 for second. On points, the Cougars led 347 to 318.

The Bruins had topped the poll each week since the start of the 1967-68 campaign.

North Carolina held third place in the latest poll with 270 points followed by New Mexico, 204 and St. Bonaventure, 174. Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Rounding out the Top Ten in order were Tennessee, Vanderbilt, Columbia, Kentucky and Utah.

New Mexico, St. Bonaventure, Vanderbilt and Columbia registered the biggest gains, each advancing two places. New Mexico and St. Bonaventure are unbeaten in 16 and 13 games, respectively.

Tennessee slipped two rungs to sixth after splitting two games with Florida. Kentucky, beaten by Auburn, fell from eighth to ninth while Utah, which lost to New Mexico and Wyoming, dropped from fifth to 10th.

1. Houston (32)	347
2. UCLA (3)	318
3. North Carolina	270

5. St. Bonaventure	174
6. Tennessee	139

Ashland, the top small college defensive basketball team in the nation, yielding only 36.6 points a game, showed Steubenville how it's done Saturday night, edging the Barons 44-38 at Ashland.

Steubenville led 19-13 at halftime, but Ashland tied the score at 28 and pulled away from there. The Eagles are 13-1, Steubenville 10-4.

Ohio abounds in defensive-minded small college teams, with Akron sixth nationally, Hiram eighth, Mt. Union 11th, Wooster 13th, Heidelberg 17th and Denison 30th. Statistics are sometimes misleading, however, as Swarthmore (Pa.) is 23rd in defense, but has a 1-9 record.

On offense, Findlay ranks fifth and Kenyon 11th. The Oilers are scoring 106.0 a game and the Lords 101.4.

Akron is 14th in field goal percentage, while Kenyon is second in foul shooting, Wilmington sixth and Morris Harvey 16th.

John Rinka of Kenyon leads the small college scorers with a 34.5 average. Jeff Claypool of Grove City, a Lexington, Ohio, native, is 16th, Claggett of Denison is 18th and Jerry Carder of Findlay 47th. All of Grove City's starters, their coach and assistant are from Ohio.

The East provides 12 of the top small college rebounders, with the South claiming seven of the other eight.

JOSE PAGAN of the Pirates was named "Player of the Year" in Puerto Rican League. Pagan hit .342, but was edged out for the batting title by Tony Taylor of the Phillies. Roberto Clemente and Juan Pizarro also made the league's all-star team.

GEORGE SIMSTAD, successful basketball coach at Chaney High in Youngstown, had a few words of praise for Pennsylvania high school basketball the other day. Simstad liked the way the sport was organized there. This might be considered sour grapes, as Simstad's coaching pay was cut out by the failure of Youngstown voters to pass a levy. Rather than coach without pay, as the rest of the Youngstown coaches did, Simstad decided to sit out and leave Chaney with no basketball. There is no question, however, that having sports depend upon the whim of the voters is an archaic way of doing things. Even New York state, with a very poor high school athletic program, at least always has a program.

THE FIRING of Jimmy Dudley, long-time Cleveland Indian baseball announcer, brought numerous criticisms. We have to agree that Dudley was a good announcer and that such are hard to come by. Herb Score will move from TV to replace Dudley and Bob Feller, Al Rosen and Gene Woodling are mentioned as candidates to take Score's place.

CLASS A WAYNE of Jefferson County, the only unbeaten school in the OVAC, rolled to its 11th straight Saturday night, 102-91 over Jewett, as 6-8 Gary Davenport set a school record with 44 points.

CARL YASTRZEMSKI received another honor recently when he was named "Man of the Year" by Sports Magazine. The "Rookie of the Year" award went to another Boston player, Bobby Orr of the hockey Bruins.

Stanton Hosts Southern In One Of 5 Area Games

There are five games in the area tonight, with action in all three states.

Southern Local tries to snap its 13-game winless streak when it travels to Stanton. The Red Raiders, 3-9, won at Southern 71-56. Rob Carter is scoring 14.4 a game for Al Girone's Indians, while Dave Murray has four players in double figures at Stanton. Randy Frampton is at 16.7, Dave Olesky at 14.1, Cliff Slusher at 11.4 and Bill Koehnelin at 10.6.

Oak Glen, 5-6, entertains Weirton Madonna. The Golden Bears won at Weirton 60-55 earlier, but the Blue Dons were missing some front-line players. Jim Carnes is scoring 15.6 a game for Bob Starkey's team, Dan Crago 15.3 and John Roach 10.7.

Midland, 3-3 in Section 6 competition and 6-8 on the year, entertains powerful Monaca. The Indians are 6-0 in league play and 13-1 on the year. Their only loss was to highly-regarded Laurel Highlands, 65-56. Mickey Davis leads Otto Pritchard's quint. Dave Vanlier is scoring 19.7 a game for Ed Olkowski's team, with Howard Leak adding 11.4.

In Section 17 play South Side hosts West Allegheny and Western Beaver is at Centre. The Rams will try to rebound from their upset by Western Friday against a team that is winless in four section outings, but 5-7 on the year. South Side is tied for the league lead with Crafton, both at 3-1, and the Rams have a 7-5 season's record.

Ron Peden paces John Nace's group with a 21.0 average, Dan Hartz is at 12.4 and the injured Tom Doak is at 11.2.

Western, 2-2 in league play, will try to get back into the race against Center, also 2-2. The Golden Beavers are 4-11 on the season, the Trojans 9-6. John Dudo's double - figure scorers are John Petchel at 13.1, Sam Liberatore at 12.0, Chuck Kelker and Mike Lacey at 11.7 and Darryl (Bucky) Dye at 11.2. E. Palestine Ties Beavers In 30th

COLUMBUS (AP) — East Liverpool retained eighth place in the weekly Associated Press high school basketball rankings, as the only change in the Top 10 from last week was that Toledo Central and Cleveland East High switched places.

Beaver Local and East Palestine shared 30th place with seven votes each while Steubenville ranks 35th. Columbus East, which hasn't lost a regular season game in two years, continues to hold down the number one spot.

Coach Bob Hart's Tigers, rolling along at an 11-0 pace, piled up 202 points from the sports writers and broadcasters who vote in the poll.

That gave the leaders a commanding 64-point bulge over runnerup Middletown and almost 100 points over third-place Toledo Central.

Toledo Central, 12-0, swapped 11-0, in the only significant changes in the top ten. The rest of the field was intact with Newark, 11-1, in fifth place, followed by Columbus Linden, 10-2, Zanesville, 11-1, East Liverpool, 10-0, Euclid, 12-0; and Cuyahoga Falls, 11-1.

East whacked 1965 Class AA titlist Columbus South 75-60 last Saturday and takes on the challenge of City League hopeful Columbus West this Saturday.

Ross Southeastern, sporting a 13-1 record, continued atop the heap in the Class A ratings with 107 points. Northwestern (Wayne), with a 14-1 mark, held seond place again, this time polling 90 points.

Unbeaten Canal Winchester, 13-0, was in a tie for third with Western of Pike County, 14-0.

Rounding out the elite circle are Convoy Crestview, 15-0; Guernsey Catholic, 12-0; Arcanum, 11-2; Avon, 10-0; Streetsboro, 11-0; and St. Henry, 14-1.

Tennessee Whips Kentucky

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bobby Croft, one of Canada's biggest southern exports, has stirred up an international crisis —for Kentucky and Baron Adolph Rupp.

Croft, a 6-foot-10 Tennessee sophomore from Hamilton, Ont., fired in 20 points as the sixth-ranked Vols handed ninth-ranked Kentucky its worst basketball setback in 18 years Monday night, obliterating the Wildcats 87-59.

It was the biggest margin of defeat for a Kentucky team since 1950, when City College of New York humbled the Wildcats 89-50 in the National Invitation Tournament.

Tennessee's 32nd consecutive home court victory sent the Vols into a first-place tie with idle Louisiana State in the Southeastern Conference race. Tennessee is 11-2 on the season and 5-1 in the SEC.

Kentucky, 10-4 over-all, fell into a fourth place tie with Vanderbilt, at 4-3, as Rupp failed for the second time in a row to match the all-time victory mark of 771 held by Kansas' Phog Allen.

Another SEC giant, 6-10 soph Neal Walk of Florida, wrecked Georgia with 33 points and 25 rebounds in a 90-63 Gator romp at Gainesville, Fla. The victory gave Florida a 7-3 conference record and a 10-6 season mark. Mississippi State upended visiting Alabama 72-69 in another SEC struggle.

Eight of The Associated Press' Top Ten teams had the night off, but three Ohio powers boosted their national stock. Cincinnati, 12-3, trimmed Missouri Valley Conference rival Memphis State 75-68 in overtime on the losers' court. Toledo, 10-3, crushed Coast Guard 88-47 at home and Ohio State, 9-3, outscored Georgia Tech 66-55 at Columbus, Ohio.

Visiting North Carolina State whipped Jacksonville 69-52 while Chicago Loyola and Michigan breezed to home-court victories, the Ramblers routing Windsor, Ont., 105-52 and the Wolverines belting Ball State 99-75.

Other home floor winners were Weber, by an 88-73 margin over Colorado State University, and East Tennessee, by a 61-53 count over East Carolina.

John Howard's 33 points led Cincinnati past Memphis State, winless in six MVC starts, in a game marked by five technical fouls—two of them against the home club after fans tossed litter on the court in the last minute of overtime.

Steve Nix poured in 18 of his game-high 24 points in the first 12 minutes of play, triggering Toledo's runaway victory over outmanned Coast Guard.

Dave Sorenson sent Ohio State ahead to stay with a three-point play in the opening minutes and finished with 21 points. The Buckeyes shot 56 per cent from the floor in overpowering Georgia Tech.

Houston Takes Top Spot In College Cage Poll

McKinstry Regains Area Scoring Lead

Dan McKintry of East Palestine regained the lead among area scorers this week, displacing Ron Peden of South Side, who had a one-week stay at the top.

McKinstry upped his average from 22.3 to 22.4, while Peden fell from 22.5 to 21.0. He was held to nine points by Western Beaver.

Stan Barefield of Lisbon and Dan Crago of Oak Glen moved into the Top 10, while Jim Courtney of Lisbon and Rob Carter of Southern, both sophomores, dropped out. Barefield jumped all the way to sixth place.

In the team statistics, unbeaten East Liverpool saw its defensive average rise from 45.7 to 47.5, but still maintains a wide lead in that department. Crestview is next at 56.6 while East Palestine and United are at 57.0.

On offense, Beaver Local's average dropped from 75.7 to 73.3, but it still maintains a wide lead. East Palestine is next at 66.5 and Stanton is at 65.9.

Milwaukee, Phoenix NBA Expansion Sites

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association owners peered into their crystal ball, saw a league with 18 teams and decided to go where the action isn't.

For that reason, most likely more than any other, they saw Milwaukee, Wis., and Phoenix, Ariz., in their future. These cities, both without a major league professional team in any sport, were selected as the 13th and 14th teams in the NBA Monday. They will start play next season.

"I like cities that don't have so much going on," said Ben Kerner, owner of the St. Louis Hawks, who were the Milwaukee Hawks from 1951 to 1955.

In Milwaukee, "It's the only game in town" except for the Marquette college basketball and the few games the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League play there, said Marvin L. Fishman, one of the eight principal owners of the Milwaukee franchise.

"We decided it wasn't in our best interests to go into American Basketball Association cities," said Walter Kennedy, president of the NBA. "The market wouldn't be big enough with two pro basketball teams."

"Milwaukee just wasn't ready before," he said, and Fishman noted that the Hawks had very bad playing dates and a team that finished last all four seasons in Milwaukee.

The situation in Phoenix is almost the same. All it has is a team in the Western Hockey League.

"I think we are well on the way toward becoming a major big league sports center," Gov. Jack Williams said. Mayor Milton Graham echoed the enthusiasm, saying the area will benefit tremendously from the national publicity.

Phoenix, which will be in the Western Division of the NBA, will play in the 12,500-seat Phoenix Coliseum. Milwaukee, in the Eastern Division, will play in the 11,148-seat Milwaukee Arena.

Beban Honored By Maxwell Grid Club

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gary Beban, UCLA's All - America quarterback, picked up some more silverware Monday night and in the process dropped a subtle hint to the pros.

The 21-year-old passer wants to play professional football, but not with just any team in the National or American Football Leagues.

"I won't name the teams I'd rather not play for," said Beban in an interview before he was honored by the Maxwell Football Club as the outstanding college player of the year, "but they know who they are. I've answered their questionnaires."

Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's All-National Football League quarterback, was honored by the Maxwell Club as the top pro player of the year. He won the honor for the third time, the only player to gain more than once the trophy awarded in memory of the late NFL commissioner Bert Bell.

Beban, who led UCLA to a 24-5-2 record in his three years at quarterback, indicated he isn't playing hard to get. He's used to playing with a winner and doesn't want to struggle with an expansion team or one in the cellar of either league.

The combined NFL-AFL football draft is scheduled for New York on Jan. 30 and the chances are that one of the lower teams will grab Beban in the first round. He could be No. 1.

Beban wouldn't criticize the pro draft but said, "It really does place a lot of limitations on the player. But there are ways of informing a team if you don't want to play for them.

"If a team is willing to waste a draft choice, especially a high one, for a young man who doesn't want to play for them, it's a poor way to run a business."

Wooden Says UCLA Better For Its Loss

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If it's possible, UCLA's Bruins will be a better basketball team because of their 71-69 defeat to Houston Saturday night, Coach John Wooden says.

Speaking at a basketball writers luncheon Monday, Wooden had a lot to say about the defeat, which meant the end to a 47-game win streak, an unbeaten season and the No. 1 ranking in the nation.

"I think the loss will make us a better team in the long run," the 20-year Bruin coach said. "It was good for the players, good for the coaches and, I think, good for basketball."

Lew Alcindor was one of the key factors in the game. He suffered an abrasion on the left eye a week before Saturday's game and missed all regular practice session prior to the Houton game.

Wooden said he may have erred in playing the 7-foot-1½ center for the entire game. But he added, "If I had to do it over again, I'd probably make the same error."

Wooden said Alcindor would be seeing eye specialists at the Jules Stein Eye Institute on campus "for some time," but indicated that Lew would be ready for this weekend's games in New York with Holy Cross and Boston College. Holy Cross is coached by Jack Donohue, Lew's high school coach.

Officials Set Meeting At Wellsville

The Columbiana County Basketball Officials Association will meet Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Wellsville Fire Station.

This will be the annual business meeting as well as an interpretation meeting. President Frank Fusco will be in charge.

Phil Esposito Gains In NHL Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Esposito of the Boston Bruins collected four points last week and moved closer to former teammates Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull of Chicago, still running one-two at the top of the National Hockey League scoring race.

Esposito had one goal and three assists, lifting his total to 48 points. He is in third place.

Mikita leads with 53 points followed by Hull with 50. Mikita had one goal and one assist last week. Hull, the goal-scoring leader with 32, was blanked for the first time this season.

Fred Stanfield of the Bruins is fourth with 47 points, including a league-leading 32 assists. In a fifth-place tie with 44 points are Johnny Bucyk of Boston and Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio of Detroit.

Burce Gamble and Johnny Bower of Toronto have taken over the lead among the goalies with an against average of 2.18. Boston's Ted Green is the new pacesetter in penalty minutes with 105.

Penn State Hunting New Basketball Coach

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State was hunting for a new basketball coach today after confirming a report that John Egli would be eased into an administrative post.

Athletic Director Ernest B. McCoy announced Monday that Egli would give up his coaching duties at the end of the season to become supervisor of the sports programs at the university's 19 two-year commonwealth campuses.

Charleston Retains No. 1, Williamson Moves To 2nd

By The Associated Press

It's not much fun to run second but what with Charleston's tight grip on the top spot, it's about the only place to go in West Virginia high school basketball.

Charleston's unbeaten Mountain Lions squeezed first place in the weekly Associated Press poll even tighter today sweeping top rating on all 12 ballots cast by sportwriters and sportscasters and rolling up 120 points. The poll covered weekend games and did not include Charleston's 77-68 victory Monday night over Stonewall Jackson.

The battle for second place eased somewhat with Williamson's Wolfpack moving back into the runner up spot after a week's absence by attracting 72 points.

Third place went to Princeton, last week's occupant in the No. 2 position. Princeton took a solid drubbing from Oak Hill last week and fell to third place with 57 points.

Rounding out the top ten were Parkersburg with 53 points; Triadelphia with 49; Huntington with 41; Beckley with 38; Wheeling with 37; Ceredo-Kenova with 34, and Mullens with 32.

Aside from Williamson moving back from No. 2 these were the big changes in this week's rankings:

Triadelphia, sporting an 8-2 record, moved from the unranked into the No. 5 position; Wheeling Central dropped from the elite group after losing to cross-town rival Wheeling; and Ceredo-Kenova had its unbeaten record spoiled on a loss to Matewan, but the Wonders dropped only two places from seventh to ninth.

The Associated Press Top Ten teams, based on 10 points for a first place vote, nine for a second, etc., with first place ballots in parentheses:

1.	Charleston (12)	120
2.	Williamson	72
3.	Princeton	57
4.	Parkersburg	53
5.	Triadelphia	49
6.	Huntington	41
7.	Beckley	38
8.	Wheeling	37
9.	Ceredo-Kenova	34
10.	Mullens	32

Others receiving votes included Clarksburg Notre Dame, Wheeling Central, Fairmont East, Doddridge, Logan, Matewan, Sophia, Oak Hill, Bluefield, Charleston Stonewall Jackson, Fairmont West, Matoaka, and Welch.

East Heavy Favorite In NBA All-Star Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Expansion a lost scoring leader and a fallen star have taken some of the twinkle from the West team and made the East a strong favorite tonight in the National Basketball Association All-Star game at Madison Square Garden.

An expected sellout crowd of 18,500 along with a nation-wide television audience (ABC), will watch the 18th annual classic in which the stars of the Eastern Division hold an 11-6 edge over those of the Western Division. Game time is 8:30 p.m., EST.

The East is favored by 10 points to wipe out last year's 130-120 upset at San Francisco, partly because of what the East has, and partly because of what the West is missing.

In last year's game, Rick Barry scored 38 points and Dave DeBusschere 22 and Nate Thurmond hauled in 18 rebounds to lead the West. None of the three will play for the West tonight, and neither will Dave Bing, the league's leading scorer.

Barry, who jumped from the San Francisco Warriors to Oakland of the American Basketball Association, won't even be in the building, and Thurmond, his former teammate, will be back in San Francisco nursing an injured knee that has sidelined him for the season.

DeBusschere and Bing of Detroit will be playing for the East, the result of last year's expansion realignment that added San Diego and Seattle to the Western Division and moved Detroit to the East.

The East also has Wilt Chamberlain and Hal Greer of Philadelphia, Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Bill Russell, John Havlicek and Sam Jones of Boston, Willis Reed and Dick Barnett of New York and Gus Johnson of Baltimore. Bing and Barnett have never been in the game before.

Chamberlain, Reed, Lucas, Robertson and Bing will start.

Zelmo Beaty will take Thurmond's place in the West starting line-up along with St. Louis teammates Len Wilkens and Bill Bridges, and Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of Los Angeles.

On the bench will be Ruddy LaRusso of San Francisco and six players making their first All-Star appearance — Archie Clark of Los Angeles, Jim King and Clyde Lee of San Francisco, Don Kojis of San Diego, Bob Boozer of Chicago and Walt Hazzard of Seattle.

Alex Hannum of Philadelphia, who coached the West in two previous losses, will handle the East squad while Bill Sharman of San Francisco makes his All-Star coaching debut for the West.

Layern Tart Scoring High For New Club

By The Associated Press

It didn't take Levern Tart long to adjust to his new playmates.

Tart, the American Basketball Association's leading scorer, traded to New Jersey from Oakland last week, tossed in 28 points to spark the Americans to their eighth victory in nine starts, a 111-104 decision over Houston Monday night.

In the only other ABA game, Kentucky downed Indiana 100-91. There were no games scheduled in the National Basketball Association.

In his first game with New Jersey Sunday, Tart had only six points, but Monday night he showed why he's the league's top scorer, converting 12 of 13 free throws and eight field goals.

New Jersey's accurate foul shooting proved the difference as the Americans held on to stop a late Maverick rally.

The Americans saw their 92-75 third-period lead dwindle to 94-89 after six minutes of the last quarter, before recovering. Willie Somerset topped Houston with 34 points. Walt Simon had 20 for the winners.

Kentucky stopped Indiana for the first time in five games triggered by hot-shooting Darel Carrier's 33 points. The Colonels led by only 45-43 at halftime but moved farther ahead behind Carrier and Randy Mahaffey in the second half and were never headed. Mahaffey added 19 points while Oliver Darden topped Indiana with 19.

Pirates Sign Mazeroski, Two Others

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates have announced that veteran second baseman Bill Mazeroski and two younger players signed their 1968 contracts.

The youngsters are pitcher Jim Shellenback and infielder Dick Hebner.

The signings were the first announced by Pittsburgh.

Mazeroski, who batted .261 last season, will be starting his 13th year with the Pirates.

Shellenback, injured in an auto accident Oct. 1 and still not fully recovered, had a 7-10 record in 30 games with Columbus in the International League and was 1-1 in six games at Pittsburgh.

Hebner, the Pirates' No. 1 selection in the June 1966 free agent draft, batted. 336 last season in 78 games at Raleigh in the Carolina League.

4 Turbine Cars Entered At Indy Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — World road racing champion Dennis Hulme and Bruce McLaren were named today to drive two of four turbine cars entered in the 52nd Indianapolis 500-mile auto race May 30.

Shelby Racing Co., Torrance, Calif., entered the four-wheel-drive cars for the New Zealanders and a third without a driver. Hulme won fourth in the 500 last year. McLaren has never raced here.

The cars will be powered by modified general electric turbines with an inlet area of 15.92 quare inches, barely under the new 15.999 limit.

The same designer produced the 23.999-square-inch STP turbine last year in which Parnelli Jones almost won the 500. Owner Andy Granatelli, Chicago, has sued the U. S. Auto Club for the right to run again under the old rules with no limits on turbines.

Another racer with a 12.5-square-inch-inlet Allison turbine engine was entered today by Jack Adams Aircraft Sales Co., Walls, Miss. No driver was named.

AAU Stands Firm Against Star Boycott

NEW YORK (AP) — A statement by some of America's top track stars that if any of them were decluared ineligible for the Olympics all of them would stay out of the Games has drawn guarded comment from the Amateur Athletic Union.

A statement issued in Chicago Sunday, and subscribed to by such stars as Jim Ryun, Ralph Boston and Gerry Lindgren, said, "if any of our number is disqualified because of his or her competing in a meet of their choice, we will consider ourselves to be in the same status."

Monday, Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, said, "We regret that some of our fine Olympic athletes have taken this action."

The AAU has warned that any athletes competing in the U.S. Track and Field Federation meet in New York Feb. 9 would be ineligible for Olympic competition. The meet has no AAU sanction and the presence of some non-collegians requires one, the AAU has said.

Walt Hazzard Up To 2nd In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — The new National Basketball Association franchises in Phoenix and Milwaukee hope they can come up with expansion draft picks as good as Seattle did last year when they grabbed Walt Hazzard.

Hazzard, exposed by Los Angeles and snatched up by the Supersonics in the last NBA expansion draft, is the league's second leading scorer according to official statistics released today.

Detroit's Dave Bing continues to lead all scorers with 1,363 points and a 27.8 average. Hazzard is second with 1,198 and 23 points per game. Then comes Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain with 1,170 and 23.9 followed by Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati with 1,134 and 29.8.

Robertson, who leads in average points per game, also tops the free throw percentage category with 346 of 400 for .865. Chamberlain is tops in field goal percentage with 473 of 834 for 567 and in rebounds with 1,189 recoveries, an average of 24.3 per game. Len Wilkens of St. Louis leads in assists with 414.

Milwaukee, Phoenix NBA Expansion Sites

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association owners peered into their crystal ball, saw a league with 18 teams and decided to go where the action isn't.

For that reason, most likely more than any other, they saw Milwaukee, Wis., and Phoenix, Ariz., in their future. These cities, both without a major league professional team in any sport, were selected as the 13th and 14th teams in the NBA Monday. They will start play next season.

"I like cities that don't have so much going on," said Ben Kerner, owner of the St. Louis Hawks, who were the Milwaukee Hawks from 1951 to 1955.

In Milwaukee, "It's the only game in town" except for the Marquette college basketball and the few games the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League play there, said Marvin L. Fishman, one of the eight principal owners of the Milwaukee franchise.

"We decided it wasn't in our best interests to go into American Basketball Association cities," said Walter Kennedy, president of the NBA. "The market wouldn't be big enough with two pro basketball teams."

"Milwaukee just wasn't ready before," he said, and Fishman noted that the Hawks had very bad playing dates and a team that finished last all four seasons in Milwaukee.

The situation in Phoenix is almost the same. All it has is a team in the Western Hockey League.

"I think we are well on the way toward becoming a major big league sports center," Gov. Jack Williams said. Mayor Milton Graham echoed the enthusiasm, saying the area will benefit tremendously from the national publicity.

Phoenix, which will be in the Western Division of the NBA, will play in the 12,500-seat Phoenix Coliseum. Milwaukee, in the Eastern Division, will play in the 11,148-seat Milwaukee Arena.

Beban Honored By Maxwell Grid Club

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gary Beban, UCLA's All - America quarterback, picked up some more silverware Monday night and in the process dropped a subtle hint to the pros.

The 21-year-old passer wants to play professional football, but not with just any team in the National or American Football Leagues.

"I won't name the teams I'd rather not play for," said Beban in an interview before he was honored by the Maxwell Football Club as the outstanding college player of the year, "but they know who they are. I've answered their questionnaires."

Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's All-National Football League quarterback, was honored by the Maxwell Club as the top pro player of the year. He won the honor for the third time, the only player to gain more than once the trophy awarded in memory of the late NFL commissioner Bert Bell.

Beban, who led UCLA to a 24-5-2 record in his three years at quarterback, indicated he isn't playing hard to get. He's used to playing with a winner and doesn't want to struggle with an expansion team or one in the cellar of either league.

The combined NFL-AFL football draft is scheduled for New York on Jan. 30 and the chances are that one of the lower teams will grab Beban in the first round. He could be No. 1.

Beban wouldn't criticize the pro draft but said, "It really does place a lot of limitations on the player. But there are ways of informing a team if you don't want to play for them.

"If a team is willing to waste a draft choice, especially a high one, for a young man who doesn't want to play for them, it's a poor way to run a business."

Wooden Says UCLA Better For Its Loss

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If it's possible, UCLA's Bruins will be a better basketball team because of their 71-69 defeat to Houston Saturday night, Coach John Wooden says.

Speaking at a basketball writers luncheon Monday, Wooden had a lot to say about the defeat, which meant the end to a 47-game win streak, an unbeaten season and the No. 1 ranking in the nation.

"I think the loss will make us a better team in the long run," the 20-year Bruin coach said. "It was good for the players, good for the coaches and, I think, good for basketball."

Lew Alcindor was one of the key factors in the game. He suffered an abrasion on the left eye a week before Saturday's game and missed all regular practice session prior to the Houton game.

Wooden said he may have erred in playing the 7-foot-1½ center for the entire game. But he added, "If I had to do it over again, I'd probably make the same error."

Wooden said Alcindor would be seeing eye specialists at the Jules Stein Eye Institute on campus "for some time," but indicated that Lew would be ready for this weekend's games in New York with Holy Cross and Boston College. Holy Cross is coached by Jack Donohue, Lew's high school coach.

Officials Set Meeting At Wellsville

Phil Esposito Gains In NHL Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Esposito of the Boston Bruins collected four points last week and moved closer to former teammates Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull of Chicago, still running one-two at the top of the National Hockey League scoring race.

Esposito had one goal and three assists, lifting his total to 48 points. He is in third place.

Mikita leads with 53 points followed by Hull with 50. Mikita had one goal and one assist last week. Hull, the goal-scoring leader with 32, was blanked for the first time this season.

Fred Stanfield of the Bruins is fourth with 47 points, including a league-leading 32 assists. In a fifth-place tie with 44 points are Johnny Bucyk of Boston and Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio of Detroit.

Burce Gamble and Johnny Bower of Toronto have taken over the lead among the goalies with an against average of 2.18. Boston's Ted Green is the new pacesetter in penalty minutes with 105.

Penn State Hunting New Basketball Coach

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State was hunting for a new basketball coach today after confirming a report that John Egli would be eased into an administrative post.

Athletic Director Ernest B. McCoy announced Monday that Egli would give up his coaching duties at the end of the season to become supervisor of the sports programs at the university's 19 two-year commonwealth campuses.

Charleston Retains No. 1, Williamson Moves To 2nd

By The Associated Press

It's not much fun to run second but what with Charleston's tight grip on the top spot, it's about the only place to go in West Virginia high school basketball.

Charleston's unbeaten Mountain Lions squeezed first place in the weekly Associated Press poll even tighter today sweeping top rating on all 12 ballots cast by sportwriters and sportscasters and rolling up 120 points. The poll covered weekend games and did not include Charleston's 77-68 victory Monday night over Stonewall Jackson.

The battle for second place eased somewhat with Williamson's Wolfpack moving back into the runner up spot after a week's absence by attracting 72 points.

Third place went to Princeton, last week's occupant in the No. 2 position. Princeton took a solid drubbing from Oak Hill last week and fell to third place with 57 points.

Rounding out the top ten were Parkersburg with 53 points; Triadelphia with 49; Huntington with 41; Beckley with 38; Wheeling with 37; Ceredo-Kenova with 34, and Mullens with 32.

Aside from Williamson moving back from No. 2 these were the big changes in this week's rankings:

Triadelphia, sporting an 8-2 record, moved from the unranked into the No. 5 position; Wheeling Central dropped from the elite group after losing to cross-town rival Wheeling; and Ceredo-Kenova had its unbeaten record spoiled on a loss to Matewan, but the Wonders dropped only two places from seventh to ninth.

The Associated Press Top Ten teams, based on 10 points for a first place vote, nine for a second, etc., with first place ballots in parentheses:

1.	Charleston (12)	120
2.	Williamson	72
3.	Princeton	57
4.	Parkersburg	53
5.	Triadelphia	49
6.	Huntington	41
7.	Beckley	38
8.	Wheeling	37
9.	Ceredo-Kenova	34
10.	Mullens	32

Others receiving votes included Clarksburg Notre Dame, Wheeling Central, Fairmont East, Doddridge, Logan, Matewan, Sophia, Oak Hill, Bluefield, Charleston Stonewall Jackson, Fairmont West, Matoaka, and Welch.

East Heavy Favorite In NBA All-Star Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Expansion a lost scoring leader and a fallen star have taken some of the twinkle from the West team and made the East a strong favorite tonight in the National Basketball Association All-Star game at Madison Square Garden.

An expected sellout crowd of 18,500 along with a nation-wide television audience (ABC), will watch the 18th annual classic in which the stars of the Eastern Division hold an 11-6 edge over those of the Western Division. Game time is 8:30 p.m., EST.

The East is favored by 10 points to wipe out last year's 130-120 upset at San Francisco, partly because of what the East has, and partly because of what the West is missing.

In last year's game, Rick Barry scored 38 points and Dave DeBusschere 22 and Nate Thurmond hauled in 18 rebounds to lead the West. None of the three will play for the West tonight, and neither will Dave Bing, the league's leading scorer.

Barry, who jumped from the San Francisco Warriors to Oakland of the American Basketball Association, won't even be in the building, and Thurmond, his former teammate, will be back in San Francisco nursing an injured knee that has sidelined him for the season.

DeBusschere and Bing of Detroit will be playing for the East, the result of last year's expansion realignment that added San Diego and Seattle to the Western Division and moved Detroit to the East.

The East also has Wilt Chamberlain and Hal Greer of Philadelphia, Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Bill Russell, John Havlicek and Sam Jones of Boston, Willis Reed and Dick Barnett of New York and Gus Johnson of Baltimore. Bing and Barnett have never been in the game before.

Chamberlain, Reed, Lucas, Robertson and Bing will start.

Zelmo Beaty will take Thurmond's place in the West starting line-up along with St. Louis teammates Len Wilkens and Bill Bridges, and Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of Los Angeles.

On the bench will be Ruddy LaRusso of San Francisco and six players making their first All-Star appearance — Archie Clark of Los Angeles, Jim King and Clyde Lee of San Francisco, Don Kojis of San Diego, Bob Boozer of Chicago and Walt Hazzard of Seattle.

Alex Hannum of Philadelphia, who coached the West in two previous losses, will handle the East squad while Bill Sharman of San Francisco makes his All-Star coaching debut for the West.

Layern Tart Scoring High For New Club

By The Associated Press

It didn't take Levern Tart long to adjust to his new playmates.

Tart, the American Basketball Association's leading scorer, traded to New Jersey from Oakland last week, tossed in 28 points to spark the Americans to their eighth victory in nine starts, a 111-104 decision over Houston Monday night.

In the only other ABA game, Kentucky downed Indiana 100-91. There were no games scheduled in the National Basketball Association.

In his first game with New Jersey Sunday, Tart had only six points, but Monday night he showed why he's the league's top scorer, converting 12 of 13 free throws and eight field goals.

New Jersey's accurate foul shooting proved the difference as the Americans held on to stop a late Maverick rally.

The Americans saw their 92-75 third-period lead dwindle to 94-89 after six minutes of the last quarter, before recovering. Willie Somerset topped Houston with 34 points. Walt Simon had 20 for the winners.

Kentucky stopped Indiana for the first time in five games triggered by hot-shooting Darel Carrier's 33 points. The Colonels led by only 45-43 at halftime but moved farther ahead behind Carrier and Randy Mahaffey in the second half and were never headed. Mahaffey added 19 points while Oliver Darden topped Indiana with 19.

Pirates Sign Mazeroski, Two Others

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates have announced that veteran second baseman Bill Mazeroski and two younger players signed their 1968 contracts.

The youngsters are pitcher Jim Shellenback and infielder Dick Hebner.

The signings were the first announced by Pittsburgh.

Mazeroski, who batted .261 last season, will be starting his 13th year with the Pirates.

Shellenback, injured in an auto accident Oct. 1 and still not fully recovered, had a 7-10 record in 30 games with Columbus in the International League and was 1-1 in six games at Pittsburgh.

Hebner, the Pirates' No. 1 selection in the June 1966 free agent draft, batted. 336 last season in 78 games at Raleigh in the Carolina League.

4 Turbine Cars Entered At Indy Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — World road racing champion Dennis Hulme and Bruce McLaren were named today to drive two of four turbine cars entered in the 52nd Indianapolis 500-mile auto race May 30.

Shelby Racing Co., Torrance, Calif., entered the four-wheel-drive cars for the New Zealanders and a third without a driver. Hulme won fourth in the 500 last year. McLaren has never raced here.

The cars will be powered by modified general electric turbines with an inlet area of 15.92 quare inches, barely under the new 15.999 limit.

The same designer produced the 23.999-square-inch STP turbine last year in which Parnelli Jones almost won the 500. Owner Andy Granatelli, Chicago, has sued the U. S. Auto Club for the right to run again under the old rules with no limits on turbines.

Another racer with a 12.5-square-inch-inlet Allison turbine engine was entered today by Jack Adams Aircraft Sales Co., Walls, Miss. No driver was named.

AAU Stands Firm Against Star Boycott

NEW YORK (AP) — A statement by some of America's top track stars that if any of them were decluared ineligible for the Olympics all of them would stay out of the Games has drawn guarded comment from the Amateur Athletic Union.

A statement issued in Chicago Sunday, and subscribed to by such stars as Jim Ryun, Ralph Boston and Gerry Lindgren, said, "if any of our number is disqualified because of his or her competing in a meet of their choice, we will consider ourselves to be in the same status."

Monday, Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, said, "We regret that some of our fine Olympic athletes have taken this action."

The AAU has warned that any athletes competing in the U.S. Track and Field Federation meet in New York Feb. 9 would be ineligible for Olympic competition. The meet has no AAU sanction and the presence of some non-collegians requires one, the AAU has said.

Walt Hazzard Up To 2nd In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — The new National Basketball Association franchises in Phoenix and Milwaukee hope they can come up with expansion draft picks as good as Seattle did last year when they grabbed Walt Hazzard.

Hazzard, exposed by Los Angeles and snatched up by the Supersonics in the last NBA expansion draft, is the league's second leading scorer according to official statistics released today.

Detroit's Dave Bing continues to lead all scorers with 1,363 points and a 27.8 average. Hazzard is second with 1,198 and 23 points per game. Then comes Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain with 1,170 and 23.9 followed by Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati with 1,134 and 29.8.

Robertson, who leads in average points per game, also tops the free throw percentage category with 346 of 400 for .865. Chamberlain is tops in field goal percentage with 473 of 834 for .567 and in rebounds with 1,189 recoveries, an average of 24.3 per game. Len Wilkens of St. Louis leads in assists with 414.

LEGAL NOTICE

Virgil Hall, if living, whose place of residence is unknown and cannot be ascertained, and the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, administrators, executors and assigns of George Alfred Harrison, deceased, Henrietta E. Harrison, deceased, John Horwell, deceased, Mary Horwell, deceased, Emma Horwell Moon, deceased, Harry Horwell, deceased, James R. Horwell, deceased, Willis Harrison, deceased, Herbert Harrison, deceased, Henrietta Harrison Hillyard, deceased, Lillian Harrison Ranzi, deceased, Emma Harrison Hall, deceased, and Virgil Hall, if deceased, will take notice that on the 16th day of October, 1967, Mildred Koontz, Administratrix of the estate of Henrietta E. Harrison, deceased, plaintiff therein, filed her petition against them in the Probate Court of Columbiana County, Ohio, the same being Case No. 62344 B, Docket 73, Page 141, entitled Mildred Koontz, Administratrix of the estate of Henrietta E. Harrison, deceased, vs. Ruth Moon McDowell, et al, in said Court asking the direction of the Court respecting the property to be administered and distributed in the estate, the determination of the heirs in said estate, and determination of the rights of the parties in interest.
The prayer of said petition is that the Court determine who are the heirs of said Henrietta E. Harrison, deceased, entitled by law to inherit her estate and to participate in the proceeds of the assets in said estate, and for such other and further relief and orders as may be determined by the Court. Said defendants are required to answer said petition on or before the 24th day of February, 1968, or judgment will be taken against them.
MILDRED KOONTZ, Administratrix of the estate of Henrietta E. Harrison, deceased.
BY: Francis H. Lang, her attorney

Junior Editors Quiz on EARLY TOOLS

QUESTION: How did early men make their tools?

ANSWER: Actual fishhooks have been found like that at the upper left, carved out of bone by some primitive man using an edged stone tool. What a marvelous invention that was! The first tool or weapon was probably a round stone (1), but the stone age man found he could chip off a few flakes and so get a sharp edge (2). This led to the making of many other tools. Attach a handle to a sharp edged stone and you have an axe (3). When fire was discovered (4), a man could burn out a hollow log, shape it with his axe and have a boat. Chipping a flint with sharp edges on both sides, he had a spear (6) with which a large animal could be killed. By whittling down a bone needle a primitive man could sew skin clothing (5). Hides could be cleaned and cured using very sharp scrapers made from flint (7). Later came another marvelous invention, the bow and arrow, which meant a hunter could kill a big animal while keeping at a safe distance. When men learned to grow crops, the invention of such tools as plows and harrows led to civilization.

ANSWER: Actual fishhooks have been found like that at the upper left, carved out of bone by some primitive man using an edged stone tool. What a marvelous invention that was! The first tool or weapon was probably a round stone (1), but the stone age man found he could chip off a few flakes and so get a sharp edge (2). This led to the making of many other tools. Attach a handle to a sharp edged stone and you have an axe (3). When fire was discovered (4), a man could burn out a hollow log, shape it with his axe and have a boat. Chipping a flint with sharp edges on both sides, he had a spear (6) with which a large animal could be killed. By whittling down a bone needle a primitive man could sew skin clothing (5). Hides could be cleaned and cured using very sharp scrapers made from flint (7). Later came another marvelous invention, the bow and arrow, which meant a hunter could kill a big animal while keeping at a safe distance. When men learned to grow crops, the invention of such tools as plows and harrows led to civilization.
